16 Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and let thy foreskin be uncovered: the cup of the LORD's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be on thy glory.

17 For the violence of Lebanon shall cover thee, and the spoil of beasts, which made them afraid, because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and a teacher of lies that the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make dumb idols?

19 Wo unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it.

20 But the LORD is in his holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before him.

CHAPTER III.

1 Habakkuk's prayer: 3 He trembleth at God's majesty: 7 The stability of his faith.

A PRAYER of Habakkuk the prophet upon Shigionoth.

2 O LORD, I have heard thy speech, and was afraid: O LORD, revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known; in wrath remember mercy.

3 God came from Teman, and the Holy One from mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.

4 And his brightness was as the light; he had horns coming out of his hand: and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coals went forth at his feet.

6 He stood, and measured the earth: he beheld, and drove asunder the nations; and the everlasting mountains were scattered, the perpetual hills did bow: his ways are everlasting.

7 I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the LORD displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride upon thy horses, and thy chariots of salvation?

9 Thy bow was made quite naked, according to the oaths of the tribes, even thy word. Selah. Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 The mountains saw thee, and they trembled: the overflowing of the water passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and lifted up his hands on high.

11 The sun and moon stood still in their habitation: at the light of thine arrows they went, and at the shining of thy glittering spear.

12 Thou didst march through the land in indignation, thou didst thresh the heathen in anger.

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation with thine anointed; thou woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked, by discovering the foundation unto the neck. Selah.

14 Thou didst strike through with his staves the head of his villages; they came out as a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.

15 Thou didst walk through the sea with thy horses, through the heap of great waters.

† ZEPHANIAH

CHAPTER I.

1 When Zephaniah prophesied... 2 God's severe judgment against Judah for divers sins.

THE ^a word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hizkiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah.

2 I will utterly ^b consume all things from off the land, saith the LORD.

3 I will consume ^c man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea; and the ^d stumbling-blocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the LORD.

4 I will also stretch out my hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of ^e Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarims with the priests;

5 And them that worship the host of heaven upon the house-tops; and them that worship and that ^f swear by the LORD, and that swear by Malcham;

6 And them that are ^g turned back from the LORD: and those that have ^h not sought the LORD, nor inquired for him.

7 ⁱ Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord God; for the day of the LORD is at hand: for the LORD hath prepared ^k a sacrifice, he hath bid his guests.

8 And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD's sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, and the ^l king's children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparel.

9 In the same day also will I punish all those that leap on the threshold, which ^m fill their masters' houses with violence and deceit.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that there shall be the ⁿ noise of a cry from the fish-gate, and a howling from the second, and a great crashing from the hills.

11 ^o Howl, ye inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the merchant people are cut down; all they that bear silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will ^p search Jerusalem with candles, and punish the men that are ^q settled on their lees; that say in their heart, The LORD will not ^r do good, neither will he do evil.

13 Therefore their goods ^s shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof.

14 The ^t great day of the LORD is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15 ^u That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness,

16 A day of the ^v trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like ^w blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD: and their blood shall be ^x poured out as dust, and their flesh as the dung.

18 Neither their silver nor their gold shall ^y be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD's wrath; but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make even a ^z speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

CHAPTER II.

4 The judgment of the Philistines, 8 of Moab and Ammon, 12 of Ethiopia, 13 and Assyria.

GATHER yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation ^a not desired;

2 Before the ^b decree bring forth, before the day pass as the chaff, before the ^c fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORD's anger come upon you.

3 Seek ye the LORD, all ye ^d meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it ^e may be ye shall be ^f hid in the day of the LORD's anger.

4 For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the ^g noon-day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

5 Wo unto the inhabitants of the sea-coasts, the nation of the ^h Cherethites! the word of the LORD is against you; ⁱ O Canaan, the land of the ^j Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea-coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for the ^k remnant of the house of Judah; they shall feed thereupon: in the houses of ^l Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; for the LORD their God shall visit them, and ^m turn away their captivity.

8 ⁿ I have heard the ^o reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border.

9 Therefore, as I live, saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely ^p Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, even the breeding of nettles, and salt-pits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall ^q spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.

10 This shall they have for their ^r pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts.

11 The LORD will be terrible unto them: for he will ^s famish all the gods of the earth; and men shall worship him, every one from his ^t place, even all the isles of the heathen.

14 And flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, all the beasts of the nations: both the cormorant and the bittern shall lodge in the upper lintels of it; their voice shall sing in the windows; desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he shall uncover the cedar-work.

15 This is the rejoicing city that dwelt carelessly: that said in her heart, I am, and there is none besides me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.

CHAPTER III.

1 A sharp reproof of Jerusalem for divers sins.... 8 An exhortation to wait for the restoration of Israel.

WO to her that is filthy and polluted, to the oppressing city!

2 She obeyed not the voice; she received not correction: she trusted not in the LORD; she drew not near to her God.

3 Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her prophets are light and treacherous persons: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law.

5 The just LORD is in the midst thereof; he will not do iniquity: every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their towers are desolate; I made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.

7 I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive instruction: so their dwelling should not be cut off, howsoever I punished them: but they rose early, and corrupted all their doings.

8 Therefore wait ye upon me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey; for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.

9 For then will I turn to the people a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one consent.

10 From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.

11 In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee them that rejoice in thy pride; and thou shalt no more be haughty because of my holy mountain.

12 I will also leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the LORD.

13 The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

14 Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.

15 The LORD hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemy: the King of Israel, even the LORD, is in the midst of thee: thou shalt not see evil any more.

16 In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not; and to Zion, Let not thy hands be slack.

17 The LORD thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love; he will joy over thee with singing.

18 I will gather them that are sorrowful for the solemn assembly who are of thee, to whom the reproach of it was a burden.

19 Behold, at that time I will undo all that afflict thee; and I will save her that halteth, and gather her that was driven out; and I will get them praise and fame in every land where they have been put to shame.

20 At that time will I bring you again, even in the time that I gather you: for I will make you a name and a praise among all people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes, saith the LORD.

¶ HAGGAI.

CHAPTER I.

2 Haggai, reproving the people's negligence, 7 inciteth them to build the house.

IN the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD, by Haggai the prophet, unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the LORD's house should be built.

3 Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now, therefore, thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider your ways.

6 Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider your ways.

8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD.

9 Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of my house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house.

10 Therefore the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 ¶ Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai, the prophet, (as the LORD their God had sent him,) and the people did fear before the LORD.

13 Then spake Haggai, the LORD's messenger, in the LORD's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the LORD.

14 And the LORD ^t stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came, and ^u did work in the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, 15 In the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

CHAPTER II.

1 Haggai encourageth the people to the work : 10 He sheweth that their sins hindered the work, &c.

IN the ^a seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by the prophet Haggai, saying,

2 ^b Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

3 Who is ^c left among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye ^d see it now? is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as ^e nothing?

4 Yet now ^f be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD; and be strong, O Joshua son of Josedech, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and ^g work: for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts:

5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so ^h my Spirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.

6 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, Yet once, it ⁱ is ^j a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;

7 And I will shake all nations, and ^k the Desire of all nations shall come: and I will ^l fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts.

8 The ^m silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 The glory of this latter house shall ⁿ be greater than of the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give ^o peace, saith the LORD of hosts.

10 ¶ In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying,

11 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^p Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,

12 If one bear ^q a holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do ^r touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said, ^s No.

13 Then said Haggai, If ^t one that is unclean by ^u a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

14 Then answered Haggai, and said, ^v So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every ^w work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, consider ^x from this day and upward, from before ^y a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD;

16 Since those days were, when ^z one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were ^a but ten: when one came to the press-fat, for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were ^b but twenty.

17 I smote you with ^c a blasting, and with mildew, and with hail, in all the labours of your hands; ^d yet ye ^e turned not to me, saith the LORD.

18 Consider now from ^f this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, ^g even from the day that the ^h foundation of the LORD's temple was laid, consider ⁱ it.

19 Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will ^j I ^k bless you.

20 ¶ And ^l again the word of the LORD came unto Haggai, in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

21 Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will ^m shake the heavens and the earth;

22 And I will overthrow the ⁿ throne of kingdoms; and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, ^o every one by the sword of his brother.

23 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the LORD, and will make thee as a signet: for I have ^p chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

† ZECHARIAH.

CHAPTER I.

1 Zechariah exhorteth to repentance....7 The vision of the horses.
12 Jerusalem is comforted, &c.

IN the ^a eighth month, in the second year of Darius, I came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the son of ^b Barachiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,

2 The LORD hath been ^c sore displeased with you fathers.

3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Turn ye unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and ^d I will turn unto you, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Be ye not ^e as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets have cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD.

5 Your fathers, ^f where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not ^g take hold of your fathers? and they returned, and said, Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, ^h so hath he dealt with us.

7 ¹ Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Sebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the son of Barachiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,

9 Then said I, O my lord, ^m what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle-trees answered and said, These are they whom the LORD hath ⁿ sent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle-trees, and said, We have ⁿ walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth ^p sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 Then the ^q angel of the LORD answered and said, O LORD of hosts, ^r how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these ^s threescore and ten years?

13 And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me ^t with ^u good words, and comfortable words.

14 So the angel that communed with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I am ^v jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy.

15 And I am ^w very sore displeased with the heathen that are at ease: for I was but a little displeased, and they ^x helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD, ^y I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies: ^z my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and a line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem.

17 Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, My cities through prosperity shall yet be ^{aa} spread abroad; and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 ¹ Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, ^{ab} four horns.

19 And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have ^{ac} scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

20 And the LORD shewed me four ^{ad} carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, so that ^{ae} no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, which lifted up ^{af} their ^{ag} horn over the land of Judah to scatter it.

CHAPTER II.

An angel sent to measure Jerusalem, and its flourishing state under God's protection foretold.

I LIFTED up mine eyes again, and looked, and, behold, a man with a ^{ah} measuring-line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the ^{ai} breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And, behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and ^{aj} another angel went out to meet him,

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited ^{ak} as ^{al} towns without walls for the multitude of men and cattle therein:

5 For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her ^{am} a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 ¹ Ho, ho, come forth, and ^{an} flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have ^{ao} spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD.

7 ¹ Deliver thyself, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon.

8 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, After the ^{ap} glory hath he sent me unto the ^{aq} nations which spoiled you; for he that ^{ar} toucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For, behold, I will ^{as} shake my hand upon them, and they shall be ^{at} a spoil to their servants: and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me.

10 ^{au} Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for, lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD.

11 And ^{av} many nations shall be joined to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee; and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And the LORD shall ^{aw} inherit Judah his portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again.

13 ^{ax} Be silent, O all flesh, before the LORD: for he is ^{ay} raised up out of his holy habitation.

CHAPTER III.

¹ Under the type of Joshua, the restoration of the church promised....8 Christ foretold.

AND he shewed me Joshua the high priest stand ^{az} ing before the ^{ba} angel of the LORD, and ^{bb} Satan standing at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the LORD said unto Satan, The LORD ^{bc} rebuke thee, O Satan; even the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is not this ^{bd} a brand plucked out of the fire?

3 Now Joshua was clothed with ^{be} filthy garments, and stood before the angel.

4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have ^{bf} caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with ^{bg} change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them set ^{bh} a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the LORD stood by.

6 And the angel of the LORD protested unto Joshua, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, If thou wilt ^{bi} walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou shalt also judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts; and I will give thee places to walk among these that stand by.

8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are men ^{bj} wondered at; for, behold, I will bring forth my servant, The ^{bk} BRANCH.

9 For, behold, the ^{bl} stone that I have laid before Joshua; upon one stone shall be ^{bm} seven eyes: behold, I will ^{bn} engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will ^{bo} remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour ^{bp} under the vine and under the ^{bq} fig-tree.

CHAPTER IV.

By the golden candlestick is foreshewed the good success of Zerubbabel's foundation.

AND the angel that talked with me came again and ^awaked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep;

2 And said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have looked, and behold a ^bcandlestick all of gold, with ^ca bowl upon the top of it, and his seven ^dlamps thereon, and seven ^epipes to the seven lamps which are upon the ^ftop thereof;

3 And ^gtwo olive-trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, ^hWhat are these, my lord?

5 Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, ⁱNo, my lord.

6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying, ^kNot by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Who art thou, ^lO great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the head-stone thereof ^mwith shoutings, crying, Grace, grace, unto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house, his hands shall also ⁿfinish it; and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.

10 For who hath despised the ^oday of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven; they are the ^peyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 ^qI Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two ^rolive-trees upon the right side of the candlestick, and upon the left side thereof?

12 And I answered again, and said unto him, What be these two olive-branches, which, through the two golden ^spipes, empty the golden oil out of themselves?

13 And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord.

14 Then said he, These are the two ^tanointed ones, that stand by the LORD of the ^uwhole earth.

CHAPTER V.

1 By the flying roll, is shewed the curse of thieves and of false swearers....5 Babylon's ruin.

THEN I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold ^aa flying roll.

2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the ^blength thereof is twenty cubits, and the ^cbreadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then said he unto me, This is the ^dcurse that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for every one that stealeth shall be cut off as on this side, according to it; and every one that sweareth shall be cut off as on that side, according to it.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall ^eenter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and the stones thereof.

5 ^fI Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, ^gLift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is ^han ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their resemblance through all the earth.

7 And, behold, there was lifted up a ⁱtalent of lead: and this is ^ja woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is ^kwickedness. And he cast it into the midst of the ephah; and he cast the weight of lead upon ^lthe mouth thereof.

9 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came out ^mtwo women, and the wind was in their wings; (for they had ⁿwings like the wings of a stork;) and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah?

11 And he said unto me, To build it a house in the land of ^oShinar; and it shall be established, and set ^pthere upon her own base.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The vision of the four chariots....9 The temple and kingdom of Christ the Branch shewed.

AND I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came four ^achariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of ^bbrass.

2 In the first chariot were ^cred horses, and in the second chariot ^dblack horses,

3 And in the third chariot ^ewhite horses, and in the fourth chariot grised and bay horses.

4 Then I answered and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord?

5 And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four ^fspirits of the heavens, which go forth from ^gstanding before the LORD of all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein go forth into the ^hnorth country; and the ⁱwhite go forth after them; and the grised go forth toward the ^jsouth country.

7 And the ^kbay went forth, and ^lsought to go, that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and ^mhe said, Get ye hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, these that go toward the north country, have ⁿquieted my spirit in the north country.

9 ^oI And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

10 ^pTake of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, which are come from Babylon, and come thou ^qthe same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah;

11 Then take silver and gold, and make ^rcrowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest;

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold the ^sman, whose name is The ^tBRANCH; and he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall ^ubuild the temple of the LORD:

13 Even he shall build the temple of the LORD; and he shall bear the ^vglory, and shall ^wsit and rule upon his throne; and he shall be a priest upon his throne: and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

CHAPTER VII.

1 The captives inquire of fasting; 4 Zechariah reproveth them....8 Sin the cause of their captivity.

AND it came to pass, in the ^a fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in ^b Chisleu;

2 When they had ^e sent unto the house of God, Sherezzer and Regem-melech, and their men, to pray before the LORD,

3 And to speak unto the ^d priests which were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I ^e weep in the ^f fifth month, ^g separating myself, as I have done these so many years?

4 ^h Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye ^b fasted and mourned in the fifth and ⁱ seventh month, even those seventy years, did ye at all ^k fast unto me, even to me?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, did not ye eat ^l for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?

7 Should ye not ^m hear the words which the LORD hath cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited the south and the plain?

8 ⁿ And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Execute ^o true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother:

10 And ^p oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and ^q pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an ^a adamant-stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts hath sent in his Spirit by the former prophets: therefore came ^r a great wrath from the LORD of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to pass, that, as he cried, and they would not hear; ^s so they cried, and I would not hear, saith the LORD of hosts:

14 But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not: thus the land was ^t desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned; for they laid the pleasant land desolate.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Jerusalem's restoration....9 They are encouraged to the building by God's favour to them.

AGAIN the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I was ^a jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with ^b great fury.

3 Thus saith the LORD, I am returned unto Zion, and will ^c dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called, ^d A city of truth; and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, The holy mountain.

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, There shall yet ^e old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staff in his hand for very age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, If it be marvellous ^f in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will ^g save my people from the east country, and from the west country;

8 And I will bring them, and they shall ^h dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.

9 ⁱ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^j Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in ^k these days these words by the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built.

10 For before these days there was ^l no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any ^m peace to him that went out or came in, because of the affliction: for I set ⁿ all men every one against his neighbour.

11 But now I will not be unto the residue of this people ^o as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 For the seed shall be prosperous; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her ^p increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all ^q these things.

13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were ^r a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be ^s a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, As I thought to punish you, when ^t your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I ^u repented not;

15 So again have I thought in these days to do well unto Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall ^v do, Speak ye every man the ^w truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment ^x of truth and peace in your gates:

17 And let none of you ^y imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

18 ^z And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, The fast of the ^b fourth month, and the fast of the ^c fifth, and the fast of the ^d seventh, and the fast of the ^e tenth, shall be to the house of Judah ^f joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts: therefore love the truth and peace.

20 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, It shall yet come to pass, that there shall ^g come people and the inhabitants of many cities:

21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, ^h Let us go speedily to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts; I will go also.

CHAPTER IX.

1 God defendeth his church....9 Zion is exhorted to rejoice for the coming of Christ.

THE ^a burden of the word of the LORD in the land of Hadrach, and Damascus shall be the rest thereof: when the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel, shall be ^b toward the LORD.

2 And Hamath also shall border thereby; Tyrus, and Zidon, though it be ^c very wise.

3 And Tyrus did build herself a ^d strong hold, and heaped up silver ^e as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, the LORD will ^f cast her out, and he will smite her power in the sea; and she shall be devoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also shall see it, and be ^g very sorrowful, and Ekron; for her expectation shall be ashamed; and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And ^h a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod; and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will ⁱ take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he that remaineth, even he, shall be ^k for our God; and he shall be as a governor in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite.

8 And I will ¹ encamp about my house because of the army, because of him that passeth by, and because of him that returneth; and no ^m oppressor shall pass through them any more: for now have I seen with mine eyes.

9 [†] Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, ⁿ thy King cometh ^o unto thee; he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

10 And I will cut off the ^p chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle-bow shall be cut off: and he shall speak ^q peace unto the heathen; and his dominion shall be from sea even to sea, and from the river even to the ends of the earth.

11 As for thee also, by the ^r blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 [†] Turn ye to the ^s strong hold, ye prisoners of hope: even to-day do I declare, that I will render double unto thee;

13 When I have bent Judah for me, filled ^t the bow with Ephraim, and raised up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and ^u made thee as the sword of a mighty man.

14 And the LORD shall be ^x seen over them, and his ^y arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with whirlwinds of the south.

15 The LORD of hosts shall defend them; and they shall ^z devour, and subdue with sling-stones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine; and they shall be filled like bowls, and as the ^a corners of the altar.

16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the ^b flock of his people: for they shall be as the stones of a crown, lifted up as an ensign upon his land.

17 For ^c how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! Corn shall make the young men ^d cheerful, and new wine the maids.

CHAPTER X.

1 God is to be sought unto, and not idols....5 As he visited his flock for sin, so he will save and restore them.

ASK ye of the LORD rain in the time of the ^a latter rain; so the LORD shall make bright clouds, and give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

2 For the idols have spoken ^b vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they comfort in vain: therefore they went their way as a flock, they were troubled, because there was no ^c shepherd.

3 Mine anger was kindled against the ^d shepherds, and I punished the ^e goats: for the LORD of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and hath made them as his goodly horse in the battle.

4 Out of him came forth the ^f corner, out of him the ^g nail, out of him the battle-bow, out of him every oppressor together.

5 And they shall be as ^h mighty men, which tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle: and they shall fight, because the LORD is ⁱ with them, and the riders on horses shall be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will ^k bring them again to place them: for I ^l have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD thy God, and will hear them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be like a ^m mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as ⁿ through wine: yea, their children shall see it and be glad; their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.

8 I will ^o hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: and they shall ^p increase as they have increased.

9 And I will ^q sow them among the people: and they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall ^r live with their children, and turn again.

10 I will bring them again also out of the land of ^s Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon, and place shall ^t not be found for them.

11 And he shall pass through the sea with affliction, and shall ^u smite the waves in the sea, and all the deeps of the river shall dry up; and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them ^x in the LORD; and they shall walk up and down in his ^y name, saith the LORD.

1 The destruction of Jerusalem....4 By a type is shewed Christ's care of his flock.

OPEN thy doors, O ^a Lebanon, that ^b the fire may devour thy cedars.

2 Howl, fir-tree; for the cedar is fallen; because the mighty are spoiled: howl, O ye oaks of Bashan; for the forest of the vintage is come down.

3 There is a voice of the howling of the ^dshepherds; for their ^eglory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of young lions; for the pride of Jordan is spoiled.

4 Thus saith the LORD my God, ^fFeed the flock of the slaughter,

5 Whose ^gpossessors slay them, and hold themselves ^hnot guilty; and they that ⁱsell them say, ^kBlessed be the LORD; for I am rich: and their own shepherds pity them not.

6 For I will no more ^lpity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD; but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his ^mking; and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them.

7 And I will feed the flock of slaughter, even you, O ⁿpoor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves: the one I called ^oBeauty, and the other I called ^pBands: and I fed the flock.

8 ^qThree shepherds also I cut off in one month; and my soul loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.

9 Then ^rsaid I, I will not feed you: that that dieth, ^slet it die; and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let the rest eat every one the flesh of another.

10 And I took my staff, even Beauty, and ^tcut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the ^upoor of the flock that waited upon me knew that it was the word of the LORD.

12 And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my price; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my price ^vthirty pieces of silver.

13 And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the ^wpotter: a ^xgoodly price that I was prized at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the LORD.

14 Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might ^ybreak the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet the instruments of a ^zfoolish shepherd:

16 For, lo, I will raise up ^aa shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be cut off, neither shall seek ^bthe young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor feed that that standeth still; but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

17 Wo to the ^cidle shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his ^darm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

CHAPTER XII.

6 The victorious restoring of Judah....10 The repentance of Jerusalem.

THE burden of the word of the LORD for Israel, saith the LORD, which ^estretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make ^fJerusalem a ^gcup of trembling unto all the people round about, when they shall be in the siege both against Judah and against Jerusalem.

3 And in that day will I make Jerusalem ^ha burdensome stone for all people: all that ⁱburden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the LORD, I will ^jsmite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness; and I will ^kopen mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the ^lgovernors of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.

6 In that day will I make the governors of Judah like ^ma hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall ⁿdevour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 The LORD also shall ^osave the tents of Judah first, that the ^pglory of the house of David, and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem do not magnify themselves against Judah.

8 In that day shall the LORD ^qdefend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that is ^rfeeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be ^sas God, as the angel of the LORD before them.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy ^tall the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the ^uspirit of grace and of supplications; and they shall ^vlook upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of ^wHadadrimmon in the valley of ^xMegiddon.

12 And the ^yland shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives ^zapart; the family of the house of ^aNathan apart, and their wives apart;

13 The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of ^bShimei apart, and their wives apart;

14 All the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 The fountain of purification for Jerusalem, 2 from idolatry and false prophecy....7 The death of Christ, &c.

IN that day there shall ^cbe a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for ^dsin and for uncleanness.

2 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will cut off the ^enames of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered; and also I will cause the ^fprophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land.

3 And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet prophesy, then his ^gfather and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest ^hlies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ⁱashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied; neither shall they wear ^ja rough garment to deceive:

5 But he shall say, I am no ^kprophet, I am a husbandman; for man taught me to keep cattle from my youth

7 ¶ Awake, O sword, against my Shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn my hand upon the little ones.

8 And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts there in shall be cut off, and die; but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them; I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 The destruction of Jerusalem....3 The coming of Christ, and the graces of his kingdom, &c.

BEHOLD, the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

4 And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east; and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley: and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah; and the LORD my God shall come, and all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be clear, nor dark:

7 But it shall be one day which shall be known to the LORD, not day, nor night: but it shall come to pass, that at evening-time it shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the LORD shall be King over all the earth: in that day shall there be one LORD, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be turned as a plain from Geba to Rimmon, south of Jerusalem: and it shall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananeel unto the king's wine-presses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more utter destruction; but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people that have fought against Jerusalem; Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Judah also shall fight at Jerusalem: and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.

15 And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.

16 And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem, shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles.

17 And it shall be, that whoso will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain, there shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite the heathen, that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the LORD's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Jerusalem, and in Judah, shall be holiness unto the LORD of hosts; and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and see the therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the LORD of hosts.

¶ MALACHI.

CHAPTER I.

Malachi complaineth of Israel's unkindness, 6 of their irreligiousness, 12 and profaneness.

THE burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.

2 I have loved you, saith the LORD: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet I loved Jacob.

3 And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains and his heritage waste for the dragons of the wilderness.

4 Whereas Edom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and, The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD will be magnified from the border of Israel.

6 A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour?

and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, ° O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein ° have we despised thy name?

7 Ye offer ° polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, ° The table of the LORD is contemptible.

8 And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, ° is it not evil? and if ye offer the ° lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor: will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts.

9 And now, ° I pray you, beseech God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been by your means: will he ° regard your persons? saith the LORD of hosts.

10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought? neither do ye kindle fire ° on mine altar for nought. I have ° no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great ° among the Gentiles; and ° in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 But ° ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is ° polluted; and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible.

13 Ye said also, Behold, what a ° weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts: and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye brought an offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD.

14 But cursed be the ° deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the LORD a corrupt thing: for I am a great ° King, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen.

CHAPTER II.

Malachi severely reproveth the priests and the people for their sins.

AND now, O ye ° priests, this commandment is for you.

2 If ye will ° not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to ° give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will ° curse your blessings; yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will corrupt ° your seed, and ° spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your solemn feasts; and one shall take you away with it.

4 And ye shall ° know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that ° my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

5 My covenant was with him ° of life and peace; and I gave them to him for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was ° afraid before my name.

6 The ° law of truth was in his mouth, and ° iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did ° turn many away from iniquity.

7 For the priest's ° lips should keep knowledge, and they should ° seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are ° departed out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble ° at the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 Therefore have I also made you ° contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have been ° partial in the law.

10 Have we not all ° one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal ° treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

11 ° Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loved, and hath ° married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The LORD will ° cut off the man that doeth this, the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that ° offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done ° again, covering the altar of the LORD with ° tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been ° witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he ° make one? Yet had he the residue of the Spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek a godly ° seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none ° deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For the LORD, the God of Israel saith, that he hateth ° putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts; therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

17 Ye have ° wearied the LORD with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that ° doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of ° judgment?

CHAPTER III.

1 Of the messenger, majesty, and grace of Christ....7 Of the rebellion, sacrilege, and infidelity of the people.

BEHOLD, I will send my ° messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the LORD, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his ° temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he ° shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.

2 But who may ° abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap:

3 And he shall sit ° as a refiner and purifier of silver; and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem ° be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

5 And I will ° come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and ° fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

6 For I am the LORD, ° I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are ° not consumed.

7 Even from the days of ° your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them.

Return unto me, and I will return ^m unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. But ye said, ⁿ Wherein shall we return?

8 Will a man ^o rob God? yet ye have robbed ^p me.
But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? in tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are ^q cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tithes into the ^r storehouse, that there may be meat in my house, and ^s prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room ^t enough to receive it.

11 And I will rebuke the devourer ^u for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your ^x vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you ^y blessed: for ye shall be a delightful land, saith the LORD of hosts.

13 Your words have been ^z stout against me, saith the LORD: yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?

14 Ye have said, ^a It is vain to serve God; and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts?

15 And now we call the ^b proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are ^c set up; yea, they that tempt God are ^d even delivered.

16 ^e Then they that feared the LORD ^f spake often one to another; and the LORD ^g hearkened, and heard it: and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name.

17 And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in that day when I make up my ^h jewels; and I will ⁱ spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18 Then shall ^k ye return, and ^l discern between the righteous and the wicked; between him that serveth God, and him that serveth him not.

CHAPTER IV.

1 God's judgment on the wicked, 2 and his blessing on the good....5 Of Elijah's coming and office.

FOR, behold, the day cometh that shall burn as an ^a oven; and all the ^b proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 But unto you that fear my name shall the ^c Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and ^d grow up as calves of the stall.

3 And ye shall ^e tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet, in the day that ^f I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 ^g Remember ye the law of Moses my servant,
which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments.

5 Behold, I will send you ^h Elijah the prophet before the coming of the ⁱ great and dreadful day of the LORD:

6 And he shall ^k turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and ^l smite the earth with a curse.

¶ The GOSPEL according to St. MATTHEW.

CHAPTER I.

1 The genealogy of Jesus Christ....18 Mary's miraculous conception; Jesus is born....21, 23 His names, with their interpretation.

THE book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2 ^b Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren;

3 ^c And Judas begat Phares and Zara of Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom; and Esrom begat Aram;

4 ^d And Aram begat Aminadab; and Aminadab begat Naasson; and Naasson begat Salmon;

5 ^e And Salmon begat Booz of Rachab; and Booz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse;

6 ^f And Jesse begat David the king; and David the king begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Urias;

7 ^g And Solomon begat Roboam; and Roboam begat Abia; and Abia begat Asa;

8 ^h And Asa begat Josaphat; and Josaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Ozias;

9 ⁱ And Ozias begat Joatham; and Joatham begat Achaz; and Achaz begat Ezekias;

10 ^k And Ezekias begat Manasses; and Manasses begat Amon; and Amon begat Josias;

11 ^l And Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to || Babylon;

12 ^m And after they were brought to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel; and Salathiel begat Zorobabel;

13 And Zorobabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor;

14 And Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud;

15 And Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob;

16 And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 ¶ ⁿ Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.

19 ^o Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 ^p But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife; for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.

21 ^q And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.

22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 ^r Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel; which being interpreted, is, God with us.

24 Then Joseph, being raised from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her first-born son: and he called his name JESUS.

CHAPTER II.

1 Wise men inquire after Christ....11 They worship him, and offer presents....13 Joseph fleeth into Egypt with Jesus and Mary....16 Herod slayeth the children at Bethlehem ..19 Christ brought out of Egypt.

NOW when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem,

2 ^b Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 ^c And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.

7 Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem; and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 ¶ When they had heard the king, they departed: and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶ And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold and frankincense, and myrrh.

12 And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 ¶ And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child, to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 ^e And was there until the † death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I † called my son.

16 ¶ Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under,

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt,

Ex. 4, 19.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Christ fasteth, and is tempted....17 He beginneth to preach. 18 He calleth Peter and Andrew....23 He teacheth in the synagogue, and healeth the diseased.

THEN was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness, to be tempted of the devil.

2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward a hungered.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple.

6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them;

9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 Now when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee:

13 And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim:

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

15 The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles;

16 The people which sat in darkness saw great light: and to them that sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up.

17 From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship and their father and followed him.

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.

24 ^a And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

CHAPTER V.

3 Who are blessed....13 The disciples called the salt of the earth, and light of the world; Christ urgeth on them a good example, &c.

AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 ^a Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 ^b Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 ^c Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 ^d Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 ^e Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 ^f Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 ^g Blessed are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 ^h Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 ⁱ Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

12 ^k Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 ^l Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 ^m Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid.

15 ⁿ Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 ^o Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 ^p Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 ^q For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 ^r Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven; but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 ^s For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 ^t Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:

22 ^u But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 ^x Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee,

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 ^y Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 ^z Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ^{aa} Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery:

28 ^{ab} But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 ^{ac} And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 ^{ad} And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 ^{ae} It hath been said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement:

32 ^{af} But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery; and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

33 ^{ag} Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:

34 ^{ah} But I say unto you, Swear not at all: neither by heaven; for it is God's throne:

35 ^{ai} Nor by the earth: for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem: for it is the city of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black:

37 ^{aj} But let your communication be, Yea, yea; nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these, cometh of evil.

38 ^{ak} Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth:

39 ^{al} But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 ^{am} And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

41 And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

42 ^{an} Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 ^{ao} Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy:

Joel 2, 12, 13.

44 ° But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you ;

45 ° That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven : for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 ° For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye ? do not even the publicans the same ?

47 ° And if ye salute your brethren only, what do you more than others ? do not even the publicans so ?

48 ° Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Of alms, 5 prayer, 14 forgiveness....19 Our treasure....24 Of God and mammon.

TAKE heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them : otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2 ° Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth :

4 ° That thine alms may be in secret : and thy Father, which seeth in secret, himself shall reward thee openly.

5 ° And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are : for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 ° But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret ; and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 ° But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do : for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them : for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 ° After this manner therefore pray ye : Our Father, which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name :

10 ° Thy kingdom come : thy will be done, in earth as it is in heaven :

11 ° Give us this day our daily bread :

12 ° And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors :

13 ° And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil : for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

14 ° For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you :

15 ° But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ° Moreover, when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance : for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy head, and wash thy face ;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret : and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

19 ° Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal :

20 ° But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal :

21 ° For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 ° The light of the body is the eye : If therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light :

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness !

24 ° No man can serve two masters : for either he will hate the one, and love the other ; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and Mammon.

25 ° Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink ; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment ?

26 ° Behold the fowls of the air : for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns ; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they ?

27 ° Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature ?

28 ° And why take ye thought for raiment ? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow ; they toil not, neither do they spin :

29 And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 ° Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith ?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat ? or, What shall we drink ? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed ?

32 ° (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek :) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 ° But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness ; and all these things shall be added unto you.

34 ° Take therefore no thought for the morrow : for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ, ending his sermon on the mount, reproveth rash judgment, 6 forbiddeth to cast holy things to dogs, 7 exhorteth to prayer, 13 to enter in at the strait gate, &c.

JUDGE not, that ye be not judged.

2 ° For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged : and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 ° And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye ?

4 ° Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye : and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye ?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye ; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ° Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.

7 ¹ Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you:

8 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

9 ¹ Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone?

10 ¹ Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

11 ¹ If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

12 ¹ Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

13 ¹ Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

14 Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life; and few there be that find it.

15 ¹ Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenging wolves:

16 ¹ Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 ¹ Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 ¹ A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 ¹ Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 ¹ Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22 ¹ Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

23 ¹ And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

24 ¹ Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:

25 ¹ And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:

27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

28 ¹ And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine:

29 ¹ For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER VIII.

2 Christ cleanseth the leper, 5, healeth the centurion's servant, 14 Peter's mother-in-law, 16 and many other diseased; 19 sheweth how he is to be followed; 23 stilleth the tempest on the sea, &c.

WHEN he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

2 ^a And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 ^b And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean: And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 ^c And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded for a testimony unto them.

5 ^d And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

7 And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 ^e The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

11 ^f And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven:

12 ^g But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 ^h And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the self-same hour.

14 ⁱ And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered || unto them.

16 ^k When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:

17 ^l That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ^m Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

19 ⁿ And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 ^o And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

22 ^p But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead.

23 ^q And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?

28 ¶ And when he was come to the other side, into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

29 And, behold, they cried out saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them a herd of many swine feeding.

31 So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and, behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters:

33 And they that kept them fled, and went their way into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.

34 And, behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

CHAPTER IX.

2 Christ cureth the palsy, 9 calleth Matthew, 10 justifieth himself for eating with publicans and sinners: 20 he healeth the bloody issue; 23 raiseth to life the ruler's daughter; 27 giveth sight to two blind men, &c.

AND he entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city.

2 And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith, said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.

3 And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Jesus knowing their thoughts, said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

9 ¶ And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 ¶ And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?

12 But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

13 But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

15 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 No man putteth a piece of new cloth unto an old garment; for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles; else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

18 ¶ While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

19 And Jesus arose and followed him, and so did his disciples.

20 ¶ And, behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment:

21 For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

22 But Jesus turned him about; and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

23 ¶ And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise,

24 He said unto them, Give place; for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And the fame hereof went abroad into all that land.

27 ¶ And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened: and Jesus straitly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

32 ¶ As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33 And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees said, He casteth out the devils through the prince of the devils.

35 ¶ And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

36 But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

37 Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few:

CHAPTER X.

1 Christ sendeth his apostles to do miracles, 5 to preach : 16 he telleth them of persecutions....40 Blessings to those who receive them.

AND when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.

2 ^b Now the names of the twelve apostles are these : the first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother ; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother ;

3 Philip, and Bartholomew ; Thomas, and Matthew the publican ; James the son of Alphaeus ; and Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus ;

4 Simon the Canaanite ; and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not :

6 ^c But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7 ^d And, as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

8 ^e Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils : freely ye have received, freely give.

9 ^f Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass, in your purses :

10 ^g Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves : for the workman is worthy of his meat.

11 And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy, and there abide till ye go thence.

12 And when ye come into a house, salute it.

13 ^b And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it : but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

14 ⁱ And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet.

15 ^k Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 ^l Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves : be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves.

17 ^m But beware of men : for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues :

18 ⁿ And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles.

19 ^o But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak ; for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

20 ^p For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 ^q And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child : and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death.

22 ^r And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake : but he that endureth to the end shall be saved.

23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another : for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel till the Son of man be come.

24 ^a The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

25 ^t It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household ?

26 ^u Fear them not therefore : for there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed ; and hid, that shall not be known.

27 What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light : and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the house-tops.

28 ^x And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul : but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

29 Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing ? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.

30 ^y But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

31 Fear ye not therefore ; ye are of more value than many sparrows.

32 ^z Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

33 But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

34 ^a Think not that I am come to send peace on earth : I came not to send peace, but a sword.

35 For I am come to ^t set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

36 ^b And a man's foes shall be they of his own household.

37 ^c He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me : and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.

38 ^d And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.

39 ^e He that findeth his life shall lose it : and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.

40 ^f He that receiveth you, receiveth me ; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

41 He that receiveth a prophet, in the name of a prophet, shall receive a prophet's reward ; and he that receiveth a righteous man, in the name of a righteous man, shall receive a righteous man's reward.

42 ^g And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, He shall in no wise lose his reward.

CHAPTER XI.

2 John sendeth his disciples to Christ....7 The testimony of Christ concerning John....20 Christ upbraideth the unthankfulness and impenitence of Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum, &c.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence, to teach and to preach in their cities.

2 ¹ ^a Now when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,

3 ^b And said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another ?

4 Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see :

5 ^c The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them.

6^d And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

7¹ And, as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? a reed shaken with the wind?

8 But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.

9^f But what went ye out for to see? a prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet.

10^g For this is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11^h Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

12ⁱ And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

13^k For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John.

14^l And if ye will receive it, this is Elias, which was for to come.

15^m He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16ⁿ But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows, 17 And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18^o For John came neither eating nor drinking; and they say, He hath a devil.

19^p The Son of man came eating and drinking; and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But Wisdom is justified of her children.

20^q Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not:

21 Wo unto thee, Chorazin! wo unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.

23^r And thou Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works which have been done in thee had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.

24^s But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25^t At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.

26^u Even so, Father: for so it seemed good in thy sight.

27^x All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him,

28^y Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29^z Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

30^a For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Christ reproveth the blindness of the Pharisees concerning the breach of the sabbath....9 He healeth the withered hand, &c.

^a At that time Jesus went on the sabbath-day through the corn; and his disciples were a-hungred, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath-day.

3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did when he was a hungered, and they that were with him;

4^b How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shew-bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests?

5^c Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath-days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

6^d But I say unto you, That in this place is one greater than the temple.

7^e But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8 For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath-day.

9^f And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue:

10^g And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-days? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath-day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then [†] is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath-days.

13^h Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14ⁱ Then the Pharisees went out, and held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence; and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all;

16 And charged them that they should not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

18^k Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20^l A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

22^m Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. 23ⁿ And all the people were amazed, and said, Is this the son of David?

24^o But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

25^p And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28^q But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29^r Or else, how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30^s He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

31^t Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

32^u And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

33^x Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

34^y O generation of vipers! how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man, out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man, out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things.

36^z But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38^a Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.

39^b But he answered and said to them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:

40^c For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41^d The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

42^e The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

43^f When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

45^g Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

46^h While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.

47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.

48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

49 And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

50 For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

CHAPTER XIII.

3 Of the sower and the seed....10 Why Christ spake in parables....18 The exposition of the parable of the sower 24 Divers other parables, &c.

THE same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea-side.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow:

4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up.

5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth; and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them.

8^b But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some a hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, some thirty-fold.

9^c Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11^d He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12^e For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not; and hearing, they hear not; neither do they understand.

14^f And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:

15^g For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

16^h But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear.

17^b For verily I say unto you, Tha many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 ¶ Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.
19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side.

20^k But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it:

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while; for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22^l He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

23 But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundred-fold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27^m So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30ⁿ Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took and sowed in his field:

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ Another parable spake he unto them: The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

34^q All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35^r That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 ¶ Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man:

38^s The field is the world: the good seed are the children of the kingdom: but the tares are the children of the wicked one:

39^t The enemy that sowed them is the devil: the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

41^u The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity;

42^x And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43^y Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun, in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44^z Again: The kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45^{aa} Again: The kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant-man seeking goodly pearls:

46^{ab} Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47^{ac} Again: The kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind:

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49^{ad} So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just,

50^{ae} And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52^{af} Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53^{ag} ¶ And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54^{ah} ¶ And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55^{ai} Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?

57^{aj} And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

58^{ak} And he did not many mighty works there, because of their unbelief.

AT that time Herod the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus;

2 And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist: he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

m Or, I am.

4^e For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.

5^d And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.

6 But when Herod's birth-day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask.

8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a charger.

9^e And the king was sorry: nevertheless, for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he sent and beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.

13^f When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14^g And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15^h And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16^a But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart: give ye them to eat.

17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19ⁱ And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass; and took the five loaves and the two fishes, and, looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

22^j And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

23^k And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary.

25^l And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear.

27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; for it is I; be not afraid.

28 And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

30 But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me!

31 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.

33^m Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

34ⁿ And when they were gone over, they came into the land of Gennesaret.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased;

36^o And besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

CHAPTER XV.

1 Of God's commandments, and men's traditions....10 Christ sheweth what defileth a man....30 He healeth great multitudes, &c.

^a THEN came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying,

2 Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4^b For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me;

6^c And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites! well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying,

8^d This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10^e And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:

11^f Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying?

13^g But he answered and said, Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14^h Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15ⁱ Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16^k And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18^l But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man.

19^m For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies :

20^a These are the things which defile a man : but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou Son of David ! my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away ; for she crieth after us.

24^b But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me !

26^c But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord : yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table.

28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith : be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

29 ¶ And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee ; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30^d And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet ; and he healed them :

31 Inasmuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see : and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 ¶ Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat : and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33^e And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude ?

34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye ? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

36 And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eat, and were filled : and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full.

38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, besides women and children.

39 And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 The Pharisees require a sign....5 Of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees, &c.

^a THE Pharisees also with the Sadducees came, and tempting, desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven.

2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather, for the sky is red :

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather today ; for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites ! ye can discern the face of the sky ; but can ye not discern the signs of the times ?

4^b A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign ; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

5 ¶ And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed, and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.

8 Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread ?

9^d Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up ?

10^e Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up ?

11 How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees ?

12 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

13 ¶ When Jesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I, the Son of man, am ?

14^g And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist ; some, Elias ; and others, Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am ?

16^h And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

17ⁱ And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona : for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18^k And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter ; and upon this rock I will build my church ; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19^l And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven : and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven ; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20^m Then charged he his disciples, that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

21 ¶ From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22ⁿ Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord : this shall not be unto thee.

23^p But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan : thou art an offence unto me : for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 ¶ Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25^r For whosoever will save his life shall lose it : and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

28^u Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 The transfiguration of Christ....14 He healeth the lunatic.
24 He payeth tribute.

AND after six days Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain, apart,

2^b And was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias, talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5^c While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and, behold, a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.

6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.

7^d And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9^e And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

10^f And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must first come?

11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things.

12^g But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14^h And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying,

15 Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is lunatic, and sore vexed: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation! how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20ⁱ And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22^k And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men;

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.

24^l And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute-money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Christ teacheth to be humble....7 Touching offences, 21 and forgiving one another.

AT the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2 And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3^b And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4^c Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5^d And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me.

6^e But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7^f Wo unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but wo to that man by whom the offence cometh!

8^g Wherefore, if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands, or two feet, to be cast into everlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell-fire.

10^h Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

11ⁱ For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

12^k How think ye? If a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, He rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

14 Even so, it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

15 ¹ Moreover, if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone : if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.

16 ^m But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

17 ^a And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church : but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as a heathen man and a publican.

18 ^o Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven ; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

19 ^p Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 ^q Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him ? till seven times ?

22 ^r Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times ; but, Until seventy times seven.

23 ^s Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him which owed him ten thousand talents :

25 ^t But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants which owed him ^{||} a hundred pence ; and he laid hands on him, and [†] took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not ; but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me :

33 Shouldst not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pity on thee ?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 ^u So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 Christ healeth the sick....3 He answereth the Pharisees touching divorcement....16 He instructeth how to attain everlasting life, &c.

^a AND it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judea beyond Jordan :

2 And great multitudes followed him : and he healed them there.

3 ¹ The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause ?

4 ^b And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning, made them male and female ;

5 ^c And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife ; and they twain shall be one flesh ?

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

7 ^d They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away ?

8 He saith unto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives : but from the beginning it was not so.

9 ^e And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery : and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

10 ^f His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 ^g But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

12 ^h For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb : and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men : and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ⁱ Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray : and the disciples rebuked them.

14 ^k But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me : for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ^l And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life ?

17 ^m And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good ? there is none good but one, that is God : but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 ⁿ He saith unto him, Which ? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness ;

19 ^o Honour thy father and thy mother : and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up : what lack I yet ?

21 ^p Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven ; and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful : for he had great possessions.

25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 ¶ But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ Then answered Peter, and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee: what shall we have therefore?

28 ¶ And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

29 ¶ And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive a hundred-fold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

30 ¶ But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first.

CHAPTER XX.

Of the labourers in the vineyard, &c.

¶ FOR the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a-day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the market-place,

4 ¶ And said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 ¶ And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the good man of the house,

12 ¶ Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them, and said, † Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny?

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last even as unto thee.

15 Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil because I am good?

16 ¶ So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 ¶ Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

19 ¶ And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.

20 ¶ Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 ¶ And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom.

22 ¶ But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.

23 ¶ And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with; but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, † but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24 ¶ And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.

25 ¶ But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them.

26 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister;

27 And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant:

28 ¶ Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

29 ¶ And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 ¶ And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David!

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David!

32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?

33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

CHAPTER XXI.

Christ rideth into Jerusalem on an ass, &c.

¶ AND when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 ^c And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 ^d And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest!

10 And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 ^e And the multitude said, This is Jesus, the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.

12 ^f And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves;

13 ^g And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.

15 ^h And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David! they were sore displeased,

16 ⁱ And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

17 ^j And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethany; and he lodged there.

18 ^k Now in the morning, as he returned into the city, he hungered.

19 And when he saw a fig-tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig-tree withered away.

20 ^l And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig-tree withered away!

21 ^m Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig-tree, but also, if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea, it shall be done.

22 ⁿ And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 ^o And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 ^p And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?

26 ^q But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; for all hold John as a prophet.

27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28 ^r But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to-day in my vineyard.

29 He answered and said, I will not; but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir; and went not.

31 ^s Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

32 ^t For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 ^u Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine-press in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country:

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 ^v And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 ^w But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

39 ^x And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When the lord, therefore, of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 ^y They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 ^z Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be ^a taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 ^b And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet.

AND Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5^b But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7^c But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

8^d Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

9^e Go ye, therefore, into the highways; and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all, as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11^f And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.

13^g Then said the king to his servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14^h For many are called, but few are chosen.

15ⁱ Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk.

16 And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man; for thou regardest not the person of men.

17^k Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute-money. And they brought unto him a penny.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21^l They say unto him, Cesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which are Cesar's, and unto God the things that are God's.

22 When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23^m The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him,

24ⁿ Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother:

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore, in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29^o Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30^p For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying,

32^q I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

33^r And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.

34^s But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.

35 Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37^t Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39^u And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41^v While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David.

43^w He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord? saying, 44^x The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46^y And no man was able to answer him a word; neither durst any man, from that day forth, ask him any more questions.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 Of the scribes and Pharisees' good doctrine, but evil examples of life... 34 The destruction of Jerusalem foretold.

THEN spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2^a Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat:

3 All, therefore, whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not.

4^b For they bind heavy burdens, and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5^c But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

6^d And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8^e But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren.

9^f And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven.

10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11^g But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant.

12^h And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 ^r Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.

24 ^s For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: Behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 ^t For wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 ^u Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

30 ^x And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 ^y And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet; and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 ^v Now learn a parable of the fig-tree: When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh:

33 ^z So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors.

34 ^a Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass till all these things be fulfilled.

35 ^b Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

36 ^c But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, nor the angels of heaven, but my Father only.

37 ^d But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38 For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark,

39 And knew not, until the flood came and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40 ^e Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 ^f Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

43 ^g But know this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 ^h Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as you think not the Son of man cometh.

45 ⁱ Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?

46 ^k Blessed is that servant whom his lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing

47 ^l Verily I say unto you, That he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

48 But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming;

49 And shall begin to smite his fellow-servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken;

50 The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,

51 ^m And shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

CHAPTER XXV.

1 The parable of the ten virgins; 14 of the talents, and the reward to those who improved them....31 Of the last judgment.

ⁿ THEN shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.

2 ^b And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them:

4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 ^c While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.

6 ^d And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

7 ^e Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 ^f And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut.

11 ^g Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 ^h But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not.

13 ⁱ Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

14 ^k For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

15 ^l And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

16 Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had received one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

19 After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents; behold, I have gained besides them five talents more.

21 ^m His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

22 He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, shall be taken away even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 For I was a hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungered, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?

38 When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?

40 And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

41 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels:

42 For I was a hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink:

43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee a hungered, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?

45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

CHAPTER XXVI

3 The rulers conspire against Christ... 14 Judas selleth him.

17 Christ eateth the passover.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples, Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

1 Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas,

4 And consulted that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head as he sat at meat.

8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always.

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.

13 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

14 Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests,

15 And said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

20 Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, That one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 The Son of man goeth, as it is written of him; but wo unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born.

25 ^a Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

26 ^o And, as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.

27 ^p And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it:

28 ^q For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.

29 ^r But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 ^s And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

31 ^t Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

32 ^u But after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.

33 ^x Peter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 ^y Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Peter said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ^z Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

37 ^a And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

38 ^b Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here and watch with me.

39 ^c And he went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What! could ye not watch with me one hour?

41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 ^d And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 ^e Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he: hold him fast.

49 ^f And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Master; and kissed him.

50 And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

51 ^g And, behold, one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest, and smote off his ear.

52 ^h Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.

53 ⁱ Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels?

54 ^k But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?

55 In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.

56 ^l But all this was done, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

57 ^m And they that had laid hold on Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 But Peter followed him afar off, unto the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat with the servants to see the end.

59 ⁿ Now the chief priests and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death;

60 ^o But found none: yea, though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses,

61 ^p And said, This fellow said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.

62 And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witnesses against thee?

63 ^q But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.

64 ^r Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

65 ^s Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66 ^t What think ye? They answered and said, He is guilty of death.

67 ^u Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and others smote him with the palms of their hands,

68 ^x Saying, Prophesy unto us, thou Christ, who is he that smote thee?

69 ^y Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.

71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Christ delivered bound to Pilate....3 Judas hangeth himself. 27 Christ is mocked, 33 crucified, 39 and reviled....51 The astonishing events which attended his death, &c.

^a WHEN the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death.

2 ^b And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.

3 ^c Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

4 ^d Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.

5 ^e And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.

6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in.

8 ^f Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.

9 ^g Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value;

10 And gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 ^h And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest.

12 ⁱ And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing.

13 ^k Then saith Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 ^l And he answered him to never a word; in so much that the governor marvelled greatly.

15 ^m Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 ⁿ Therefore, when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?

18 ^o For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.

19 ^p When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man; for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.

20 ^q But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21 ^a The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate said unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all said unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governor said, Why? what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 ^r When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.

25 ^s Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children.

26 ^t Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.

28 And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe.

29 ^u And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!

30 ^v And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.

32 ^x And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.

33 ^y And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha; that is to say, A place of a skull, 34 ^z They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 ^a And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 ^b And sitting down, they watched him there;

37 ^c And set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 ^d Then were there two thieves crucified with him; one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 ^e And they that passed by reviled him wagging their heads,

40 ^f And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 He saved others, himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43 ^g He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 ^h The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 ⁱ Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.

46 ^k And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 ^l Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.

48 ^m And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.

50 ⁿ Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

51 ^o And, behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent;

52 And the graves were opened; and many bodies of saints which slept arose,

53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

54 ^p Now when the centurion and they that were with him watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55 ^q And many women were there, beholding afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him;

56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedee's children.

57 ^r When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple:

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 ^s And laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 ^t Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, 63 ^u Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse than the first.

65 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a ^v watch: go your way, make it as sure as you can.

66 ^w So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

1 Christ's resurrection declared: 9 he appeareth to the women, 16 and to his disciples, 18 and sendeth them to teach and baptize.

^a IN the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 ^b His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

6 ^c He is not here; for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay:

7 ^d And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy, and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 ^e And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 ^f Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 ^g Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 ^h And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.

15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

16 ⁱ Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 ^j And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

19 ^k Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost;

20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

4^d John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.

5^e And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins.

6^f And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey;

7^g And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

8^h I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.

9ⁱ And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit, like a dove, descending upon him:

11^k And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12^l And immediately the Spirit driveth him into the wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

14^m Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, 15ⁿ And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand; repent ye, and believe the gospel.

16^o Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18^p And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a little farther thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

21^q And they went into Capernaum: and straightway on the sabbath-day he entered into the synagogue, and taught.

22^r And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.

23^s And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out,

24^t Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.

25^u And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

29^x And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 But Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and anon they tell him of her.

31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up: and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32^y And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

33 And all the city was gathered together at the door.

34^z And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.

35^a And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon and they that were with him followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.

38^b And he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.

39 And he preached in their synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

40^c And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

44^d And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

45^e But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ followed by multitudes; 3 he healeth the palsy, 14 calleth Levi, 15 justifieth himself for eating with publicans and sinners, 18 excuseth his disciples for not fasting, &c.

AND again he entered into Capernaum after some days; and it was noised that he was in the house.

2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.

3^f And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.

4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.

5^g When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 ° Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but God only?

8 ° And immediately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,)

11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thy house.

12 And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 ¶ And he went forth again by the sea-side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them

14 ° And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus, sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

15 ¶ And it came to pass, that, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

17 ° When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

18 ° And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees used to fast: and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber fast while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 ° But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

21 No man also seweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment: else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles: else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

23 ¶ And it came to pass, that he went through the corn-fields on the sabbath-day; and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath-day that which is not lawful?

25 ° And he said unto them, Have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was a hungered, he, and they that were with him?

26 ° How he went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the shew-bread, which is not lawful to eat but for the priests, and gave also to them which were with him?

27 And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath.

28 Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ healeth the withered hand; 6 the Pharisees conspire his death; 13 he chooseth twelve apostles; 22 he confuteth the Pharisees' blasphemy, &c.

AND he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath-day; that they might accuse him.

3 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.

4 And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath-days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 ° And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

6 ° And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

7 ° But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea,

8 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.

9 And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many; insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had † plagues.

11 ° And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

12 ° And he straitly charged them that they should not make him known.

13 ¶ And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.

14 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,

15 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:

16 ° And Simon he surnamed Peter;

17 And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James; and he surnamed them || Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder;

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into a house.

20 ¶ And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 ° And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He is beside himself.

22 ¶ And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

23 ° And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

26 And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 ^m No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.28 ^v Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme:

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation:

30 ^o Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.31 ^l There came then his brethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him.

32 And the multitude sat about him; and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

35 For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The parable of the sower; 14 the meaning thereof....26 Of the seed growing secretly, &c.

AND he began again to teach by the sea-side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,

3 Harken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow:

4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way-side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:

6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased, and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some a hundred.

9 ^b And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.10 ^l And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable.11 ^d And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables.12 ^e That seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?

14 ^l The sower soweth the word.15 ^f And these are they by the way-side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.16 ^g And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;

17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.

18 ^h And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word,19 ⁱ And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

20 And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirty-fold, some sixty, and some a hundred.

21 ^l And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?22 ^l For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.23 ^m If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.24 ⁿ And he said unto them, Take heed what you hear; with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you; and unto you that hear shall more be given.25 ^o For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.26 ^l And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground;

27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ^l And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?31 ^l It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth:

32 But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 ^r And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.

34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 ^l And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships.

37 ^s And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

a Mat. 8, 28
Luke 8, 26.

AND they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

b 2 Pet. 2, 4
Jude 6.

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there, nigh unto the mountains, a great herd of swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea.

28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

v Esth. 5, 1.

2^b And when the sabbath-day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

3^c Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joses, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him.

4^d But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

5^e And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

6^f And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages teaching.

7^g And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits;

8^h And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse:

9ⁱ But be shod with sandals; and not put on two coats.

10^k And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart from that place.

11^l And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

12^m And they went out, and preached that men should repent.

13ⁿ And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

14^o And king Herod heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad;) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

15^p Others said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.

16 But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17^q For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her.

18^r For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19^s Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not.

20^t For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and a holy, and observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21^u And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birth-day made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee;

22 And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23^v And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.

24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother,

What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.

25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger the head of John the Baptist.

26^y And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.

27^z And immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison,

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel: and the damsel gave it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30¹ And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31^b And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest awhile: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.

32^c And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

33^d And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34^e And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things.

35^f And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed:

36 Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat.

37^g He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?

38^h He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.

39 And he commanded them to make all to sit down by [†]companies upon the green grass.

40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties.

41ⁱ And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all.

42 And they did all eat, and were filled.

43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

45¹ And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47¹ And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat.

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from afar.

4 ^b And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness?

5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people.

7 ^c And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

8 So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets.

9 And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

10 ^d And straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 ^e And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him.

12 ^f And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? Verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation.

13 And he left them, and, entering into the ship again, departed to the other side.

14 ^g And now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.

15 ^h And he charged them, saying, † Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.

16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread.

17 ⁱ And when Jesus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened?

18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?

19 ^k When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

20 ^l And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.

21 ^m And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand?

22 ⁿ And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him.

23 ^o And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town: and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw aught?

24 And he looked up, and said, I see men, as trees, walking.

25 After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.

26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

27 ^p And Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the towns of Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am?

28 And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias; and others, One of the prophets.

29 ^q And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ.

30 And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.

31 ^r And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed; and after three days rise again.

32 ^s And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.

33 ^t But when he had turned about and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

34 ^u And when he had called the people unto him, with his disciples also, he said unto them, Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

35 ^x For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.

36 For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

37 ^y Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

38 ^z Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me, and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

6 For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid.

7 ^e And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son; hear him.

8 And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.

11 ¹ And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that Elias must first come?

12 ² And he answered and told them, Elias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.

13 ³ But I say unto you, That Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.

14 ⁴ And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye with them?

17 ⁵ And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit :

18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he teareth him; and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away : and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not.

19 He answereth him and saith, O faithless generation! how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring him unto me.

20 ⁶ And they brought him unto him : and when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child :

22 And oft-times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him : but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

23 ⁷ Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.

24 And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.

25 ⁸ When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him : and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead.

27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose.

28 ⁹ And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¹⁰ And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him : and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 ¹¹ And he came to Capernaum : and being in the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among yourselves by the way?

34 But they held their peace : for by the way they had disputed among themselves who should be the greatest.

35 ¹² And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.

36 ¹³ And he took a child, and set him in the midst of them : and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them,

37 ¹⁴ Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me : and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 ¹⁵ And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us : and we forbade him, because he followeth not us.

39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not : for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 ¹⁶ For he that is not against us is on our part.

41 ¹⁷ For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, He shall not lose his reward.

42 ¹⁸ And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 ¹⁹ And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off : it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched;

44 ²⁰ Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off : it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched;

46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out : it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire;

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 ²¹ For every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 ²² Salt is good : but if the salt have lost his saltiness, wherewith will ye season it? have salt in yourselves, and have peace one with another.

CHAPTER X.

2 Christ disputeth with the Pharisees touching divorcement : 13 blesseth the children that are brought unto him, &c.

¹ AND he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan : and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 ² And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you?

4 ³ And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept :

6 ⁴ But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.

7^d For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife

8 And they twain shall be one flesh : so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.

9^e What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

10 And in the nouse his disciples asked him again of the same matter.

11^f And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13^g And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them : and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14^h But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not ; for of such is the kingdom of God.

15ⁱ Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16^k And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

17^l And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life ?

18^m And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good ? there is none good, but one, that is God.

19ⁿ Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21^o Then Jesus beholding him, loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest : go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven : and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved ; for he had great possessions.

23^p And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God !

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God !

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved ?

27^q And Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God : for with God all things are possible.

28^r Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.

29^s And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's.

30 But he shall receive a hundred-fold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions ; and in the world to come eternal life.

31^t But many that are first shall be last ; and the last first.

32^u And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem : and Jesus went before them : and they were amazed ; and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him,

33^v Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem ; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes ; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles :

34 And they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him ; and the third day he shall rise again.

35^w And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall desire.

36^x And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you ?

37 They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

38^y But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink of the cup that I drink of ? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with ?

39^z And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of, and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized :

40^a But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give ; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

41^b And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John.

42^c But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them ; and their great ones exercise authority upon them.

43^d But so shall it not be among you : but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister :

44^e And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all.

45^f For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

46^g And they came to Jericho : and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimeus, the son of Timeus, sat by the highway-side, begging.

47^h And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

48 And many charged him that he should hold his peace : but he cried the more a great deal, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

49 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise ; he calleth thee.

50 And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee ? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.

52ⁱ And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way ; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Christ rideth into Jerusalem: 12 he curseth a fruitless fig-tree: 27 he silenceth the priests who question his authority.

AND when they came nigh to Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples,

2 And saith unto them, Go your way into the village over against you: and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat; loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye that the Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without, † in a place where two ways met; and they loose him.

5 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye loosing the colt?

6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded: and they let them go.

7 ^b And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him; and he sat upon him.

8 And many spread their garments in the way; and others cut down branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 ^c And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna; Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord:

10 Blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest.

11 ^d And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple: and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the even-tide was come, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 ^e And on the morrow, when they were come from Bethany, he was hungry:

13 And seeing a fig-tree afar off, having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet.

14 And Jesus answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 ^f And they come to Jerusalem: and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves;

16 And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple.

17 ^g And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer? but ye have made it a den of thieves.

18 ^h And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doctrine.

19 ⁱ And when even was come, he went out of the city.

20 ^j And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig-tree dried up from the roots.

21 ^k And Peter calling to remembrance, saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig-tree which thou cursedst is withered away!

22 And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God.

23 ^l For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatso ever he saith.

24 ^m Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

25 ⁿ And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have aught against any; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

27 ^o And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders,

28 ^p And say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things?

29 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

30 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me.

31 ^q And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?

32 ^r But if we shall say, Of men; they feared the people: for all men counted John that he was a prophet indeed.

33 And they answered and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

CHAPTER XII.

1 The parable of the vineyard....18 The Sadducees confuted....35 A difficulty proposed to the scribes, &c.

AND he began to speak unto them by parables.

A certain man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a place for the wine-fat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 ^b And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore one son, his well-beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

7 ^c But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 ^d And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 ^e What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 ^f And have ye not read this scripture; The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes?

12 ^a And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people; for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

13 ^b And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words.

14 ^c And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man; for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cesar's.

17 ^d And Jesus answering said unto them, Render to Cesar the things that are Cesar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.

18 ^e Then come unto him the Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying,

19 ^f Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

20 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed.

21 And the second took her, and died; neither left he any seed: and the third likewise.

22 And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 ^g And Jesus answering said unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 ^h For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage; but are as the angels which are in heaven.

26 ⁱ And as touching the dead, that they rise; have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore do greatly err.

28 ^j And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

29 ^k And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord:

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength. This is the first commandment.

31 ^l And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

32 ^m And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none other but he:

33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 ⁿ And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the son of David?

36 ^o For David himself said by the Holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

38 ^p And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the market-places,

39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts;

40 ^q Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41 ^r And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.

42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 ^s And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in than all they which have cast into the treasury:

44 For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple: 3 he sheweth what signs should go before, 24 and what should happen at the time of his coming, &c.

^a AND as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here!

2 ^b And Jesus answering said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 ^c And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, over against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, asked him privately,

4 ^d Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 ^e And Jesus answering them, began to say, Take heed lest any man deceive you:

6 ^f For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

7 And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet.

8 ^g For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.

9 ^h But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

10 ⁱ And the gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 ^j But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate; but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.

12¹ Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.

13^m And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14¹ But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then let them that be in Judea flee to the mountains:

15 And let him that is on the house-top not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house:

16 And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment.

17^o But wo to them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days!

18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.

19^p For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, unto this time, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.

21^a And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or, lo, he is there; believe him not:

22^r For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.

23^s But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

24¹ But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light;

25 And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.

26^a And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds, with great power and glory.

27^x And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

28^y Now learn a parable of the fig-tree; When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near:

29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is nigh, even at the doors.

30^z Verily I say unto you, That this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

31^a Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

32¹ But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.

33^c Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.

35^d Watch ye therefore; for ye know not, when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning;

36 Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping.

37 And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 A conspiracy against Christ: 3 a woman poureth ointment on his head....10 Judas covenanteth to betray him: 12 he eateth the passover: 22 he instituteth his last supper: 66 Peter thrice denieth him, &c.

AFTER two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2^b But they said, † Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uproar of the people.

3¹ And being in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster-box of ointment of spikenard, very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.

4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her.

6 And Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.

7^a For ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.

8 She hath done † what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

10¹ And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

12¹ And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the passover?

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And whosoever he shall go in, say ye to the good man of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

17^e And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

18^h And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.

is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.

22 ¹ And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.

23 ¹ And he took the cup; and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.

25 ¹ Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 ¹ And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

27 ¹ And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 ¹ But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

29 ¹ But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 ¹ And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 ¹ But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

32 ¹ And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy;

34 ¹ And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

35 ¹ And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.

36 ¹ And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37 ¹ And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?

38 ¹ Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again; for their eyes were heavy: neither wist they what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come: behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 ¹ And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he: take him, and lead him away safely.

45 ¹ And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, † Master, Master: and kissed him.

46 And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?

49 ¹ I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 ¹ And they all forsook him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him:

52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¹ And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 ¹ And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none.

56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 ¹ We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.

59 But neither so did their witness agree together.

60 ¹ And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?

61 ¹ But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?

62 ¹ And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

63 Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses?

64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

65 ¹ And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophecy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.

66 ¹ And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest:

67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew.

69 ¹ And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

72 ¹ And the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, 31 Likewise also the chief priests, mocking, said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save.

3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre ?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away : for it was very great.

5 And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment ; and they were affrighted.

6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted. Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified : he is risen ; he is not here : behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee : there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre ; for they trembled and were amazed : neither said they any thing to any man : for they were afraid.

9 Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils.

10 And she went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.

12 After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country.

13 And they went and told it unto the residue : neither believed they them.

14 Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.

15 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.

16 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved ; but he that believeth not shall be damned.

17 And these signs shall follow them that believe : In my name shall they cast out devils ; they shall speak with new tongues ;

18 They shall take up serpents ; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them ; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

¶ The GOSPEL according to St. LUKE.

CHAPTER I.

1 Luke's preface....5 The conception of John Baptist, 26 and of Christ....57 The nativity and circumcision of John.

64 The mouth of Zacharias opened : 67 his prophecy.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us,

2 Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word ;

3 It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,

4 That thou mightest know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed.

5 THERE was, in the days of Herod the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia : and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.

6 And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course,

9 According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias : for thy prayer is heard ; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness ; and many shall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink ; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb.

16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.

17 And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just ; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this ? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

19 And the angel answering, said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God ; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

20 And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them : and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple ; for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

23 And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

26 ¶ And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth,
27 ¶ To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

28 ¶ And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

30 ¶ And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary; for thou hast found favour with God.

31 ¶ And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

32 ¶ He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David:

33 ¶ And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

34 Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

35 ¶ And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee; therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.

36 And, behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren.

37 ¶ For with God nothing shall be impossible.

38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 ¶ And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill-country with haste, into a city of Juda;

40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth.

41 And it came to pass, that, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost:

42 ¶ And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women; and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

45 ¶ And blessed is she that believed; for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

46 ¶ And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord,

47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48 ¶ For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 ¶ For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name.

50 ¶ And his mercy is on them that fear him, from generation to generation.

51 ¶ He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 ¶ He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 ¶ He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich he hath sent empty away.

54 ¶ He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy;

55 ¶ As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

57 ¶ Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son.

58 ¶ And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her; and they rejoiced with her.

59 ¶ And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 ¶ And his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John.

61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

62 And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.

63 And he asked for a writing-table, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God.

65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill-country of Judea:

66 And all they that heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be? And the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 ¶ And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,

68 ¶ Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people,

69 ¶ And hath raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David;

70 ¶ As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began:

71 ¶ That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;

72 ¶ To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant,

73 ¶ The oath which he sware to our father Abraham,

74 ¶ That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear,

75 ¶ In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

76 ¶ And thou, child, shalt be called The Prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways;

77 ¶ To give knowledge of salvation unto his people, by the remission of their sins,

78 ¶ Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the day-spring from on high hath visited us,

79 ¶ To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 ¶ And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

2 (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

4^a And Joseph also went up from Galilee out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David,)

5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

6[†] And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7^b And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8[†] And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the || field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9^c And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

10^d And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11^e For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13^f And suddenly there was with the angels a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying,

14^g Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will towards men.

15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19^h But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21ⁱ And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22^k And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord;

23^l (As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;)

24^m And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

25ⁿ And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon: and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

26^o And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29^p Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

30^q For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

32^r A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34^s And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against;

35^t (Yea, a sword shall pierce through thine own soul also,) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36[†] And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser; she was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity;

37^u And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And she coming in that instant, gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

40^x And the child grew, and waxed strong || in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.

41^y Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it.

44 But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47^z And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

49^a And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?

50^b And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51^c And he went down with them, and came to

CHAPTER III.

1 John's preaching and baptism : 15 his testimony of Christ. 19 Herod imprisoneth John....21 Christ is baptized : 23 his genealogy.

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene,

2^a Annas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3^b And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins ;

4^c As it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low ; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth ;

6^d And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7^e Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers ! who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come ?

8^f Bring forth, therefore, fruits worthy of repentance : and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father : for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

9^g And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees : every tree, therefore, which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10^h And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then ?

11ⁱ He answereth and saith unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none ; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12^k Then came also publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do ?

13^l And he said unto them, Exact no more than that which is appointed you.

14^m And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do ? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely ; and be content with your wages.

15ⁿ And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ or not ;

16^o John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water ; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose : he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire :

17^p Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner ; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.

18 And many other things, in his exhortation, preached he unto the people.

19^q But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 Added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

21^r Now when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened,

22^s And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him ; and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son ; in thee I am well pleased.

23^t And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) the son of Joseph, which was the son of Heli,

24^u Which was the son of Matthat, which was the son of Levi, which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Janna, which was the son of Joseph,

25 Which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Amos, which was the son of Naum, which was the son of Esli, which was the son of Nagge,

26 Which was the son of Maath, which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Semei, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Juda,

27 Which was the son of Joanna, which was the son of Rhesa, which was the son of Zorobabel, which was the son of Salathiel, which was the son of Neri,

28 Which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Addi, which was the son of Cosam, which was the son of Elmodam, which was the son of Er,

29 Which was the son of Jose, which was the son of Eliezer, which was the son of Jorim, which was the son of Matthat, which was the son of Levi,

30 Which was the son of Simeon, which was the son of Juda, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Jonan, which was the son of Eliakim,

31^v Which was the son of Melea, which was the son of Menan, which was the son of Mattatha, which was the son of Nathan, which was the son of David,

32^w Which was the son of Jesse, which was the son of Obed, which was the son of Booz, which was the son of Salmon, which was the son of Naasson,

33 Which was the son of Aminadab, which was the son of Aram, which was the son of Esrom, which was the son of Phares, which was the son of Juda,

34^x Which was the son of Jacob, which was the son of Isaac, which was the son of Abraham, which was the son of Thara, which was the son of Nachor,

35 Which was the son of Saruch, which was the son of Ragau, which was the son of Phalee, which was the son of Heber, which was the son of Sala,

36^y Which was the son of Cainan, which was the son of Arphaxad, which was the son of Sem, which was the son of Noe, which was the son of Lamech,

37 Which was the son of Mathusala, which was the son of Enoch, which was the son of Jared, which was the son of Maleleel, which was the son of Cainan, 38^z Which was the son of Enos, which was the son of Seth, which was the son of Adam, which was the son of God.

those days he did eat nothing ; and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.

3 ° And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 ° And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 ° And the devil taking him up into a high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them : for that is delivered unto me ; and to whomsoever I will I give it.

7 If thou, therefore, wilt worship me, all shall be thine.

8 ° And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan : for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

9 ° And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence :

10 ° For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee ;

11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 ° And Jesus answering, said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 ° And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 ° And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee : and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 ° And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up : and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and stood up to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,

18 ° The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor : he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,

19 ° To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

22 ° And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Joseph's son ?

23 ° And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself : whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.

24 ° And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country.

25 ° But I tell you of a truth, Many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land ;

26 But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.

27 ° And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet ; and none of them was cleansed, saying Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath,

29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down headlong.

30 ° But he, passing through the midst of them, went his way,

31 ° And came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath-days.

32 ° And they were astonished at his doctrine : for his word was with power.

33 ° And in the synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and he cried out with a loud voice,

34 ° Saying, Let us alone ; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth ? art thou come to destroy us ? I know thee who thou art ; the Holy One of God.

35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this ! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

38 ° And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever ; and they besought him for her.

39 ° And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever ; and it left her : and immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

40 ° Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him ; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

41 ° And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he, rebuking them, suffered them not to speak : for they knew that he was Christ.

42 ° And when it was day, he departed, and went into a desert place : and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.

43 And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also ; for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Christ teacheth out of Peter's ship.... 4 A miraculous draught of fishes.... 12 A leper cleansed.... 18 The palsy healed. 27 Levi called from the receipt of custom.

AND it came to pass, that as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Gennesaret,

2 ° And saw two ships standing by the lake : but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And he entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 ° Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.

6 And when they had this done, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake.

7 And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 ^d And so was also James and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 ^e And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all, and followed him.

12 ^f And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leprosy; who seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 ^g And he charged him to tell no man: but go and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 ^h But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 ⁱ And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 ^k And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem; and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 ^l And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the house-top, and let him down through the tiling, with his couch, into the midst before Jesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 ^m And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins but God alone?

22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 ⁿ Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thy house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day

27 ^o And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 ^p And Levi made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them.

30 ^q But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 ^r And Jesus answering, said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

32 ^s I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 ^t And they said unto him, Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink?

34 And he said unto them, Can ye make the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them?

35 But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

36 ^u And he spake also a parable unto them: No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old; if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.

39 No man also having drunk old wine straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Touching the ears of corn that were plucked by the disciples on the sabbath....13 Christ chooseth the twelve, 17 healeth divers diseases, 20 pronounceth blessings, &c.

^a AND it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn-fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 ^b And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath-days?

3 ^c And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himself was a hungered, and they which were with him;

4 ^d How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shew-bread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat, but for the priests alone?

5 ^e And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

6 ^f And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught; and there was a man whose right hand was withered.

7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath-day, that they might find an accusation against him.

8 ^g But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath-days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

10^b And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12^t And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

13^k And when it was day, he called unto him his disciples: and of them he chose twelve, whom also he named Apostles;

14^l Simon (whom he also named Peter,) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

15 Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelotes,

16 And Judas the brother of James, and Judas || Iscariot, which also was the traitor.

17^m And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the sea-coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

18 And they that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed.

19ⁿ And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went virtue out of him, and healed them all.

20^o And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God.

21^p Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.

22^q Blessed are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.

23^r Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24^s But wo unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation.

25^t Wo unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Wo unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

26^u Wo unto you when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27^v But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you;

28^w Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you.

29^x And unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and him that taketh away thy cloak forbid not to take thy coat also.

30^y Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again.

31^z And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

32^a For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for sinners also love those that love them.

33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do even the same.

34^b And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again

35^c But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.

36^d Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

37^e Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven:

38^f Give, and it shall be given unto you: good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you again.

39^g And he spake a parable unto them: Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40^h The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master.

41ⁱ And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

42^j Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite! cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.

43^k For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

44^l For every tree is known by his own fruit: for of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble-bush gather they grapes.

45^m A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46ⁿ And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

47^o Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like:

48 He is like a man which built a house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock; and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it; for it was founded upon a rock.

49 But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built a house upon the earth, against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great.

2^a And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4^b And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this:

5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.

6 Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself; for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter under my roof:

7 Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers: and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

11 ¶ And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.

14 ^b And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

16 ^c And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 ¶ ^d And the disciples of John shewed him of all these things.

19 ^e And John calling unto him two of his disciples, sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?

20 When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?

21 And in the same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight.

22 ¶ Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached.

23 And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

24 ¶ ^f And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

25 ^h But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in king's courts.

26 ⁱ But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.

27 ^k This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 ^l For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

29 ^m And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John.

30 ⁿ But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him.

31 ¶ ^o And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

33 ^p For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a devil.

34 The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners!

35 But Wisdom is justified of all her children.

36 ¶ ^q And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat.

37 And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment,

38 And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 ^r Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him; for she is a sinner.

40 And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.

41 There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty:

42 And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me, therefore, which of them will love him most?

43 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thy house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet.

46 My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 Wherefore, I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

48 ^s And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.

49 ^t And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also?

50 ^u And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Devout women minister unto Christ....4 The parable of the sower, 16 and of the candle....26 The legion of the devils cast out, &c.

AND it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him,

2 ^a And certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils,

3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others which ministered unto him of their substance.

4 ^b And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable:

5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way-side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6 And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit a hundred-fold. And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 ^c And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?

10 ^d And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

11 ^e Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

12 Those by the way-side are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13 ^f They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

14 ^g And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground are they, which, in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 ^h No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.

17 ⁱ For nothing is secret that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid that shall not be known and come abroad.

18 ^k Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.

19 ^l Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain, which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21 ^m And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 ⁿ Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish! Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 ^o And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid, wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this? for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

26 ^p And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.

28 ^q When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God most high? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 (For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.)

30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, || Legion: because many devils were entered into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

32 And there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain; and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them: and he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.

35 Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.

37 ^r Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

38 ^s Now the man out of whom the devils were departed besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying,

39 Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.

40 And it came to pass, that when Jesus was returned, the people gladly received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 ¹ And, behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he would come into his house:

42 For he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went, the people thronged him.

43 ¹ And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any,

44 Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stanch'd.

45 And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter, and they that were with him, said, Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.

47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and, falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace.

49 ¹ While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Master.

50 But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not: believe only, and she shall be made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

52 ^y And all wept, and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not; she is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise.

55 ^z And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.

56 And her parents were astonished; but he charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Christ sendeth out his apostles; 7 Herod is desirous to see him....12 Christ feedeth five thousand; 28 his transfiguration, &c.

^a THEN he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.

2 ^b And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

3 ^c And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece.

4 ^d And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 ^e And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet, for a testimony against them.

6 ^f And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

7 ^g Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some that John was risen from the dead;

8 ^h And of some, That Elias had appeared; and of others, That one of the old prophets was risen again.

9 And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? And he desired to see him.

10 ¹ And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Bethsaida.

11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

12 ¹ And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

14 (For they were about five thousand men.) And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 ¹ Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes; and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

18 ¹ And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 ^a They answering said, John the Baptist; but some say, Elias; and others say, That one of the old prophets is risen again.

20 ^o He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering said, The Christ of God.

21 And he straitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing;

22 ^p Saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.

23 ¹ And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24 ^r For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 ^s For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 ^t For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels.

27 ^u But I tell you of a truth, There be some standing here which shall not taste of death till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ¹ And it came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, he took Peter and John and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistening.

30 And, behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias.

31 Who appeared in glory, and spake of his † decease, which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.

32 ^y But Peter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him,
Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared || as they entered into the cloud.

35 ^z And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.

36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone. And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.

37 ¹ And it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son;
for he is mine only child:

39 And, lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again; and, bruising him, hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out;
and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation! how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

43 ¹ And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples,

44 ^b Let these sayings sink down into your ears:
for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 ^c But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

46 ^d Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Jesus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him,

48 ^e And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49 ^f And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us.

50 ^g And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.

51 ^h And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he † steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem,

52 And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him.

53 ⁱ And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.

54 ^k And when his disciples, James and John, saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?

55 But he turned and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of.

56 ¹ For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

57 ¹ And it came to pass, that, as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 ^a And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead; but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.

61 ^a And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee; but let me first go bid them farewell which are at home at my house.

62 And Jesus said unto him, No man having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

CHAPTER X.

1 Christ sendeth out seventy disciples....13 Woes against Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum....38 Mary commended, &c.

AFTER these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

2 ^b Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 ^c Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lamb among wolves.

4 ^d Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and salute no man by the way.

5 ^e And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say,
Peace be to this house.

6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.

7 ^f And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:

9 ^g And heal the sick that are therein; and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

10 ^h But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,

11 Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

12 ⁱ But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom than for that city.

13 ^j Wo unto thee, Chorazin! wo unto thee,
Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you.

15 ^k And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell.

20 ^p Notwithstanding, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.

21 [†] In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 ^a All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 [†] And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see:

24 For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

25 [†] And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 ^a And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.

28 ^a And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

29 ^p But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31 ^a And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 ^a And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again I will repay thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 [†] Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village; and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house.

39 ^o And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word.

40 ^a But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things:

42 But one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAPTER XI.

2 Christ teacheth to pray; 14 he casteth out a dumb devil; 27 he sheweth who are truly blessed; 29 he preacheth to the people, 37 and reproveth the Pharisees' outward shew of holiness, &c.

AND it came to pass, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 ^a And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name: Thy kingdom come: Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.

3 ^b Give us day by day our daily bread.

4 ^c And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us: And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

5 ^d And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

6 For a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him?

7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not; the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee.

8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

9 ^e And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

11 ^f If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion?

13 ^g If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

14 [†] And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake: and the people wondered.

15 ^h But some of them said, He casteth out devils through Beelzebub the chief of the devils.

16 ⁱ And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven.

17 ^j But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house, falleth.

18 If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub.

19 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges.

20 But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.

21 When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace :

22 But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

23 He that is not with me is against me : and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest ; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out.

25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there : and the last state of that man is worse than the first.

27 And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

29 And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation : they seek a sign ; and there shall no sign be given it but the sign of Jonas the prophet.

30 For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

31 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them : for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon ; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

32 The men of Nineveh shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it : for they repented at the preaching of Jonas ; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

33 No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

34 The light of the body is the eye : therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light ; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

35 Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

37 And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him : and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter ; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without make that which is within also?

41 But rather give alms of such things as ye have ; and, behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 But wo unto you, Pharisees ! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God : these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 Wo unto you, Pharisees ! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites ! for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

45 Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying, thou reproachest us also.

46 And he said, Wo unto you also, ye lawyers ! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Wo unto you ! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers : for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute ;

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation ;

51 From the blood of Abel, unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple : Verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

52 Wo unto you, lawyers ! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge : ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things ;

54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 To avoid hypocrisy.... 13 To beware of covetousness.... 41 The faithful and wise steward.

IN the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, inasmuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

2 For there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed ; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light ; and that which ye have spoken in the ear, in closets, shall be proclaimed upon the house-tops.

4 And I say unto you, my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom you shall fear : Fear him which, after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell ; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God ?

7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not, therefore : ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 ^r Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God :

9 But he that denieth me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 ^e And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him : but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

11 ^b And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say :

12 For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

13 [†] And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.

14 ⁱ And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you ?

15 ^k And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness : for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.

16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully :

17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits ?

18 And he said, This will I do : I will pull down my barns, and build greater ; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.

19 ^l And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years ; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.

20 ^m But God said unto him, Thou fool ! this night thy soul shall be required of thee : then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided ?

21 ⁿ So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

22 ^o And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat ; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

24 ^p Consider the ravens : for they neither sow nor reap ; which neither have store-house nor barn ; and God feedeth them. How much more are ye better than the fowls ?

25 ^q And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit ?

26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest ?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow ; they toil not, they spin not : and yet I say unto you, That Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grass, which is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith ?

29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind.

30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after : and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

31 ^r But rather seek ye the kingdom of God ; and all these things shall be added unto you.

32 ^s Fear not, [†] little flock ; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

33 ^t Sell that ye have, and give alms : provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 ^u Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning ;

36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding ; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 ^v Blessed are those servants whom the lord, when he cometh, shall find watching : verily I say unto you, That he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

38 ^w And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 ^x And this know, that if the good man of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 ^y Be ye therefore ready also : for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 ^z Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all ?

42 ^a And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season ?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing.

44 ^b Of a truth I say unto you, That he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming ; and shall begin to beat the men-servants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken ;

46 ^c The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 ^d And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes.

For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required : and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

49 ^e [†] I am come to send fire on the earth ; and what will I if it be already kindled ?

50 ^f But I have a baptism to be baptized with ; and how am I [†] straitened till it be accomplished !

51 ^g Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth ? I tell you, Nay ; but rather division :

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 ^h The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father ; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother ; the mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

54 ⁱ And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower : and so it is.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Christ preacheth repentance by the calamity upon the Galileans and others....6 The fruitless fig-tree cursed.

24 The strait gate.

THERE were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 ^a Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were [†] sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

5 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ^b He spake also this parable: A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon; and found none.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 ¹ And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath:

11 And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 ^c And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath-day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath-day.

15 ^d The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite! doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day?

17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ^e Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?

19 It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.

20 ^f And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

22 ^g And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem.

23 ^h Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 ⁱ Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 ^j When once the Master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 ^k But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.

28 ^l There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and ye yourselves thrust out.

29 ^m And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.

30 And, behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 ⁿ The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence; for Herod will kill thee.

32 ^o And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.

33 Nevertheless I must walk to-day, and to-morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.

34 ^p O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!

35 ^q Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

2 Christ healeth the dropsy on the sabbath-day; 7 teacheth humility; 12 to feed the poor....16 The parable of the great supper....25 What is required to be Christ's disciples.

AND it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath-day, that they watched him.

2 And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.

3 ^a And Jesus answering, spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-day?

28 And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and entreated him.

29 And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Of the unjust steward.... 14 The hypocrisy of the covetous Pharisees reproved, &c.

AND he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do, for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship? I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?

6 And he said, A hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred measures of wheat.

And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write four-score.

8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light.

9 And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?

12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own?

13 No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other: or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.

15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.

16 The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.

17 And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.

18 Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19 There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day:

20 And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores,

21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover, the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried;

23 And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom:

24 And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed; so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house;

28 For I have five brethren: that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

1 To avoid occasions of offence, 3 to forgive one another.

5 The power of faith, &c.

THEN said he unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will come : but wo unto him through whom they come !

2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 Take heed to yourselves : If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him ; and if he repent, forgive him.

4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent ; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye might say unto this sycamine-tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea ; and it should obey you.

7 But which of you, having a servant plowing, or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat ?

8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken ; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink ?

9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him ? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants ; we have done that which was our duty to do.

11 And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off :

13 And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.

15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God :

16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks : and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed ? but where are the nine ?

18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

19 And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way : thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 And when he was demanded of the Pharisees when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation :

21 Neither shall they say, Lo here ! or, Lo there ! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, The days will come when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 And they shall say to you, See here ; or, See there : go not after them, nor follow them.

24 For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven ; so shall also the Son of man be in his day.

25 But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.

26 And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.

27 They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came and destroyed them all.

28 Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot ; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded ;

29 But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.

30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed.

31 In that day, he which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away : and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

32 Remember Lot's wife.

33 Whosoev shall seek to save his life shall lose it ; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.

34 I tell you, In that night there shall be two men in one bed ; the one shall be taken, the other shall be left.

35 Two women shall be grinding together ; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

36 Two men shall be in the field ; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

37 And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord ? And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 The importunate widow....9 The Pharisee and publican. 15 Children brought to Christ....28 All to be left for the gospel's sake.

AND he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint :

2 Saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man :

3 And there was a widow in that city ; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while : but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man :

5 Yet, because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

7 And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them ?

8 I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth ?

9 And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others :

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray ; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11 The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself : God, I thank thee that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

13 And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 ¶ And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

17 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, shall in no wise enter therein.

18 ¶ And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is, God.

20 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.

22 Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.

28 ¶ Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.

29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake,

30 Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 ¶ Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.

32 For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:

33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again.

34 And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

35 ¶ And it came to pass, that as he was coming nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way-side, begging:

36 And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they told him that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by.

38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me.

39 And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou son of David, have mercy on me.

40 And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.

43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 Of Zaccheus the publican....13 The ten pieces of money.
41 Christ weepeth over Jerusalem, &c.

AND Jesus entered and passed through Jericho. 2 And, behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore-tree to see him; for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down; for to-day I must abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zaccheus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor: and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.

9 And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also is the son of Abraham.

10 For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 ¶ And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

12 He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 ^f And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant : because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin :

21 For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man : thou takest up that thou laydest not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 ^g And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow :

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury ?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

26 ^h For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath shall be given ; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ⁱ And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem.

29 ^k And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, Go ye into the village over against you : in the which, at your entering, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat : loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him ? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt ?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 ^l And they brought him to Jesus : and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works that they had seen ;

38 ^m Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord ; peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 ⁿ And he answered and said unto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.

41 ^o And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept over it,

42 ^p Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace ! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

43 ^q For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 ^r And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee ; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another ; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

45 ^s And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought ;

46 ^t Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer : but ye have made it a den of thieves.

47 ^u And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes, and the chief of the people, sought to destroy him ;

48 And could not find what they might do : for all the people [†] were very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Christ silenceth those who questioned his authority....9 The parable of the vineyard....27 The Sadducees confuted, &c.

^a AND it came to pass that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him, with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, By what authority doest thou these things ? or who is he that gave thee this authority ?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing ; and answer me :

4 ^b The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men ?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven ; he will say, Why then believed ye him not ?

6 But and if we say, Of men ; all the people will stone us : for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, That they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 ^c Then began he to speak to the people this parable ; A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard : but the husbandmen, beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant : and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent a third : and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do ? I will send my beloved son : it may be they will reverence him, when they see him.

14 ^d But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir : come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 ^e So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them ?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid

18 ^g Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken ; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 ^h And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him ; and they feared the people : for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 ⁱ And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor.

21 ^j And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly :

22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Cesar, or no ?

23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me ?

24 Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it ? They answered and said, Cesar's.

25 ^k And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cesar's, and unto God the things which be God's.

26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people : and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 ^l Then came to him certain of the Sadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection ; and they asked him,

28 ^m Saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 There were therefore seven brethren : and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childless.

31 And the third took her ; and in like manner the seven also : and they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she ? for seven had her to wife.

34 And Jesus answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage :

35 But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage :

36 ⁿ Neither can they die any more : for they are equal unto the angels ; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.

37 ^o Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living : for all live unto him.

39 Then certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that they durst not ask him any question at all.

41 ^p And he said unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son ?

42 ^q And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord : how is he then his son ?

45 ^r Then in the audience of all the people, he said unto his disciples,

46 ^s Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts ;

47 ^t Which devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers : the same shall receive greater damnation.

CHAPTER XXI

1 Christ commendeth the poor widow....5 The destruction of the temple and city foretold, &c.

^a AND he looked up, and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.

2 And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites.

3 ^b And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast in more than they all :

4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God : but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

5 ^c And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, he said,

6 ^d As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another that shall not be thrown down.

7 ^e And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be ? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass ?

8 ^f And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived : for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ ; and the time draweth near : go ye not therefore after them.

9 ^g But when ye shall hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified : for these things must first come to pass ; but the end is not by and by.

10 ^h Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom :

11 ⁱ And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences ; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven.

12 ^j But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake.

13 And it shall turn to you for a testimony.

14 ^k Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer :

15 ^l For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.

16 ^m And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends ; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

17 ⁿ And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.

18 ^o But there shall not a hair of your head perish.

19 In your patience possess ye your souls.

20 ^p And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

21 Then let them which are in Judea flee to the mountains ; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out ; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto

22 ^a For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

23 ^r But wo unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24 ^s And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 ^t And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

27 ^u And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

28 ^v And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh.

29 ^w And he spake to them a parable, Behold, the fig-tree, and all the trees;

30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away till all be fulfilled.

33 ^x Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away.

34 ^y And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

35 ^z For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 ^a Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

37 ^b And in the day-time he was teaching in the temple: and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives.

38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The Jews conspire against Christ....3 Judas covenanteth to betray him, &c.

NOW the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover.

2 ^b And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

3 ^c Then entered Satan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.

5 ^d And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money.

6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

7 ^e Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.

9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house where he entereth in.

11 And ye shall say unto the good man of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

12 And he shall shew you a large upper room, furnished: there make ready.

13 And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 ^f And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15 And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer:

16 ^g For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And he took the || cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves:

18 ^h For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

19 ⁱ And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 ^j But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.

22 ^k And truly the Son of man goeth as it was determined: but wo unto that man by whom he is betrayed!

23 ^l And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 ^m And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.

25 And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors.

26 ⁿ But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.

27 ^o For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.

28 ^p Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations:

29 ^q And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;

30 ^r That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

31 ^s And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat:

32 ^t But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison and to death.

34 ^u And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 ^v And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath

CHAPTER XXIII.

2 Jesus is accused before Pilate, 7 and sent to Herod : 11 he is mocked, and sent back to Pilate : 25 he is delivered to be crucified, &c.

^a And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

2 ^b And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cesar, saying that he himself is Christ a King.

3 ^c And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews ? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.

4 ^d Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 ^e And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time.

8 ¹ And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad : for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him : and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words ; but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 ^a And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.

12 ¹ And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together : for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 ¹ And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,

14 Said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me as one that perverteth the people ; and behold, I having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man, touching those things whereof ye accuse him :

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him: and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 ^k I will therefore chastise him, and release him.
17 ^l (For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.)

18 ^m And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)

20 Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.

22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 ⁿ And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will.

26 ^o And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

27 And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turning unto them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 ^p For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 ^q Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

31 ^r For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 ^s And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 ^t And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors; one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 ^u Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 ^v And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, 37 And saying, If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself.

38 ^w And a superscription also was written over him, in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ^x And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

42 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 ^y And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and the vail of the temple was rent in the midst.

46 ^z And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit; and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

47 ^a Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 ^b And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50 ^c And, behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellor; and he was a good man, and a just:

51 ^d (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them:) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews; who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 ^e And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in the sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 ^f And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 ^g And the women also, which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 ^h And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath-day, according to the commandment.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Christ's resurrection declared to the women: 9 they report it to others....13 Christ himself appeareth: 51 his ascension.

^a NOW upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 ^b And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 ^c And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments:

5 And, as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

6 ^d He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 ^e And they remembered his words,

9 ^f And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 ^g It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11^h And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12ⁱ Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13^k And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15^l And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16^m But their eyes were holden that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18ⁿ And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19^o And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21^p But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel: and besides all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done.

22^q Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre:

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, That they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

24 And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said; but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken!

26^r Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27^s And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further.

29^t But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us; for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent: And he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34^u Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

36^x And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit.

38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

39^y Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41^z And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of a honey-comb.

43 And he took it, and did eat before them.

44^a And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.

45^b Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures.

46^c And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47^d And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

48^e And ye are witnesses of these things.

49^f And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.

50^g Then he led them out as far as to Bethany; and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them.

51^h And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy:

53 And were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

¶ The GOSPEL according to St. JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

1 The divinity of Christ....14 The incarnation of the Word.
15 John's testimony of Christ....39 The calling of Andrew,
Peter, &c.

IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

2^b The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.

4 In him was life; and the life was the light of men.

5^c And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

6^d There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7^e The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe.

8 He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.

Acts 1, 5.

9 That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:

13 Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only-begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

15 John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me.

16 And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 No man hath seen God at any time; the only-begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?

23 He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.

24 And they which were sent were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet?

26 John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not;

27 He it is, who coming after me, is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara, beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world!

30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

35 Again, the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples;

36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.

38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.

40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.

41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, The Christ.

42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is, by interpretation, A stone.

43 The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.

46 And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.

47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile!

48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel.

50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these.

51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ turneth water into wine; 12 he departeth into Capernaum, &c.

AND the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there:

2 And both Jesus was called and his disciples to the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.

4 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

6 And there were set there six water-pots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

9^d When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew,) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10^e And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11^f This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12^g After this he went down to Capernaum, he and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and they continued there not many days.

13^h And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem,

14ⁱ And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;

16^j And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchandise.

17^k And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thy house hath eaten me up.

18^l Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19^m Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21ⁿ But he spake of the temple of his body.

22^o When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them, and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23^p Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast-day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24^q But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men;

25^r And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ teacheth Nicodemus the necessity of regeneration.

18 Condemnation for unbelief, &c.

THERE was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:

2^b The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God; for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

3^c Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

5^d Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6^e That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

8^f The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9^g Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11^h Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you of heavenly things?

13ⁱ And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man, which is in heaven.

14^j And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up;

15^k That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

16^l For God so loved the world, that he gave his only-begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17^m For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

18ⁿ He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only-begotten Son of God.

19^o And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

20^p For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved:

21^q But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest that they are wrought in God.

22^r After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judea; and there he tarried with them, and baptized.

23^s And John also was baptizing in Enon, near to Salim, because there was much water there; and they came, and were baptized:

24^t For John was not yet cast into prison.

25^u Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews, about purifying.

26^v And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27^w John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.

28^x Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29^y He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice. This my joy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31^z He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all.

32 ° And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony.

33 ° He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true.

34 ° For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him.

35 ° The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand.

36 ° He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Christ talketh with a woman of Samaria, and revealeth himself unto her; 27 his disciples marvel....31 Christ's zeal for God's glory.

2 WHEN therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John,

2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,)

3 He left Judca, and departed again into Galilee.

4 And he must needs go through Samaria.

5 ° Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

6 Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well; and it was about the sixth hour.

7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8 (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.)

9 ° Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? (for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans.)

10 ° Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

11 ° The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?

13 ° Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:

14 ° But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15 The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.

19 ° The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 ° Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.

22 ° Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship; for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 ° God is a spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 ° The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 ° Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.

27 ° And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 ° The woman then left her water-pot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men,

29 ° Come, see a man which told me all things that ever I did: Is not this the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 ¶ In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 ° But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.

33 Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat?

34 ° Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

35 ° Say not ye, There are yet || four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest.

36 ° And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.

37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 ¶ * And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

40 So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days.

41 And many more believed because of his own word;

42 ° And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying; for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

43 ¶ Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee.

44 ° For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 ° Then, when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

46 ° So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48 ° Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

49 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Jesus, on the sabbath-day, cureth an impotent man at the pool of Bethesda; 10 the Jews persecute him for it; 17 he justifieth himself, and asserteth his power, &c.

2 ° Now there is at Jerusalem, by the sheep-market, a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first, after the troubling of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

f 2 Kings 2, 24. & 25, 16.

13 ° And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

g Mat. 12, 45.
ch. 6, 11.

14 ° Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole.

h verse 10

16 ° And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath-day.

17 ° But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 ° Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God.

19 ° Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.

20 ° For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 ° For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 ° For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

23 ° That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son, honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 ° Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

25 ° Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself, so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 ° And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

28 ° Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,

29 And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 ° I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 ° If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

32 ° There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

33 ° Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 ° He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 ° But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

39 ° I search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.

40 ° And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand with five loaves and two fishes; 26 the multitude flocking unto him, he reproveth their carnal views, &c.

AFTER these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 ¶ And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 ¶ And the ¶ passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 ¶ When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,

9 ¶ There is a lad here, which hath five barley-loaves and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 ¶ And Jesus took the loaves: and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley-loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

14 ¶ Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that Prophet that should come into the world.

15 ¶ When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 ¶ And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,

17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose, by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty ¶ furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone;

23 ¶ (Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias, nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks;)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 ¶ Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

29 ¶ Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, That ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30 ¶ They said therefore unto him, What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 ¶ Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 ¶ Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 ¶ For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 ¶ Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 ¶ And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36 ¶ But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 ¶ All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38 ¶ For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 ¶ And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, That of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 ¶ And this is the will of him that sent me, That every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44^a No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45^b It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father cometh unto me.

46^c Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God; he hath seen the Father.

47^d Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48^e I am that bread of life.

49^f Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51^g I am the living bread which came down from heaven. If any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52^h The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53ⁱ Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54^j Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

57^l As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father; so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58^m This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60ⁿ Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is a hard saying; who can hear it?

61 When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62^o What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

63^p It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.

64^q But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65^r And he said, Therefore said I unto you, That no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66^s From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68^t Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.

69^u And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.

70^v Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?

71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Jesus, exhorted by his unbelieving kinsmen to shew himself, 10 goeth secretly to the feast; 14 he teacheth in the temple. 40 Divers opinions concerning Christ....45 The Pharisees are angry at their officers, &c.

AFTER these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.

2^b Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.

3^c His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.

4^d For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.

5^e For neither did his brethren believe in him.

6^f Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is always ready.

7^g The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8^h Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10ⁱ But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11^j Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12^k And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.

13^l Howbeit no man spake openly of him, for fear of the Jews.

14^m Now about the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?

16ⁿ Jesus answered them, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17^o If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

18^p He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

19^q Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?

20^r The people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22^s Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision; (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers;) and ye on the sabbath-day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the sabbath-day receive circumcision, that the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath-day?

24^t Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25^u Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

26 But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27^x Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28^y Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

29^z But I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30¹ Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31^b And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32¹ The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33^a Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34^e Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

37^f In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38^g He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39^h (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)

40¹ Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet.

41^k Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?

42 Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?

43^m So there was a division among the people because of him:

44^a And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45¹ Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?

48^o Have any of the rulers, or of the Pharisees believed on him?

49 But this people, who knoweth not the law, are cursed.

50^p Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,)

51^a Doth our law judge any man before it hear him, and know what he doeth?

52^r They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look; for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 And every man went unto his own house.

1 Christ delivereth a woman taken in adultery; 21 he preacheth himself the light of the world, and justifieth his doctrine.

JESUS went unto the mount of Olives.

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5^a Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they said tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7^b So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9^c And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11^d She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

12¹ Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13^f The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go:

15^g Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17^h It is also written in your law, That the testimony of two men is true.

18ⁱ I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19^k Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20¹ These words spake Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him; for his hour was not yet come.

21^m Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come.

22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.

23^a And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath: I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore unto you, That ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 ° I have many things to say and to judge of you : but he that sent me is true ; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 ° Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself ; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29 ° And he that sent me is with me ; the Father hath not left me alone ; for I do always those things that please him.

30 As he spake these words, many believed on him.

31 ¶ Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed :

32 ° And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33 ¶ They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man : how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free ?

34 ° Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin.

35 ° And the servant abideth not in the house for ever : but the Son abideth ever.

36 If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 ° I know that ye are Abraham's seed : but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 ° I speak that which I have seen with my Father ; and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 ° They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40 ° But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God : this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication ; we have one Father, even God.

42 Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me : for I proceeded forth and came from God ; neither came I of myself, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not understand my speech ? even because ye cannot hear my word.

44 ° Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own : for he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.

46 Which of you convinceth me of sin ? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me ?

47 ° He that is of God heareth God's words ; ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

48 ¶ Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil ?

49 Jesus answered, I have not a devil : but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 ° And I seek not mine own glory : there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

51 ° Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

52 ° Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets ; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.

53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead ? and the prophets are dead : whom makest thou thyself ?

54 ° Jesus answered, If I honour myself, mine honour is nothing : it is my Father that honoureth me ; of whom ye say, That he is your God :

55 ° Yet ye have not known him : but I know him : and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you : but I know him, and keep his saying.

56 ° Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day : and he saw it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham ?

58 ° Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

59 ° Then took they up stones to cast at him : but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

CHAPTER IX.

1 A man that was born blind is restored to sight ; 13 he is brought to the Pharisees ; 34 they excommunicate him, 35 Christ receiveth him, &c.

AND as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 ° And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind ?

3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents ; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 ° I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day : the night cometh, when no man can work.

5 ° As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,

7 And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is, by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 ¶ The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged ?

9 Some said, This is he : others said, He is like him : but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened ?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash : and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he ? He said, I know not.

13 ¶ They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the sabbath-day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 ° Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath-day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them.

17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.

18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? How then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.

22 These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.

26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would you hear it again? will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples.

29 We know that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind.

33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.

34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out: and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him?

37 And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.

39 Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this world; that they which see not might see, and that they which see might be made blind.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also?

41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see: therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAPTER X.

1 Christ is the door, and the good shepherd: 25 he proveth by his works that he is Christ, and asserteth his unity with the Father.

VERILY, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

8 All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.

10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

11 I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

12 But he that is a hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep.

14 I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine.

15 As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep.

16 And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

17 Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life that I might take it again.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.

19 There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil. Can a devil open the eyes of the blind?

22 And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch.

24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly.

25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not : the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.

26^m But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27ⁿ My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me :

28^o And I give unto them eternal life ; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

29^p My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all ; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.

30^q I and my Father are one.

31^r Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him.

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father ; for which of those works do ye stone me ?

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not ; but for blasphemy ; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God.

34^s Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods ?

35^t If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken ;

36^u Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest ; because I said, I am the Son of God ?

37 If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38^v But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works ; that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39^w Therefore they sought again to take him : but he escaped out of their hand ;

40^y And went away again beyond Jordan, into the place where John at first baptized ; and there he abode.

41 And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle : but all things that John spake of this man were true.

42 And many believed on him there.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The sickness and death of Lazarus ; Jesus raiseth him to life... 47 The Pharisees hold a council against Christ ; Caiaphas prophesieth.

NOW a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha.

2^a (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

4^b When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judea again.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee ; and goest thou thither again ?

9^c Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day ? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10^d But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he : and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth ; but I go that I may awake him out of sleep.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

13 Howbeit Jesus spake of his death ; but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.

14^e Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead :

15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe ; nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already.

18 Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off.

19 And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary to comfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him : but Mary sat still in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22^f But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24^g Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25^h Jesus saith unto her, I am the resurrection and the life ; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live :

26ⁱ And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this ?

27^k She saith unto him, Yea, Lord : I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.

31^l The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

32^m Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled ;

34 And said, Where have ye laid him ? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him !

37ⁿ And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died ?

38 Jesus therefore, again groaning in himself, cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh : for he hath been dead four days.

40 ° Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God ?

41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

42 And I knew that thou hearest me always : but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth !

44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes ; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 ° Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

47 ¶ Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we ? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him ; and the Romans shall come, and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all,

50 ° Nor consider that it is expedient for us that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himself : but, being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation ;

52 ° And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews ; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand : and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves.

56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast ?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Jesus excuseth Mary anointing his feet....10 The chief priests consult to kill Lazarus....12 Christ rideth into Jerusalem : 23 he foretelleth his death.

THEN Jesus, six days before the passover, came to Bethany, where Lazarus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.

2 ° There they made him a supper ; and Martha served : but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

3 ° Then took Mary a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair : and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor ?

6 ° This he said, not that he cared for the poor ; but because he was a thief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone : against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

3 ° For the poor always ye have with you ; but me ye have not always.

9 ¶ Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there : and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death ;

11 Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away and believed on Jesus.

12 ¶ On the next day much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 ° Took branches of palm-trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna ! Blessed is the King of Israel, that cometh in the name of the Lord !

14 And Jesus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon ; as it is written,

15 ° Fear not, daughter of Sion : behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.

16 These things understood not his disciples at the first : but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.

18 For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing ? behold, the world is gone after him.

20 ¶ And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast :

21 The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus.

22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew : and again Andrew and Philip told Jesus.

23 ¶ And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone ; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 ° He that loveth his life shall lose it ; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 ¶ If any man serve me, let him follow me ; and where I am, there shall also my servant be : if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.

27 ° Now is my soul troubled : and what shall I say ? Father, save me from this hour : but for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The people therefore that stood by and heard it, said that it thundered : others said, An angel spake to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 ^p Now is the judgment of this world : now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 ^o And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.

33 This he said, signifying what death he should die.

34 ^p The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever : and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up ? who is this Son of man ?

35 ^a Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you : for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them.

37 ^t But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him :

38 ^r That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report ? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed ?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again,

40 ^s He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart ; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

41 ^t These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 ^u Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him ; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue :

43 ^v For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 ^y Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

46 ^z I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.

47 ^a And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not : for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 ^b He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him : the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

49 ^c For I have not spoken of myself : but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting : whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Jesus washeth his disciples' feet, 14 and exhorteth them to humility and charity.

NOW before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.

2 ^b And supper being ended, (the devil having [†] now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him,)

3 ^c Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God ;

4 ^d He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments ; and took a towel, and girded himself :

5 After that, he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash his disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 ^e Then cometh he to Simon Peter : and Peter saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet ?

7 ^f Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now ; but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 ^g Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.

10 ^h Jesus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit : and ye are clean, but not all.

11 ⁱ For he knew who should betray him : therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you ?

13 ^k Ye call me Master, and Lord : and ye say well ; for so I am.

14 ^l If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet ; ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

15 For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.

16 ^m Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord ; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him.

17 ⁿ If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 ^t I speak not of you all ; I know whom I have chosen : but that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me.

19 Now I tell you before it come, that when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.

20 ^p Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me ; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 ^q When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, That one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 ^r Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then, lying on Jesus' breast, saith unto him, Lord, who is it ?

26 Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give a sop when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

27 ^s And after the sop, Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 ^t For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast ; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then, having received the sop, went immediately out : and it was night.

31 ¹ Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 ^{*} If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him.

33 ^v Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and, as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

34 ² A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another: as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 ^a By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 ¹ Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 ^o Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.

38 ^d Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples: 5 professeth himself the way, the truth, and the life, 9 and that he is one with the Father: 27 he leaveth his peace with them.

LET not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 ^b In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

3 ^o And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 ¹ Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 ^d Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father but by me.

7 ^e If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 ¹ Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 ^f Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? He that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father, that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake.

12 ^g Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

13 ^h And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 ⁱ If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 ^k And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever:

17 ¹ Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18 ^m I will not leave you || comfortless: I will come to you.

19 ⁿ Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also.

20 ^o At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 ^p He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father; and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

22 Judas saith unto him (not Iscariot,) Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

23 ^a Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 ^r He that loveth me not, keepeth not my sayings: and the word which you hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 ^s But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 ¹ Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28 ^u Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: for my Father is greater than I.

29 ^v And now I have told you before it come to pass; that when it is come to pass, ye might believe.

30 ^v Hereafter I will not talk much with you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.

31 ^z But that the world may know that I love the Father; and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

CHAPTER XV.

The union between Christ and his church, under the parable of a vine, &c.

I AM the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

2 ^b Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3 ^c Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.

4 ^d Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 ^e I am the vine, ye are the branches: he that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

6 ^f If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

7 ^g If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

8 ^h Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you : continue ye in my love.

10 If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love ; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

11 ⁱ These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

12 ^k This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

14 ^m Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

15 ⁿ Henceforth I call you not servants ; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth : but I have called you friends ; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

16 ^o Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that you should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain ; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

17 ^p These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18 ^q If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 ^r If ye were of the world, the world would love his own : but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 ^s Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you : if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also.

21 ^t But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.

22 ^u If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin : but now they have no cloak for their sin.

23 ^x He that hateth me hateth my Father also.

24 ^y If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin : but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

25 ^z But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause.

26 ^a But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me :

27 ^b And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Christ warneth his disciples of their sufferings : 29 they profess their faith in him.

^a THESE things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.

2 ^b They shall put you out of the synagogues : yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.

3 ^c And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 ^d But these things have I told you, that, when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

5 ^e But now I go my way to him that sent me ; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou ?

6 ^f But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 ^g Nevertheless I tell you the truth : It is expedient for you that I go away : for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you ; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 ^h And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment :

9 Of sin, because they believe not on me ;

10 ⁱ Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more ;

11 ^k Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged.

12 ^l I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.

13 ^m Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth : for he shall not speak of himself ; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak : and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorify me : for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

15 ⁿ All things that the Father hath are mine : therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

16 ^o A little while, and ye shall not see me : and again, A little while, and ye shall see me ; because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while and ye shall not see me : and again, A little while, and ye shall see me : and, Because I go to the Father ?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while ? We cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me : and again, A little while, and ye shall see me ?

20 ^p Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice : and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come : but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 ^q And ye now therefore have sorrow : but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

23 ^r And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

24 ^s Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name : ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

25 ^t These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs : but the time cometh when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 ^u At that day ye shall ask in my name : and I say not unto you that I will pray the Father for you :

27 ^x For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.

28 ^y I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world : again, I leave the world, and go to the Father

31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe?

32 ^a Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33 ^b These things have I spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

CHAPTER XVII.

1 Christ prayeth to his Father to glorify him, 6 to preserve his apostles in unity of faith, &c.

^a THESE words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come: glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee:

2 ^b As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him.

3 ^c And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

4 ^d I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

5 ^e And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

6 ^f I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things, whatsoever thou hast given me, are of thee:

8 ^g For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine.

10 ^h And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

11 ⁱ And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.

12 ^k While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition: that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 ^l And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 ^m I have given them thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

15 ⁿ I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.

16 ^o They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17 ^p Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth.

18 ^q As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.

19 ^r And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

20 ^s Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word:

21 ^t That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 ^u And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:

23 ^v I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

24 ^w Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 ^x And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it; that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

1 Judas betrayeth Jesus; 6 the band and officers at Christ's word fall to the ground, &c.

^a WHEN Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden into the which he entered, and his disciples.

2 ^b And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place; for Jesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 ^c Judas then having received a band of men, and officers, from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

4 Jesus therefore knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:

9 ^d That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none.

10 ^e Then Simon Peter, having a sword, drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 ^f Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him, 13 ^g And led him away to Annas first; for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year.

14 ^h Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ⁱ And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.

40 ^y Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 Jesus is scourged and crowned with thorns.... 11 Pilate delivereth him to be crucified, &c.

^a THEN Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.

2 ^b And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,

3 And said, Hail, King of the Jews! And they smote him with their hands.

4 ^c Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

5 Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man!

6 ^d When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him; for I find no fault in him.

7 ^e The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

8 ^f When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

9 ^f And went again into the judgment-hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.

10 ^g Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

11 ^h Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cesar.

13 ⁱ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment-seat, in a place that is called The Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha.

14 And it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!

15 ^j But they cried out, Away with him, away with him; crucify him! Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cesar.

16 ^k Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.

17 ^l And he, bearing his cross, went forth into a place, called The place of a scull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha;

18 Where they crucified him, and two others with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.

22 Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.

23 ¹ Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout:

24 ⁿ They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

25 Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26 ⁿ When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son!

27 ^p Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

28 ¹ After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

29 ^r Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

30 ^a When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

31 ¹ The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath-day, (for that sabbath-day was a high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32 Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs:

34 ⁿ But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came thereout blood and water.

35 And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true; and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

36 ^a For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.

37 ^r And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 ¹ And after this, Joseph of Arimathea, (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews) besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus.

39 ^a And there came also Nicodemus, (which at the first came to Jesus by night,) and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight.

40 Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 ^b Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.

42 There laid they Jesus therefore, because of the Jews' preparation-day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Mary cometh to the sepulchre; 11 she seeth two angels; Jesus himself appeareth to her.

^a THE first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

2 ^b Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3 ^c Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he, stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.

6 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie;

7 ^d And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

8 Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 ¹ But Mary ¹ stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down and looked into the sepulchre,

12 And seeth two angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

13 ^r And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 ^a And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.

15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni; which is to say, Master.

17 ^b Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and to my God and your God.

18 Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

19 ¹ Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus, and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

20 ^k And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord.

21 ¹ Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

22 ^m And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost.

24¹ But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25^o The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26¹ And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.

27 Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing.

28 And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.

29^a Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30¹ And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book:

31^s But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Christ appeareth to his disciples; 15 his charge to Peter, and foretelleth his death.

AFTER these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias: and on this wise shewed he himself.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing.

4^b But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7^e Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship, (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes.

9 As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.

11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13^d Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples after that he was risen from the dead.

15¹ So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

16^e He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17^f He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18^g Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdest thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19^h This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20ⁱ Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following, which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 Peter seeing him, saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do?

22^k Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24^l This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true.

25^m And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

¶ The ACTS of the Apostles.

CHAPTER I.

1 A repetition of part of Christ's history after his passion; 9 his ascension... 15 Peter's exhortation to ordain one in place of Judas.

THE former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:

3^c To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

manded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me :

5^e For John truly baptized with water ; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.

6^f When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel ?

7^g And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons which the Father hath put in his own power.

8^h But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you : and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9ⁱ And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up ; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10^j And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven, as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel ;

11^k Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven ? This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

12^l Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem a sabbath-day's journey.

13^m And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James.

14ⁿ These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

15^o And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of the names together were about a hundred and twenty,)

16^p Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus.

17^q For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

18^r Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity ; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem ; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

20^s For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein : and, His † bishoprick let another take.

21^t Wherefore of these men which have accompanied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,

22 Beginning from the baptism of John unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24^x And they prayed and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,

25^y That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26^z And they gave forth their lots : and the lot fell upon Matthias ; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER II.

1 The apostles, filled with the Holy Ghost, speak divers languages....14 Peter's sermon.

AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3^b And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them :

4^c And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

6^d Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

7^e And they were all amazed, and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak, Galileans ?

8 And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born ?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judea, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Lybia about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes, 11^f Cretes and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.

12 And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this ?

13 Others mocking said, These men are full of new wine.

14^g But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words :

15^h For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day

16ⁱ But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel :

17 And it shall come to pass in the last days, (saith God,) I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh : and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams :

18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out, in those days, of my Spirit ; and they shall prophesy :

19 And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath ; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke :

20^k The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come :

21^l And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22^m Ye men of Israel, hear these words ; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles, wonders, and signs, which God did, by him, in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know :

23^a Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24^o Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25^p For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29^q Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30^r Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne;

31^s He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32^t This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.

33^u Therefore, being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34^v For David is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37^w Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

38^x Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

39^y For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.

41^z Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

42^a And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43^b And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44^c And all that believed were together, and had all things common;

45^d And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46^e And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart,

47^f Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

CHAPTER III.

Peter preacheth to the people that came to see a lame man restored to his feet, &c.

NOW Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour.

2 And a certain man, lame from his mother's womb, was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple;

3 Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked an alms.

4 And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk.

7 And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up; and immediately his feet and ancle-bones received strength.

8^b And he leaping up, stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9^c And all the people saw him walking and praising God:

10 And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11^d And, as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them, in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

12^e And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13^f The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go.

14^g But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you;

15^h And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses.

16ⁱ And his name, through faith in his name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know; yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17^j And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18^k But those things, which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19^l Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord; 20^m And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you:

21ⁿ Whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets, since the world began.

22 ^p For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things, whatsoever he shall say unto you.

23 And it shall come to pass, that every soul which will not hear that Prophet shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 Yea, and all the prophets from Samuel, and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days.

25 ^a Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 ^r Unto you first, God having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Peter and John are imprisoned.... 8 Peter's boldness.... 18 The apostles are threatened.

^a AND as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees, came upon them,

2 ^b Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now even-tide.

4 ^c Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 ¹ And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 ^a And Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?

8 ¹ ^c Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 ^f Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 ^s This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 ^a Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.

13 ¹ Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

14 ^a And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 ¹ But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves,

16 ^m Saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it.

17 ^u But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

19 ^o But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 ^p For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.

21 ^a So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.

22 ^r For the man was above forty years old on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 ¹ And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is;

25 ¹ Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together, against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 ^u For of a truth, against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, were gathered together, 28 ^x For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.

29 ^y And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word,

30 ^a By stretching forth thy hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus.

31 ¹ And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 ^b And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

33 ^c And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.

34 ^d Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses, sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

36 And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus, 37 Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

2^a And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3^b But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thy heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? Why hast thou conceived this thing in thy heart? Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5^c And Ananias hearing these words, fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9^d Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11^e And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

12^f And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13^g And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

14^h And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women;)

15 Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17ⁱ Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with indignation,

18 And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19^k But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison-doors, and brought them forth, and said,

20^l Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

21^m And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23ⁿ Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25^o Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26^p Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28^q Saying, Did not we straitly command you that you should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.

29^r Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

30^s The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31^t Him hath God exalted with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.

32^u And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33^v When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

34^w Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these days rose up Theudas, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Jadas of Galilee, in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38^y And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39^z But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

40^{aa} And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41^{ab} And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42^{ac} And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach, and preach Jesus Christ.

1 The apostles' care for the poor, and preaching of the word.
5 Seven deacons chosen.

AND in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2^b Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3^c Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

Ps. 105, 21.

4 But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 ¹ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch:

6 ^o Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 ^r And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 ^s And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 ^t Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called The synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10 ^u And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place and the law:

14 ^v For we have heard him say, That this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking steadfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Stephen being called, answereth to his accusation; 54 they stone him to death.

THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; the God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 ^a And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 ^b And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 ^c And God spake on this wise, That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.

8 ^d And he gave him the covenant of circumcision. And so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 ^e And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt; but God was with him,

10 ^f And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.

11 ^g Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 ^h But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 ⁱ And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.

14 ^k Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 ^l So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers,

16 ^m And were carried over into Sychem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sychem.

17 ⁿ But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, 18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil-entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 ^o In which time Moses was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 ^p And when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds.

23 And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24 ^q And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:

25 For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them; but they understood not.

26 ^r And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 ^s Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.

30 ^t And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an angel of the Lord, in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, 32 ^u Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet; for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

35 ^v This Moses, whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer, by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36^x He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red Sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

37¹ This is that Moses which said unto the children of Israel, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear.

38^z This is he that was in the church in the wilderness, with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers; who received the lively oracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt,

40^a Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42^b Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven: as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44^c Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45^d Which also our fathers that came after brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David;

46^e Who found favour before God, and desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47^f But Solomon built him a house.

48^g Howbeit, the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet,

49^h Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51ⁱ Ye stiff-necked, and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52^k Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the Just One, of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53^l Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

54^m When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55ⁿ But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord,

58^o And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

59^p And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAPTER VIII.

5 Philip planteth the church in Samaria; 26 he baptizeth an Ethiopian eunuch.

AND Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2^b And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3^c As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house; and haling men and women, committed them to prison.

4^d Therefore they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

5¹ Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing, and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9¹ But there was a certain man called Simon, which beforetime in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12^g But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

14¹ Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost:

16 For as yet he was fallen upon none of them; only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw, that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, 19ⁿ Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness; and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

26 ¶ And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south, unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert.

27 And he arose and went: and, behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship, 28 Was returning; and, sitting in his chariot, read Esaias the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

32 ¶ The place of the scripture which he read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 ¶ And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39 ¶ And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

40 ¶ But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through, he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Saul, going towards Damascus, is called by Christ: 10 Ananias sent to him, and he is baptized, 20 and boldly preacheth Christ.

AND Saul yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus; and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he, trembling and astonished, said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 ¶ And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 ¶ And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias: and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 ¶ And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus: for, behold, he prayeth, 12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 ¶ Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.

15 ¶ But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel:

16 ¶ For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

17 ¶ And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales; and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 ¶ And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.

21 ¶ But all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

22 ¶ But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

23 ¶ And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him.

24 ¶ But their laying await was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night, to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall, in a basket.

25 ^a And when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples : but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem.

29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians : but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 ^o Then had the churches rest throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified ; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

32 ^l And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certain man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Peter said unto him, Eneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole ; arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt in Lydda and Saron saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 ^l Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas : this woman was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died : whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber : and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed : and turning him to the body, said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes : and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up : and when he had called the saints and widows, he presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Joppa : and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa, with one Simon a tanner.

17 Now while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon's house, and stood before the gate,

18 And called, and asked, whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek : what is the cause wherefore ye are come ?

22 ^m And they said, Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by a holy angel, to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

Ghost, and of faith : and much people was added unto the Lord.

25ⁱ Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul:

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

27^l And in these days came prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.

28 And there stood up one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world : which came to pass in the days of Claudius Cesar.

29^l Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea :

30 Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Herod persecuteth the Christians ; 20 his pride, and miserable death.

NOW about that time, Herod the king stretched forth his hands, to vex certain of the church.

2^a And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. Then were the days of unleavened bread.

4^b And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him ; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in prison ; but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

6 And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains : and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison : and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals : and so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him ; and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel ; but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city, which opened to them of his own accord : and they went out, and passed on through one street ; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12^c And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark ; where many were gathered together, praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15^d And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking : and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he beckoning unto them with the hand, to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go, shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20^l And Herod was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon : but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace ; because their country was nourished by the king's country.

21 And upon a set day, Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory : and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24^l But the word of God grew and multiplied.

25^e And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministry, and took with them John, whose surname was Mark.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas sent to the Gentiles....42 The Gentiles believe....45 The Jews blaspheme, and raise a persecution.

NOW there were in the church that was at Antioch, certain prophets and teachers ; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

2^b As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the work whereunto I have called them.

3^c And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4^l So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Seleucia ; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5^d And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews : and they had also John to their minister.

6^e And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus :

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man ; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8^f But Elymas the sorcerer-(for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul (who also is called Paul,) filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10^g And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord ?

11 And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about, seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 ^h Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia; and John departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.

14 ⁱ But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and sat down.

15 And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 ^j Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand, said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience.

17 ^k The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm brought he them out of it.

18 ^l And about the time of forty years suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

19 ^m And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Chanaan, he divided their land to them by lot.

20 ⁿ And after that, he gave unto them judges, about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet.

21 ^o And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years.

22 ^p And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.

23 ^q Of this man's seed hath God, according to his promise, raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus:

24 ^r When John had first preached, before his coming, the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 ^s And as John fulfilled his course, he said, Who think ye that I am? I am not he: but, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

26 ^t Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 ^u For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath-day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 ^v And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain.

29 ^w And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30 ^x But God raised him from the dead:

31 ^y And he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people.

32 ^z And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers,

33 ^a God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee:

34 ^b And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David.

35 ^c Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.

36 ^d For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he whom God raised again, saw no corruption.

38 ^e Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:

39 ^f And by him, all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in the prophets;

41 ^g Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

42 ^h And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next sabbath.

43 ⁱ Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

44 ^j And the next sabbath-day came almost the whole city together, to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 ^k Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles.

47 ^l For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 ^m And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life, believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 ⁿ But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 ^o But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Paul and Barnabas are persecuted.... 8 Paul, healing a cripple at Lystra, they are reputed as gods by the people.

AND it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude, both of the Jews and also of the Greeks, believed.

2 ^a But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil-affected against the brethren.

3 ^b Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided : and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

5 ° And when there was an assault made, both of the Gentiles and also of the Jews, with their rulers, to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 ° They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about :

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 1 ° And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked :

9 ° The same heard Paul speak : who steadfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 ° Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 ° And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter ; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 ° Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 ° Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 ° And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things ? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you, that ye should turn from these vanities, unto the living God, which made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein :

16 ° Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

17 ° Nevertheless, he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 1 ° And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

20 ° Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city : and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch.

22 ° Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 ° And when they † had ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down into Attalia :

26 ° And thence sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled.

27 ° And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples

CHAPTER XV.

1 Dissension about circumcision : 6 the apostles consult about it : 22 their determination....36 Paul and Barnabas contend, and part.

AND certain men which came down from Judea, taught the brethren, and said, Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2 ° When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem, unto the apostles and elders, about this question.

3 And being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles : and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 ° And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders ; and they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 1 ° But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 ° And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

8 ° And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us ;

9 ° And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 ° Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear ?

11 ° But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.

12 1 ° Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13 1 ° And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren hearken unto me :

14 ° Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets : as it is written,

16 ° After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down : and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up :

17 That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works, from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God :

20 ° But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21 ^p For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath-day.

22 [¶] Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren :

23 And they wrote letters by them after this manner, The apostles and elders, and brethren, send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia :

24 ^a Forasmuch as we have heard that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law; to whom we gave no such commandment :

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul ;

26 ^r Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things ;

29 ^s That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication : from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 [¶] So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch : and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle :

31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.

32 ^t And Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 ^u Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 [¶] And some days after, Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren, in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

37 ^y And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.

38 ^z But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

39 ^a And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other : and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

41 ^b And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Paul circumciseth Timothy.... 14 Lydia converted.

^a THEN came he to Derbe and Lystra : and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timo-theus, the son of a certain woman, which was a Jew-ess, and believed ; but his father was a Greek :

2 ^b Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 ^c Him would Paul have to go forth with him ; and took and circumcised him, because of the Jews which were in those quarters : for they knew all that his father was a Greek.

4 ^d And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Jerusalem.

5 And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia ;

7 After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia : but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 ^e And they passing by Mysia, came down to Troas.

9 [¶] And a vision appeared to Paul in the night : There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.

10 ^f And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis ;

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony. And we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 ^g And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made : and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

14 [¶] And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us : whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 ^h And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16 [¶] And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of [†] divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying :

17 The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

18 ⁱ And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ, to come out of her. And he came out the same hour.

19 [¶] And when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market-place, unto the rulers,

20 ^m And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city,

21 And teach customs which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans.

22 ⁿ And the multitude rose up together against them : and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them.

23 ^o And when they had laid many stripes upon men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth; and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation;

27 That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us:

28 For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

30 And the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men every where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day in the which he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

3 Paul, labouring with his hands, and preaching at Corinth, is encouraged in a vision, &c.

AFTER these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth:

2 And found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome;) and came unto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought: for by their occupation they were tent-makers.

4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ.

6 And when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, he shook his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads: I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 And Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord, with all his house: and many of the Corinthians hearing, believed, and were baptized.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee, to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 And when Gallio was the deputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment-seat, 13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong, or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the judgment-seat.

17 Then all the Greeks took Sosthenes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment-seat. And Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, if God will. And he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Cesarea, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was disposed to pass into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: who, when he was come, helped them much which had believed through grace:

28 For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was Christ.

CHAPTER XIX.

6 The Holy Ghost given by the laying on of Paul's hands.

17 Many believe the gospel.

AND it came to pass, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts, came to Ephesus; and finding certain disciples,

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Unto John's baptism.

4 Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 ^a And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing, and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9 ^r But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

10 ^g And this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

11 ^b And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12 ⁱ So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13 ^j Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 ⁱ And many that believed, came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many also of them which used curious arts, brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 ^m So mightily grew the word of God, and prevailed.

21 ⁿ After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.

22 ^o So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timotheus and Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.

23 ^p And the same time there arose no small stir about that way.

24 ^q For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen;

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth.

26 ^r Moreover, ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying, that they be no gods, which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians!

29 ^s And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another; for the assembly was confused: and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice, about the space of two hours, cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians!

35 And when the town-clerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye inquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Paul goeth to Macedonia; 7 he celebrateth the Lord's supper, and preacheth....9 Eutychus, falling down dead, 10 is raised to life.

AND after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and departed, for to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 ^b And there abode three months. And when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia.

4 ^c And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus; and of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These going before, tarried for us at Troas.

6 And we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we abode seven days.

7 ^d And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10^e And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him, said, Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios; and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium; and the next day we came to Miletus.

16^f For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia; for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶ And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church.

18^g And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me by the laying in wait of the Jews:

20 And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publickly, and from house to house,

21^h Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22ⁱ And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23^k Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me.

24^l But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy: and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26^m Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men;

27ⁿ For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

28^o ¶ Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

29^p For I know this, that after my departing, shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30^q Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31^r Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32^s And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33^t I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

34^u Yea, ye yourselves know that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35^v I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak: and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36^w ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.

37^x And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him;

38 Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Paul, journeying to Jerusalem, cometh to Philip's house, whose daughters prophesied....17 Paul, at Jerusalem, 27 is apprehended, 31 but rescued by the chief captain.

AND it came to pass, that after we were † gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto Coos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara:

2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 Now when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4^b And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

5^c And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way: and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8^d And the next day, we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Cesarea: and we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven; and abode with him.

9^e And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy.

10^f And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named Agabus.

11^g And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12^h And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13ⁱ Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break my heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14^k And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the elders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying, That they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads: and all may know, that those things whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written, and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men; and the next day purifying himself with them, entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him,

28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help: this is the man that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place; and further, brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city, Trophimus, an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar:

32 Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him!

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? who said, Canst thou speak Greek?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian, which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.

40 And when he had given him license, Paul stood on the stairs, and beckoned with the hand unto the people: and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAPTER XXII.

1 Paul declareth how he was converted; 25 he escapeth scourging, being a Roman citizen.

MEN, brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence, which I make now unto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence; and he saith,)

3 I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to pass, that as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, 13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witness unto all men, of what thou hast seen and heard.

16 ¹ And now, why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.

17 ^m And it came to pass, that when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 ^a And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

20 ^a And when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 ^p And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee far hence, unto the Gentiles.

22 ^q And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth; for it is not fit that he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air,

24 ^r The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him.

25 ^s And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 Paul pleadeth his cause; 7 dissension among his accusers; 10 he is again imprisoned; 23 he is sent to Felix the governor.

^a AND Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.

2 ^b And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth.

3 ^c Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

4 And they that stood by, said, Revilest thou God's high priest?

5 ^d Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.

6 ^e But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.

8 ^f For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.

9 ^g And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 ^h And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 ⁱ And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying, that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

15 ^k Now therefore ye, with the council, signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to-morrow, as though ye would inquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain; for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 ^l And he said, The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night;

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

26 Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix sendeth greeting.

27 ^m This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Roman.

28 ⁿ And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:

29 ^o Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30 ^p And when it was told me, how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also, to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 ^q Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:

33 Who, when they came to Cesarea, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of Cilicia:

35 ^r I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment-hall.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Tertullus accuseth Paul; 10 he answereth for himself; 24 preacheth Christ to the governor and his wife; 27 is left in prison.

^s AND after five days, Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5 ^t For we have found this man a † pestilent fel- low, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes:

6 Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law.

7 But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,

8 ^u Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom, thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 ^v Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:

11 ^w Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for to worship.

12 ^x And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 ^y But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and the prophets;

15 ^z And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 ^a And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God and toward men.

17 ^b Now after many years, I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18 ^c Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult:

19 ^d Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had aught against me.

20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil-doing in me, while I stood before the council:

21 ^e Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead, I am called in question by you this day.

22 ^f And when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23 ^g And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 ^h And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

27 ⁱ But after two years, Porcius Festus came into Felix' room: and Felix, willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER XXV.

2 The Jews accuse Paul before Festus; 8 he answereth for himself, and appealeth unto Cesar, &c.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cesarea to Jerusalem.

2 ^j Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 ^k And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Cesarea; and the next day sitting in the judgment-seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove ;

3 ° While he answered for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus, willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me ?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesar's judgment-seat, where I ought to be judged : to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 ° For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die ; but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Cesar :

12 ¶ Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cesar ? unto Cesar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days, king Agrippa, and Bernice came unto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 ° And when they had been there many days, Festus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix :

15 † About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 ‡ To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have license to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without any delay, on the morrow I sat on the judgment-seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth ;

18 Against whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed :

19 § But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 ¶ And on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with † great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment Paul was brought forth.

24 ¶ And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 ‡ But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 ¶ Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto † my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable, to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

CHAPTER XXVI.

1 Paul, before Agrippa, declareth his life, 12 and his wonderful conversion, &c.

THEN Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself :

2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee, touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews :

3 Especially, because I know thee to be † expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews : wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews ;

5 § Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion, I lived a Pharisee.

6 ¶ And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers :

7 ° Unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead ?

9 ¶ I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 Which thing I also did in Jerusalem : and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests ; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.

11 And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme ; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 ° Whereupon as I went to Damascus, with authority and commission from the chief priests :

13 At mid-day, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me ? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord ? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 † But rise, and stand upon thy feet : for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee ;

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee ;

18 § To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God ; that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified, by faith that is in me.

19 ¶ Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision :

20 ¶ But shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance.

24ⁿ And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25^o But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26^p For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.

28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.

29^q And Paul said, I would to God that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30^r And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them.

31^s And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cesar.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Paul, shipping towards Rome, 10 foretelleth the danger of the voyage, but is not believed, &c.

AND when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2^b And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia; one Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3^c And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under Crete, over against Salmone;

8 And hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called, The Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9^t Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them;

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless, the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter; which is a haven of Crete, and lieth toward the south-west and north-west.

13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crete.

14 But not long after, there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Claudia, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

19 And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21^u But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23^v For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, 24^w Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cesar: and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25^x Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer; for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26^y Howbeit, we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country:

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,

31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33^z And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried, and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34^{aa} Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you.

35^k And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37¹ And we were in all in the ship, two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39^m And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder-bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.

41ⁿ And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground: and the fore part stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

42 And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

43 But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:

44 And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, that they escaped all safe to land.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1 Paul and company entertained by the barbarians: 8 he healeth many in the island, &c.

AND when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita.

2^b And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

4 And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

5^c And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm.

6^d Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius; who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.

8^e And it came to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever, and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10^f Who also honoured us with many honours; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was † Castor and Pollux.

12 And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three days.

13 And from thence we fetched a compass, and came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli:

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii Forum, and the Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

16^g And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himself, with a soldier that kept him.

17^h And it came to pass, that after three days Paul called the chief of the Jews together: and when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, though I have committed nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet was I delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans:

18ⁱ Who, when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19^k But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Cesar; not that I had aught to accuse my nation of.

20¹ For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.

21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harm of thee.

22^m But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that every where it is spoken against.

23ⁿ And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging; to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from morning till evening.

24^o And some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word; Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers,

26^p Saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive:

27 For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

28^q Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles, and that they will hear it.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30^r And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him,

31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the ROMANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul commendeth to the Romans his calling : 16 he sheweth that the gospel is for the justification of all men through faith.

PAUL, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God,

2^b Which he had promised afore by his prophets in the holy scriptures,
3^c Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh;
4^d And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead :

5^e By whom we have received grace and apostleship for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name :

6 Among whom are ye also the called of Jesus Christ :

7^f To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints : Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8^g First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.

9^h For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers ;

10ⁱ Making request, if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God, to come unto you.

11^k For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established :

12^l That is, that I may be comforted together with you by the mutual faith both of you and me.

13^m Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but was let hitherto,) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

14ⁿ I am debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians, both to the wise and to the unwise.

15^o So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16^p For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ : for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth ; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17^q For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith : as it is written, The just shall live by faith.

18^r For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness :

19^s Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them ; for God hath shewed it unto them.

20^t For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead : so that they are without excuse :

21^u Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened :

22^v Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,

23^w And changed the glory of the incorruptible

God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things.

24^x Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves :

25^y Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature || more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26^z For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections : for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature :

27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another ; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet.

28^a And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient ;

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness ; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity : whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despightful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful :

32^b Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAPTER II.

1 They who condemn sin in others, and do the like themselves, are inexcusable, whether Jews or Gentiles.

THEREFORE thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest ; for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself ; for thou that judgest, doest the same things.

2 But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth, against them which commit such things.

3^b And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God ?

4^c Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness, and forbearance, and long-suffering ; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance :

5^d But after thy hardness and impenitent heart, treasured up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God ;

6^e Who will render to every man according to his deeds :

7 To them, who, by patient continuance in well-doing, seek for glory, and honour, and immortality ; eternal life :

8^f But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness ; indignation and wrath,

9 Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil ; of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile ;

10 But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good ; to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile ;

11^g For there is no respect of persons with God.
12^h For as many as have sinned without law, shall also perish without law : and as many as have sinned in the law, shall be judged by the law ;

13¹ (For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.

14 For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves :

15 Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing, or else excusing one another ;)

16^k In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.

17^l Behold, thou art called a Jew, and retest in the law, and makest thy boast of God,

18^m And knowest his will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law,

20^o An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law :

21^p Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself ? thou that preachest, A man should not steal, dost thou steal ?

22^q Thou that sayest, A man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery ? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege ?

23^r Thou that makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God ?

24^s For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is written.

25^t For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law : but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26^u Therefore if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision ?

27^v And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law ?

28^y For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly : neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh :

29^z But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly ; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter ; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER III.

1 The Jews' prerogative not made void by the unbelief of some....20 None justified by the law, but all by God's grace through faith in Christ without difference, &c.

WHAT advantage then hath the Jew ? or what profit is there of circumcision ?

2^b Much every way : chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3^c For what, if some did not believe ? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect ?

4^d God forbid : yea, let God be true, but every man a liar ; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

5^e But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say ? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance ? (I speak as a man,)

6^f God forbid : for then how shall God judge the world ?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory, why yet am I also judged as a sinner ?

8^g And not rather (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say) Let us do evil, that good may come ? whose damnation is just.

9^h What then ? are we better than they ? No, in no wise : for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin :

10ⁱ As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one :

11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable ; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

13^k Their throat is an open sepulchre : with their tongues they have used deceit ; the poison of asps is under their lips :

14^l Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness :

15^m Their feet are swift to shed blood :

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways :

17 And the way of peace have they not known :

18ⁿ There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19^o Now we know, that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law ; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.

20^p Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight : for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

21^q But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets ;

22^r Even the righteousness of God, which is by faith of Jesus Christ, unto all and upon all them that believe ; for there is no difference :

23^s For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God ;

24^t Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus :

25^u Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God ;

26 To declare, I say, at this time, his righteousness : that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

27^v Where is boasting then ? It is excluded. By what law ? of works ? Nay ; but by the law of faith.

28^y Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

29^z Is he the God of the Jews only ? is he not also of the Gentiles ? Yes, of the Gentiles also :

30^a Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31^b Do we then make void the law through faith ? God forbid : yea, we establish the law.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Abraham justified by faith : 18 his faith recorded for the sake of those who believe.

WHAT shall we then say, that Abraham, our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found ?

2^b For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory : but not before God.

3^c For what saith the scripture ? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

4^d Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

5^e But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6^f Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,

7^g Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

8^h Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

9ⁱ Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10^j How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11^k And he received the sign of circumcision; a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had, yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:

12^l And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had, being yet uncircumcised.

13^m For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14ⁿ For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect.

15^o Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.

16^p Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

17^q (As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.

18^r Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be.

19^s And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about a hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb:

20^t He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21^u And being fully persuaded that what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22^v And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23^w Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him;

24^x But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead;

25^y Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification.

CHAPTER V.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God... 12 Sin and death came by Adam, 17 righteousness and life by Jesus Christ.

1^a THEREFORE, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

2^b By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3^c And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also; knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4^d And patience, experience; and experience, hope:

5^e And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

6^f For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly.

7^g For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8^h But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9ⁱ Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10^j For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11^k And not only so, but we also joy in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

12^l Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned:

13^m (For until the law, sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

14ⁿ Nevertheless, death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

15^o But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

16^p And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation; but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

17^q For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ:)

18^r Therefore, as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.

19^s For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20^t Moreover, the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound:

21^u That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign, through righteousness, unto eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VI.

1 We must not live in sin, 2 for we are dead unto it: 12 nor let sin reign in us... 21 The end and wages of sin is death, &c.

1^a WHAT shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2^b God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?

3^c Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death?

4^d Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

5^e For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:

6^f Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7^g For he that is dead is freed from sin.

8^h Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

9ⁱ Knowing that Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

10^k For in that he died, he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

11^l Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

12^m Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13ⁿ Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14^o For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15^p What then? Shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16^q Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

17^r But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin: but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.

18^s Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity, unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness, unto holiness.

20^t For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.

21^u What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

22^x But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness; and the end, everlasting life.

23^y For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VII.

1 No law hath power over a man longer than he liveth....7 The law is not sin, 12 but holy, just, and good.

NOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?

2^b For the woman which hath a husband is bound by the law to her husband, so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3^c So then, if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4^d Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

5^e For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death.

6^f But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7^g What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet.

8^h But sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law, sin was dead.

9ⁱ For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10^k And the commandment, which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11^l For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12^m Wherefore the law is holy; and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13ⁿ Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

14^o For we know that the law is spiritual; but I am carnal, sold under sin.

15^p For that which I do, I allow not: for what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

18^q For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

19 For the good that I would, I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22^r For I delight in the law of God after the inward man:

23^s But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

25^t I thank God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God, but with the flesh the law of sin.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Who are free from condemnation....5, 13 What harm cometh of the flesh, 6, 14 and what good of the Spirit, 17 and what of being God's children....31 The christian's hope.

THERE is, therefore, now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2^b For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.

3^c For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh :

4 That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5^d For they that are after the flesh, do mind the things of the flesh ; but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6^e For to be carnally minded is death ; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace :

7^f Because the carnal mind is enmity against God ; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

8^g So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9^h But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10ⁱ And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin ; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11^k But if the Spirit of him, that raised up Jesus from the dead, dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12^l Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13^m For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die : but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

14ⁿ For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15^o For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear ; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

16^p The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God :

17^q And if children, then heirs ; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18^r For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19^s For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God.

20^t For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope ;

21 Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22^u For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

23^v And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.

24^w For we are saved by hope : but hope that is seen, is not hope : for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for ?

25^x But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

26^y Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities : for we know not what we should pray for as we ought :

but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27^z And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

28^a And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

29^b For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among many brethren.

30^c Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them he also called : and whom he called, them he also justified : and whom he justified, them he also glorified.

31^d What shall we then say to these things ? If God be for us, who can be against us ?

32^e He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things ?

33^f Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect ? It is God that justifieth.

34^g Who is he that condemneth ? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

35^h Who shall separate us from the love of Christ ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword ?

36ⁱ As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long ; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37^j Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us :

38^k For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Paul's sorrow for the Jews....7 All Abraham's seed were not the children of the promise....25 The calling of the Gentiles, and rejection of the Jews foretold.

I SAY the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost,

2^b That I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart.

3^c For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh :

4^d Who are Israelites ; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises ;

5^e Whose are the fathers, and of whom, as concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

6^f Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israel which are of Israel :

7^g Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children : but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called.

8^h That is, they which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God : but the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

9ⁱ For this is the word of promise, At this time will I come, and Sarah shall have a son.

10^k And not only this ; but when Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac,

11¹ (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God, according to election, might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth;)

12^m It was said unto her, The elder shall serve the younger:

13ⁿ As it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.

14^o What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.

15^p For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

17^q For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.

19^r Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? for who hath resisted his will?

20^s Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21^t Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22^u What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction;

23^v And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory,

24^w Even us, whom he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles?

25^x As he saith also in Osee, I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved.

26^y And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called the children of the living God.

27^z Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved.

28 For he will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth.

29^a And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been as Sodom, and been made like unto Gomorrah.

30^b What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith.

31^c But Israel which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness.

32^d Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law: for they stumbled at that stumbling-stone;

33^e As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumbling-stone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

CHAPTER X.

1 Paul's prayer for Israel, who are misled by blind zeal.

BRETHREN, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

2^b For I bear them record, that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3^c For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

4^d For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

5^e For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them.

6^f But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above.)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.)

8^g But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith which we preach;

9^h That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thy heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

11ⁱ For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

12^k For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him.

13^l For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

14^m How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?

15ⁿ And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16^o But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, who hath believed our report?

17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18^p But I say, Have they not heard? Yes, verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.

19^q But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

20^r But Esaias is very bold, and saith, I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.

21^s But to Israel he saith, All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAPTER XI.

1 A remnant of Israel saved by grace: 7 the blindness of the rest prophesied of... 17 The Gentiles may not boast against them.

ISAY then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2^b God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying,

3^c Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4^a But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

5^e Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6^f And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.

7^g What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded,

8^h (According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.

9ⁱ And David saith, Let their table be made a snare and a trap, and a stumbling-block, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back always.

11^k I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles, how much more their fulness?

13^l For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office;

14^m If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them.

15ⁿ For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16^o For if the first-fruit be holy, the lump is also holy; and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17^p And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive-tree, wert grafted in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive-tree;

18^q Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20^r Well; because of unbelief they were broken off; and thou standest by faith. Be not high-minded, but fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22^s Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness; if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23^t And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.

24^u For if thou wert cut out of the olive-tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive-tree; how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive-tree?

25^v For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits: that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

26^w And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob:

27^x For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

28^y As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29^z For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

30^a For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief;

31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32^b For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

33^c O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

34^d For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?

35^e Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36^f For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Holiness and conformity to God's will enjoined....6 Gifts to be used for the common benefit....9 Sundry practical duties recommended....19 Revenge specially forbidden.

I BESEECH you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2^b And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3^c For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

4^d For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office;

5^e So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6^f Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith;

7^g Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering; or he that teacheth, on teaching;

8^h Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him do it with simplicity; he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.

9ⁱ Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10^k Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another;

11^l Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord;

12^m Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer;

13ⁿ Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality.

14^o Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not.

15^p Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

16^a Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits.

17^a Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men.

18^a If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

19^a Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves; but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

20^a Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.

21^a Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Of subjection to magistrates....8 Love is a debt we always owe, and virtually containeth the whole law....11 Against gluttony, &c.

LET every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

2^b Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3^c For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4^d For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

5^e Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake.

6 For, for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7^f Render therefore to all their dues; tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8^g Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9^h For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10ⁱ Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

11^k And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12^l The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.

13^m Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.

14ⁿ But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER XIV.

How to treat a weak brother, and not to censure one another for things indifferent, &c.

HIM that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations.

4 M

2^b For one believeth that he may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3^c Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4^d Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

5^e One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.

6^f He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord; for he giveth God thanks: and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not; and giveth God thanks.

7^g For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9^h For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

10ⁱ But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ.

11^k For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12^l So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13^m Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14ⁿ I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15^o But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died:

16^p Let not then your good be evil spoken of:

17^q For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serveth Christ, is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19^r Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.

20^s For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21^t It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22^u Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

23^v And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The strong ought to bear with the weak....2 We may not please ourselves, 7 but receive one another, as Christ also received us, &c.

WE then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2^b Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification.

3^c For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

4^d For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

5^e Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like-minded one toward another, according to Christ Jesus;

6^f That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7^g Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us, to the glory of God.

8^h Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers;

9ⁱ And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

10^k And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11^l And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people.

12^m And again, Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13ⁿ Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace, in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

14^o And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15^p Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me of God.

16^q That I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.

17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ in those things which pertain to God.

18^r For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed,

19^s Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God: so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

20^t Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation:

21^u But, as it is written, To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.

22^x For which cause also I have been much hindered from coming to you.

23^y But now having no more place in these parts, and having a great desire these many years to come unto you;

24 Whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company.

25^z But now I go unto Jerusalem, to minister unto the saints.

26^a For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.

27^b It hath pleased them, verily; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

28^c When, therefore, I have performed this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

29^d And I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

30^e Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;

31^f That I may be delivered from them that do not believe in Judea; and that my service which I have for Jerusalem may be accepted of the saints;

32^g That I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33^h Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Paul sendeth salutations to many, 25 and endeth with praise and thanks to God.

I COMMEND unto you Phebe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at Cenchrea:

2^a That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a succourer of many, and of myself also.

3^b Greet Priscilla and Aquila, my helpers in Christ Jesus:

4^c Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles.

5^d Likewise greet the church that is in their house. Salute my well-beloved Epenetus, who is the first-fruits of Achaia unto Christ.

6 Greet Mary; who bestowed much labour on us.

7^e Salute Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen and my fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles; who also were in Christ before me.

8 Greet Amplias, my beloved in the Lord.

9 Salute Urbane, our helper in Christ; and Stachys my beloved.

10^f Salute Apelles, approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus' household.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them that be of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13^g Salute Rufus, chosen in the Lord; and his mother and mine.

14 Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints which are with them.

16^h Salute one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.

17ⁱ Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them.

18^k For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly, and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL, the

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul, after salutation and thanksgiving, 10 exhorteth to unity, 11 and reproveth their dissensions....26 God, to take away boasting, rejecteth the wisdom of the wise.

PAUL, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sosthenes our brother,

2^b Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours:

3^c Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4^d I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ;

5^e That in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge;

6^f Even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you:

7^g So that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ:

8^h Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9ⁱ God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10^k Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

11^l For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12^m Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ.

13ⁿ Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14^o I thank God that I baptized none of you but Crispus and Gaius;

15 Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name.

16^p And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17^q For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.

18^r For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God.

Apostle, to the CORINTHIANS.

19^s For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20^t Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21^u For after that, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22^v For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:

23^w But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling-block, and unto the Greeks foolishness;

24^x But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26^y For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called:

27^z But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world, to confound the things which are mighty;

28^a And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are;

29^b That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30^c But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:

31^d That, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAPTER II.

1 How Paul preached the gospel; 6 which is God's wise counsel for men's salvation.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God:

2^e For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3^f And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4^g And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:

 2 Cor. 5, 1.
 Eph. 1, 20.
 1 Cor. 7, 4.
 Heb. 3, 3, 4.

5 ° That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

6 ° Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect : yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world that come to nought :

7 ° But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory :

8 ° Which none of the princes of this world knew : for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 ° But, as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

10 ° But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit : for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11 ° For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him ? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 ° Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God ; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13 ° Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth ; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 ° But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God : for they are foolishness unto him : neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 ° But he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man.

16 ° For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him ? But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER III.

1 How Paul dealt with weak believers....5 The most eminent preachers only instruments, &c.

AND I, brethren, could not speak unto you, as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ.

2 ° I have fed you with milk, and not with meat : for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 ° For ye are yet carnal : for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men ?

4 ° For while one saith, I am of Paul ; and another, I am of Apollos ; are ye not carnal ?

5 ° Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man ?

6 ° I have planted, Apollos watered ; but God gave the increase.

7 ° So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth ; but God that giveth the increase.

8 ° Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one : and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.

9 ° For we are labourers together with God : ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

10 ° According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise master-builder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 ° For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

12 ° Now if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble ;

13 ° Every man's work shall be made manifest : for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire ; and the fire shall try every man's work, of what sort it is.

14 ° If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

15 ° If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss : but he himself shall be saved ; yet so as by fire.

16 ° Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you ?

17 ° If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy ; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 ° Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19 ° For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God : for it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20 ° And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21 ° Therefore let no man glory in men : for all things are yours :

22 ° Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come ; all are yours :

23 ° And ye are Christ's ; and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER IV.

1 How to account of Christ's ministers....8 To a self-sufficient vanity Paul opposeth his own afflicted state, &c.

LET a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 ° Moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

3 ° But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment ; yea, I judge not mine own self :

4 ° For I know nothing by myself ; yet am I not hereby justified : but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 ° Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts : and then shall every man have praise of God.

6 ° And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes ; that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.

7 ° For he who maketh thee to differ from another ? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive ? Now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory as if thou hadst not received it ?

8 ° Now ye are full, now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us : and I would to God ye did reign ; that we also might reign with you.

9 ° For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were appointed to death : for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 ° We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ ; we are weak, but ye are strong ; ye are honourable, but we are despised.

11^a Even unto this present hour we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place;

12^m And labour, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it;

13ⁿ Being defamed, we entreat: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things unto this day.

14^o I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sons I warn you.

15^p For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for, in Christ Jesus, I have begotten you through the gospel.

16^q Wherefore, I beseech you, be ye followers of me.

17^r For this cause have I sent unto you Timotheus, who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I teach every where in every church.

18^s Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.

19^t But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

20^u For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21^x What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER V.

1 Of the incestuous person....6 Of necessity the old leaven must be purged out, &c.

IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.

2^b And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.

3^c For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed;

4^d In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

5^e To deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

6^f Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7^g Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us:

8^h Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9ⁱ I wrote unto you in an epistle, not to company with fornicators:

10^k Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world.

11^l But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no not to eat.

12^m For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? do not ye judge them that are within?

13ⁿ But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Of bringing controversies before heathen judges....7 How lawsuits may be avoided.

DARE any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2^a Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3^b Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4 If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?

6^c But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.

7 Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. Why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?

8 Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren.

9^d Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,

10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11^e And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12^f All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13^g Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body.

14^h And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.

15ⁱ Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of a harlot? God forbid.

16^k What! know ye not that he which is joined to a harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17^l But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

18^m Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body.

19ⁿ What! know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?

20^o For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3^b Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4^c The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5^d Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6^e But I speak this by permission, and not of commandment.

7^f For I would that all men were even as I myself. But every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9^g But if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10^h And unto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13ⁱ And the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15^a But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace.

16^b For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all churches.

18^m Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19ⁿ Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20^o Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21^p Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22^q For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is Christ's servant.

23^r Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25^s Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord, yet I give my judgment, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful.

26^t I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress; I say, that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28^u But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29^x But this I say, brethren, the time is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

31^y And they that use this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away.

32^z But I would have you without carefulness. He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34^a There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35^b And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless he that standeth steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.

38^c So then, he that giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.

39^d The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.

40^e But she is happier if she so abide, after my judgment: and I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Charity preferable to knowledge.... 4 An idol is nothing to those who rightly know God.

NOW as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.

2^b And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3^c But if any man love God, the same is known of him.

4^d As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5^e For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,)

6^f But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 ^a Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour, eat it as a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak is defiled.

8 ^b But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, are we the better; neither, if we eat not, are we the worse.

9 ^c But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling-block to them that are weak.

10 ^k For if any man see thee, which hast knowledge, sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols;

11 ^l And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12 ^m But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 ⁿ Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Paul asserteth his apostolical character, 3 and right to a maintenance: 24 he striveth to obtain an incorruptible crown.

A M I not an apostle? am I not free? have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? are not ye my work in the Lord?

2 ^b If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3 Mine answer to them that do examine me is this;

4 ^c Have we not power to eat and to drink?

5 ^d Have we not power to lead about a sister, a wife, as well as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6 ^e Or I only and Barnabas, have not we power to forbear working?

7 ^f Who goeth a warfare at any time at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

8 Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also?

9 ^g For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 ^h Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that thresheth in hope should be partaker of his hope.

11 ⁱ If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?

12 ^k If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? Nevertheless we have not used this power; but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13 ^l Do ye not know, that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar?

14 ^m Even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

15 ⁿ But I have used none of these things: neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for it were better for me to die than that any man should make my glorying void.

16 ^o For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, wo is unto me if I preach not the gospel!

17 ^p For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if against my will, a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.

18 ^q What is my reward then? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge; that I abuse not my power in the gospel.

19 ^r For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more.

20 ^s And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law;

21 ^t To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law.

22 ^u To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.

23 And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I may be partaker thereof with you.

24 ^x Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain.

25 ^y And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible.

26 ^z I therefore so run, not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air:

27 ^a But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection; lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a cast-away.

CHAPTER X.

1 The Jews had sacraments typical of ours....6 Christians must not lust after evil things: 7 they must avoid idolatry; 13 God will in affliction make a way for them to escape, &c.

MOREOVER, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea;

2 And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea;

3 ^b And did all eat the same spiritual meat;

4 ^c And did all drink the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ.

5 ^d But with many of them God was not well pleased; for they were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 ^e Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.

7 ^f Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8 ^g Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day, three and twenty thousand.

9 ^h Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.

10 ⁱ Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 ^k Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 ^l Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

13^m There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man : but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able ; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14ⁿ Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry.

15^o I speak as to wise men ; judge ye what I say.

16^p The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? the bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17^q For we, being many, are one bread, and one body ; for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18^r Behold Israel after the flesh : are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar ?

19^s What say I then ? that the idol is any thing ? or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing ?

20^t But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God : and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.

21^u Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils : ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

22^x Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy ? are we stronger than he ?

23^y All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient : all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.

24^z Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth.

25^a Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience' sake :

26^b For the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.

27^c If any of them that believe not bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go : whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience' sake.

28^d But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols ; eat not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience' sake : for the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof :

29^e Conscience, I say, not thine own, but of the other : for why is my liberty judged of another man's conscience ?

30^f For, if I by grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of, for that for which I give thanks ?

31^g Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32^h Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God :

33ⁱ Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER XI.

1 He exhorteth them, 3 and forbiddeth men to pray or prophesy with their heads covered, and women with their heads uncovered....23 Of the Lord's supper.

BE ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ. 2^b Now I praise you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

3^c But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ ; and the head of the woman is the man, and the head of Christ is God.

4^d Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5^e But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered, dishonoureth her head : for that is even all one as if she were shaven.

6^f For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn : but if it be a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7^g For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God : but the woman is the glory of the man.

8^h For the man is not of the woman ; but the woman of the man :

9 Neither was the man created for the woman, but the woman for the man.

10ⁱ For this cause ought the woman to have power on her head because of the angels.

11 Nevertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12^k For as the woman is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman ; but all things of God.

13 Judge in yourselves : is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered ?

14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him ?

15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her : for her hair is given her for a covering.

16^l But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

17 Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18^m For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be divisions among you ; and I partly believe it.

19ⁿ For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.

21^o For in eating, every one taketh before other his own supper : and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22^p What ! have ye not houses to eat and to drink in ? or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that have not ? What shall I say to you ? shall I praise you in this ? I praise you not.

23^q For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread :

24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat ; this is my body, which is broken for you : this do in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood : this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26^r For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

27^s Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28^t But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

29^u For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

31^v For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

32^y But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.

34^a And if any man hunger, let him eat at home: that ye come not together unto condemnation. And the rest will I set in order when I come.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Spiritual gifts are diverse, 7 yet to profit withal, 8 and to that end are all diversely bestowed of God for the general good.

NOW concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2^b Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led.

3^c Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed; and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost.

4^d Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5^e And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.

6^f And there are diversities of operations; but it is the same God which worketh all in all.

7^g But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

8^h For to one is given, by the Spirit, the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge, by the same Spirit;

9ⁱ To another faith, by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing, by the same Spirit;

10^k To another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

11^l But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.

12^m For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body, so also is Christ.

13ⁿ For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not of the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? if the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God set the members, every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again, the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:

23 And those members of the body which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

27^p Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.

28^q And God hath set some in the church; first, apostles; secondarily, prophets; thirdly, teachers; after that, miracles; then gifts of healings, helps in governments, diversities of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles?

30 Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31^r But covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 All gifts, however excellent, are nothing without charity; 4 the praise thereof.

THOUGH I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2^a And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

3^b And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5^d Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6^e Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth;

7^f Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8^g Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For we know in part, and we prophesy in part;

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12^h For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Prophecy commended, 2, 3, 4 and preferred before speaking with tongues....34 Women forbidden to speak in the church.

FOLLOW after charity, and desire spiritual gifts; but rather that ye may prophesy.

speaketh not unto men, but unto God : for no man understandeth him ; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3^c But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself ; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied : for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6^d Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine ?

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped ?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle ?

9 So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken ? for ye shall speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.

11 Therefore, if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian ; and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.

12^e Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.

13^f Wherefore, let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14^g For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth : but my understanding is unfruitful.

15^h What is it then ? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also : I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.

16ⁱ Else, when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned, say Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest ?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18^k I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all :

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20^l Brethren, be not children in understanding : howbeit in malice be ye children ; but in understanding be men.

21^m In the law it is written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people ; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not : but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad ?

24ⁿ But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all :

25^o And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest ; and so, falling down on his face, he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.

26^p How is it then, brethren ? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course ; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church ; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29^q Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31^r For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.

32^s And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33^t For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.

34^u Let your women keep silence in the churches : for it is not permitted unto them to speak ; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law.

35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home : for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 What ! came the word of God out from you ? or came it unto you only ?

37^v If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord.

38^w But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39^x Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40^y Let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER XV.

3 By Christ's resurrection the apostle inferreth the necessity of our resurrection....23 Christ the first-fruits....35 The manner of the resurrection, &c.

MOREOVER, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand :

2^b By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.

3^c For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures ;

4^d And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures :

5^e And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve :

6^f After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once ; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

7^g After that, he was seen of James ; then of all the apostles.

8^h And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time.

9ⁱ For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.

10^k But by the grace of God I am what I am : and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain ; but I laboured more abundantly than they all : yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12^l Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead ?

13^m But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen :

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15ⁿ Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God ; because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ : whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised :

17^o And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain ; ye are yet in your sins.

18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ, are perished.

19^p If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.

20^q But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept.

21^r For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

23^s But every man in his own order ; Christ the first-fruits ; afterward they that are Christ's, at his coming.

24^t Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father ; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.

25^u For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

26^v The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.

27^w For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him ; it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.

28^x And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all ? why are they then baptized for the dead ?

30^y And why stand we in jeopardy every hour ?

31^z I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.

32^a If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not ? Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.

33 Be not deceived : evil communications corrupt good manners.

34^b Awake to righteousness, and sin not ; for some have not the knowledge of God : I speak this to your shame.

35^c But some man will say, How are the dead raised up ? and with what body do they come ?

36^d Thou fool ! that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die :

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain :

38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh : but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial : but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

41^e There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars : for one star differeth from another star in glory.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption ; it is raised in incorruption :

43 It is sown in dishonour ; it is raised in glory : it is sown in weakness ; it is raised in power :

44 It is sown a natural body ; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

45^f And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul ; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural ; and afterward that which is spiritual.

47^g The first man is of the earth, earthy : the second man is the Lord from heaven.

48^h As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy : and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49ⁱ And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50^j Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God ; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51^k Behold, I shew you a mystery : We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, 52^l In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump : for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53^m For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

54ⁿ So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 O death, where is thy sting ? O grave, where is thy victory ?

56^o The sting of death is sin ; and the strength of sin is the law.

57^p But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

58^q Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

prove by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.

4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.

7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.

9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.

10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me; for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

¶ The Second Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle encourageth against troubles, 12 sheweth the sincerity of his preaching, 15 and excuseth his not coming to them.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort:

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, inasmuch that we despaired even of life:

9 But we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:

10 Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us:

11 Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that 14 Let all your things be done with charity.

15 I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first-fruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints,)

16 That ye submit yourselves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us, and laboureth.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.

18 For they have refreshed my spirit and yours: therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you. Greet ye one another with a holy kiss.

21 The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand.

22 If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema, Maran-atha.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

24 My love be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

¶ The first epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi by Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons, thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward.

13 For we write none other things unto you than what ye read or acknowledge; and I trust ye shall acknowledge even to the end;

14 As also ye have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have a second benefit;

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Judea.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea, yea, and nay, nay?

18 But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea and nay.

19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.

21 Now he which establisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God;

22 Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Moreover I call God for a record upon my soul, that, to spare you, I came not as yet unto Corinth.

24 Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAPTER II.

1 The reasons of Paul's not coming unto them....6 Of the excommunicated person.

BUT I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2^b For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4^a For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5^a But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

6^a Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.

7^a So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you, that ye would confirm your love toward him.

9^a For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10^b To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it in the person of Christ;

11^a Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12^b Furthermore, when I came to Troas to reach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord,

13^a I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.

14^a Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15^a For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish:

16^a To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things?

17^a For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

CHAPTER III.

He sheweth that their gifts and graces were a sufficient commendation of his ministry.

DO we begin again to commend ourselves? or need we, as some others, epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2^b Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men:

3^a Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: not in tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart.

4^a And such trust have we through Christ to Godward:

5^a Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God;

6^a Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

7^a But if the ministrations of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away;

8 How shall not the ministrations of the Spirit be rather glorious?

9^a For if the ministrations of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministrations of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12^a Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech:

13^a And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not steadfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:

14^a But their minds were blinded; for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament: which vail is done away in Christ.

15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

16^a Nevertheless, when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.

17^a Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18^a But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Paul's unwearied diligence and zeal in preaching; 7 his troubles for the same.

THEREFORE, seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not;

2^b But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth, commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

3^a But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost:

4^a In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5^a For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake.

6^a For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7^a But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

8^b We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;

9^a Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

10^a Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

11^a For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12^m So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

13^a We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;

14^a Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus, shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

15^p For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might, through the thanksgiving of many, redound to the glory of God.

16^a For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17^a For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

18^a While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER V.

Paul, in assured hope of immortal glory, laboureth to approve himself to Christ, &c.

FOR we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2^b For in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

3^c If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked.

4^a For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

5^a Now he that hath wrought us for the self-same thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6^a Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord;

7^a (For we walk by faith, not by sight:)

8^a We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9^a Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

10^a For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ: that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11^a Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God, and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12^a For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

13^a For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

14^a For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:

15^a And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16^p Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17^a Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

18^a And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19^a To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20^a Now then we are ambassadors for Christ; as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21^a For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Paul's sufferings and patience in the ministry... 14 Exhortation to avoid idolaters, &c.

WE then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.

2^b (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

3^c Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4^a But in all things approving ourselves, as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5^a In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6^a By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7^a By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8^a By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true;

9^a As unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and, behold, we live; as chastened, and not killed;

10^a As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11^a O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.

12^a Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own bowels.

13^a Now for a recompense in the same, (I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14^a Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15^a And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

16^a And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17^a Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you;

18 * And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAPTER VII.

1 He exhorteth to purity of life, 3 and sheweth the source of his comfort in afflictions.

HAVING therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 ^b Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.

3 ^c I speak not this to condemn you; for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 ^d Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 ^e For, when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side; without were fightings, within were fears.

6 ^f Nevertheless God that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus;

7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 ^g For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 ^h Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance, for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 ⁱ For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 ^k For behold this self-same thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 ^l Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 ^m For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Titus, is found a truth.

15 ⁿ And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 ^o I rejoice, therefore, that I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 He stirreth them up to contribute to the saints: 16 he commendeth Titus and others, &c.

MOREOVER, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia;

2 ^b How that, in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power (I bear record) yea, and beyond their power, they were willing of themselves;

4 ^c Praying us with much entreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God:

6 ^d Insomuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

7 ^e Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 ^f I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 ^g For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 ^h And herein I give my advice: for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have.

12 ⁱ For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 ^k For I mean not that other men be eased, and you burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that there may be equality:

15 ^l As it is written, He that had gathered much had nothing over: and he that had gathered little had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 ^m For indeed he accepted the exhortation; but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches;

19 ⁿ And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind:

20 ^o Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us:

21 ^p Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you.

23 ^q Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellow-helper concerning you: or our brethren, be inquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ

24 ^r Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf.

1 He sheweth why he sent the brethren, 6 and stirreth them up to give bountifully, as a likely means to increase their store, &c.

2 FOR as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you :

3 For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago ; and your zeal hath provoked very many.

4 Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf ; that, as I said, ye may be ready :

5 Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

6 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your † bounty, whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

7 But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly ; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.

8 Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give ; not grudgingly, or of necessity : for God loveth a cheerful giver.

9 And God is able to make all grace abound toward you ; that ye, always having all-sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work :

10 As it is written, He hath dispersed abroad ; he hath given to the poor : his righteousness remaineth for ever.

11 Now he that ministereth seed to the sower, both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness ;

12 Being enriched in every thing to all bountifulness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

13 For the administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God ;

14 While by the experiment of this ministration they glorify God for your professed subjection unto the gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distribution unto them, and unto all men ;

15 And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you.

16 Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER X.

Paul wisheth for no cause to exert his spiritual power and authority, &c.

1 NOW I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you :

2 But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh :

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds ;)

5 Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ ;

6 And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Do ye look on things after the outward appearance ? If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are we Christ's.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed :

9 That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters.

10 For his letters, say they, are weighty and powerful ; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.

11 Let such a one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also indeed when we are present.

12 For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves : but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.

13 But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you : for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ :

15 Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other men's labours ; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly,

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's line of things made ready to our hand.

17 But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18 For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Paul unwillingly entereth into a commendation of himself with the other apostles ; 7 he declineth being chargeable ; 23 he sheweth his sufferings for the gospel.

2 WOULD to God ye could bear with me a little in my folly : and indeed bear with me.

3 For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy : for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ.

4 But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

5 For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.

6 For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

7 But though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge ; but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

8 Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely ?

8^b I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man : for that which was lacking to me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied : and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

10ⁱ As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia.

11^k Wherefore ? because I love you not ? God knoweth.

12^l But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion ; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13^m For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.

14 And no marvel ; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.

15ⁿ Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness ; whose end shall be according to their works.

16^o I say again, Let no man think me a fool ; if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me, that I may boast myself a little.

17^p That which I speak, I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, in this confidence of boasting.

18^q Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

19^r For ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.

20^s For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.

21^t I speak as concerning reproach, as though we had been weak. Howbeit whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak foolishly,) I am bold also.

22^u Are they Hebrews ? so am I. Are they Israelites ? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham ? so am I.

23^v Are they ministers of Christ ? (I speak as a fool) I am more ; in labours more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft.

24^w Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one.

25^x Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep ;

26 In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren ;

27^y In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

28^z Besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches.

29^a Who is weak, and I am not weak ? who is offended, and I burn not ?

30^b If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.

31^c The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32^d In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me :

33 And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAPTER XII.

1 He chooseth to commend his apostleship, not by revelations, but by his infirmities, blaming them for forcing his boasting.

^a It is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord

2^b I knew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body I cannot tell ; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell : God knoweth ;) such a one caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I knew such a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell : God knoweth ;)

4 How that he was caught up into paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter.

5^c Of such a one will I glory : yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6^d For though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool ; for I will say the truth : but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7^e And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan, to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8^f For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

9^g And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee : for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

10^h Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake : for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11ⁱ I am become a fool in glorying ; ye have compelled me : for I ought to have been commended of you : for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though I be nothing.

12^j Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13^k For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that I myself was not burdensome to you ? forgive me this wrong.

14^l Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you ; and I will not be burdensome to you : for I seek not yours, but you : for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15^m And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you ; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

16 But be it so, I did not burden you ; nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile.

17ⁿ Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you ?

18^o I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother : did Titus make a gain of you ? walked we not in the same spirit ? walked we not in the same steps ?

19^p Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you ? we speak before God in Christ : but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20^q For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not : lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults :

CHAPTER XIII.

1 He threateneth obstinate sinners: 5 He adviseth them to a trial of their faith.

^a THIS is the third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 ^b I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent, now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare:

3 ^c Since ye seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty in you.

4 ^d For though he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5 ^e Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the GALATIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul's salutation: 6 he wonders that they had so soon left the truth of the gospel, &c.

^a PAUL, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead;)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia:

3 ^b Grace be to you, and peace, from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 ^c Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 ^d I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel:

7 ^e Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 ^f But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 ^g As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 ^h For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 ⁱ But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

12 ^k For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 ^l For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it;

14 And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 ^m But when it pleased God, who separated me

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 ⁿ Now I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8 ^o For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 ^p For we are glad, when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even your perfection.

10 ^q Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 ^r Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

12 ^s Greet one another with a holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

¶ The second epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

16 ⁿ To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

18 ^o Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 ^p But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother.

20 ^q Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21 ^r Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22 And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ:

23 But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past, now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAPTER II.

1 He sheweth when and for what purpose he went up to Jerusalem.... 14 Of justification by faith, and not by works: 20 They that are so justified live not in sin.

^a THEN, || fourteen years after, I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.

2 ^b And I went up by revelation, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles; but privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in vain:

3 ^c But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 ^d And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage:

5 ° To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 † But of those who † seemed to be somewhat, whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person: for they who seemed to be somewhat, in conference added nothing to me:

7 ° But contrariwise, when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter;

8 † (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles;)

9 † And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do.

11 † But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 † For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 † But when I saw that they || walked not uprightly, according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

15 † We who are Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,

16 ° Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 † But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I † destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19 † For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God.

20 † I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 † I do not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAPTER III.

1 He asketh what moved them to depend on the law, having received the Spirit through faith....6 Abraham being justified by faith, so they who are of faith inherit his blessing.

° FOOLISH Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 † This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

3 ° Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh?

4 † Have ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5 ° He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6 † Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.

7 † Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 † And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10 † For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

11 † But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith.

12 † And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them.

13 † Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

14 † That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 ° Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; Though it be but a man's covenant: yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

16 † Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

17 † And this I say, That the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 † For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19 † Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a mediator of one; but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

22 † But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

24 † Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.

26 † For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27 ^y For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ.

28 ^z There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

29 ^a And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The Jews were for a while under the law, 4 but Christ came to redeem, and to give both to Jews and Gentiles the adoption of sons....11 Paul's tender regard for them.

NOW I say, That the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all;

2 But is under tutors and governors, until the time appointed of the father.

3 ^b Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world:

4 ^c But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law,

5 ^d To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.

6 ^e And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

7 ^f Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

8 ^g Howbeit, then when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

9 ^h But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

10 ⁱ Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years.

11 ^k I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

12 ^l Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: ye have not injured me at all.

13 ^m Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you at the first:

14 ⁿ And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected: but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

15 Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 ^o Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 ^p They zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude you, that ye might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.

19 ^q My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you,

20 I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

22 ^r For it is written, That Abraham had two sons; the one by a bond-maid, the other by a free-woman.

23 ^s But he who was of the bond-woman was born after the flesh; but he of the free-woman was by promise.

24 ^t Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants; the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar.

25 For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

26 ^u But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.

27 ^x For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not; for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath a husband.

28 ^y Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

29 ^z But as then he that was born after the flesh, persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.

30 ^a Nevertheless what saith the scripture? Cast out the bond-woman and her son: for the son of the bond-woman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman.

31 ^b So then, brethren, we are not children of the bond-woman, but of the free.

CHAPTER V.

1 He moveth them to maintain their Christian liberty, 3 and not to observe circumcision, 13 but rather love....19 The works of the flesh; 22 the fruits of the Spirit.

STAND fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

2 ^b Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 ^c For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 ^d Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law: ye are fallen from grace.

5 ^e For we through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

6 ^f For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love.

7 ^g Ye did run well; who did hinder you, that ye should not obey the truth?

8 ^h This persuasion cometh not of him that calleth you.

9 ⁱ A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 ^k I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.

11 ^l And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? then is the offence of the cross ceased.

12 ^m I would they were even cut off which trouble you.

13 ⁿ For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

14 ^o For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

15 ^p But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 ^q This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

17 ^r For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

18 ^s But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 ^t Now the works of the flesh are manifest; which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 ^a Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 ^x But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, 23 ^y Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.

24 ^z And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.

25 ^a If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 ^b Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER VI.

1 He willeth them to reform the faulty with gentleness, and to bear one another's burdens; 6 to be liberal to their teachers, 9 and not to be weary in well-doing.

BRETHREN, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ^a ye which are spiritual restore such a one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

2 ^b Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

3 ^c For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4 ^d But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another:

5 ^e For every man shall bear his own burden.

6 ^f Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.

7 ^g Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 ^h For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

9 ⁱ And let us not be weary in well-doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

10 ^k As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 ^l As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised, only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.

13 ^m For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14 ⁿ But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

15 ^o For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.

16 ^p And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

17 ^q From henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.

18 ^r Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

¶ Unto the Galatians, written from Rome.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the EPHESIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul blesseth God for spiritual blessings....4 Of election, 5 and adoption, 11 which is the proper fountain of man's salvation, &c.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:

2 ^b Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^c Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ:

4 ^d According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy, and without blame before him in love:

5 ^e Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 ^f To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the Beloved:

7 ^g In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace;

8 ^h Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence;

9 ⁱ Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself:

10 ^k That in the dispensation of the fulness of times, he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven and which are on earth; even in him:

11 ^l In whom also we have obtained an [†] inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:

12 ^m That we should be to the praise of his glory, who first trusted in Christ.

13 ⁿ In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also, after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise, 14 ^o Which is the earnest of our inheritance, until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.

15 ^p Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints,

16 ^q Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers;

17 ^r That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him:

18 ^s The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,

19 ^t And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power, him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places,

21 ^a Far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named not only in this world, but also in that which is to come;

22 ^a And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church,

23 Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

CHAPTER II.

1 What the Ephesians' state was; God's mercy in their deliverance....8 Though saved by grace, yet created unto good works.

^a AND you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins;

2 ^b Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience:

3 ^c Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

4 ^d But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us,

5 ^e Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved;)

6 ^f And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus;

7 ^g That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus.

8 ^h For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God:

9 ⁱ Not of works, lest any man should boast.

10 ^k For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

11 ^l Wherefore remember, that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands;

12 ^m That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world:

13 ⁿ But now, in Christ Jesus, ye who sometimes were far off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 ^o For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us;

15 ^p Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace;

16 ^q And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby;

17 ^r And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh.

18 ^s For through him we both have an access by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 ^t Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God;

20 ^u And are built upon the foundation of the aposles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone;

21 ^x In whom all the building, fitly framed together, groweth unto a holy temple in the Lord:

22 ^y In whom ye also are builded together for a habitation of God through the Spirit.

CHAPTER III.

1 The hidden mystery of their calling had been revealed unto him; 14 he prayeth that their faith may be strengthened.

^a FOR this cause I Paul, the prisoner of Jesus Christ for you Gentiles,

2 ^b If ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is given me to you-ward:

3 ^c How that by revelation he made known unto me the mystery; as I wrote afore in few words,

4 Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ;

5 ^d Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit;

6 ^e That the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel;

7 ^f Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power.

8 ^g Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ;

9 ^h And to make all men see, what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ:

10 ⁱ To the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known, by the church, the manifold wisdom of God,

11 ^k According to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord:

12 ^l In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.

13 ^m Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

15 ⁿ Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named;

16 ^o That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man;

17 ^p That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love,

18 ^q May be able to comprehend with all saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height;

19 ^r And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.

20 ^s Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think; according to the power that worketh in us,

21 ^t Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus, throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth to unity; 24 to put on the new man; 25 to cast off lying, 29 corrupt communication, 31 and all bitterness, &c.

^a I THEREFORE, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called.

2^b With all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love;

3^c Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

4^d There is one body and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling;

5^e One Lord, one faith, one baptism,

6^f One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.

7^g But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8^h Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9ⁱ (Now, that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

10^k He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)

11^l And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;

12^m For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:

13ⁿ Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ:

14^o That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive;

15^p But, speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ:

16^q From whom the whole body fitly joined together, and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

17^r This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind,

18^s Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart;

19^t Who being past feeling, have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20 But ye have not so learned Christ;

21^u If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:

22^v That ye put off, concerning the former conversation, the old man, which is corrupt, according to the deceitful lusts;

23^w And be renewed in the spirit of your mind;

24 And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.

25^x Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26^y Be ye angry and sin not; let not the sun go down upon your wrath:

27^z Neither give place to the devil.

28^{aa} Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.

29^{bb} Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

30^c And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

31^d Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil-speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

32^e And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER V.

2 He exhorteth to love; 3 to flee fornication; 15 to walk with prudence....22 The duty of wives, 25 and of husbands.

BE ye therefore followers of God, as dear children; 2^b And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savour.

3^c But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints;

4^d Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient; but rather giving of thanks.

5^e For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6^f Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them:

8^g For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light;

9^h (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth:)

10ⁱ Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.

11^k And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them.

12^l For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13^m But all things that are reprov'd are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.

14ⁿ Wherefore he saith, Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

15^o See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,

16 Redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

17^p Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is.

18^q And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit;

19^r Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord;

20^s Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ:

21^t Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

22^u Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.

23^x For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the Saviour of the body.

24 Therefore, as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

25^y Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it:

26 ^a That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word :

27 ^a That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies : he that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh ; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church :

30 ^b For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 ^c For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery : but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

33 ^d Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself ; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The relative duties of children ; 4 of parents ; 5 of servants ; 9 of masters.... 13 He exhorteth to resist spiritual enemies by putting on the Christian armour.

^a CHILDREN, obey your parents in the Lord : for this is right.

2 ^b Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise,)

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 ^c And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath : but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 ^d Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters, according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ ;

6 ^e Not with eye-service, as men-pleasers ; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart ;

7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men :

8 ^f Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

9 ^g And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening : knowing that your Master also is in heaven ; neither is there respect of persons with him.

10 ^h Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 ⁱ Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12 ^k For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

13 ^l Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

14 ^m Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness ;

15 ⁿ And your feet shod, with the preparation of the gospel of peace ;

16 ^o Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

17 ^p And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God :

18 ^q Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints ;

19 ^r And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel,

20 ^s For which I am an ambassador in bonds ; that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 ^t But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things :

22 ^u Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.

23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome unto the Ephesians by Tychicus.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the PHILIPPIANS.

CHAPTER I.

3 Paul's thankfulness and prayer to God for them : 21 his readiness to suffer : 27 he exhorteth them to walk worthily.

^a PAUL and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons :

2 ^b Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^c I thank my God upon every remembrance of you,

4 (Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,)

5 ^d For your fellowship in the gospel, from the first day until now ;

6 ^e Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ :

7 ^f Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart ; inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace.

8 ^g For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9 ^h And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment ;

10 ⁱ That ye may approve things that are excellent ; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ ;

11 ^k Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel :

13 ^l So that my bonds in Christ are manifest in all the palace, and in all other places ;

14 ^m And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15^a Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife, and some also of good will.

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds;

17^o But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19^p For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,

20^a According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also, Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

21^r || For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22^s But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.

23^t For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better:

24 Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

25^u And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and joy of faith;

26^x That your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me, by my coming to you again.

27^y Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ; that, whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind, striving together for the faith of the gospel;

28^z And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God.

29^a For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake;

30^b Having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

CHAPTER II.

1 Love and unity recommended; 3 humility; 12 to be diligent in the way of salvation; 14 and cheerfully to submit to God's will.

IF there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies,

2^b Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.

3^c Let nothing be done through strife or vain glory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

4^d Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

5^e Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6^f Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God;

7^g But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men:

8^h And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

9ⁱ Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name;

10^k That † at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

11^l And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12^m Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling:

13ⁿ For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do his good pleasure.

14^o Do all things without murmurings and disputings;

15^p That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world;

16^q Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

17^r Yea, and if I be † offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all.

18^s For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.

19^t But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20^u For I have no man like-minded, who will naturally care for your state.

21^x For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.

22^y But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24^z But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

25^a Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellow-soldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.

26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

29^b Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation:

30^c Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAPTER III.

2 To beware of false teachers; 4 his grounds of confidence, 7 but that he disclaimed them all; 12 his anxiety for the heavenly prize.

FINALLY, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

2^b Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the concision.

3^c For we are the circumcision, which worship

1 Pet. 5, 12,

God in the Spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh :

4^d Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more :

5 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews ; as touching the law, a Pharisee ;

6^c Concerning zeal, persecuting the church ; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.

7^t But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.

8^s Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord : for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

9^h And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith :

10¹ That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death ;

11^k If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.

12¹ Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect : but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended : but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before,

14^m I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

15ⁿ Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded : and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

16^o Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.

17^p Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so, as ye have us for an ensample.

18^a (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ :

19^r Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things.)

20^s For our conversation is in heaven ; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ :

21^t Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAPTER IV.

4 General exhortations ; 10 his joy for their liberality toward him, and God's grace in them.

THEREFORE, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2^b I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3^c And I entreat thee also, true yoke-fellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow-labourers, whose names are in the book of life.

4^d Rejoice in the Lord always : and again I say, Rejoice.

5^e Let your moderation be known unto all men : The Lord is at hand.

6^f Be careful for nothing ; but in every thing by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your request be made known unto God :

7^g And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

8^h Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report ; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

9ⁱ Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do : and the God of peace shall be with you.

10^k But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me hath flourished again ; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

11^l Not that I speak in respect of want : for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

12^m I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound : every where, and in all things, I am instructed, both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13ⁿ I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

14^o Notwithstanding, ye have well done that ye did communicate with my affliction.

15^p Now, ye Philippians, know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

16 For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

17^q Not because I desire a gift ; but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.

18^r But I have all, and abound : I am full, having received of Epaphroditus the things which were sent from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God.

19^s But my God shall supply all your need, according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

20 Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

21 Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with me greet you.

22^t All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Cesar's household.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

It was written to the Philippians from Rome, by Epaphroditus.

The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the COLOSSIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul thanketh God for their faith, 9 prayeth for their increase in grace, 15 and describeth the exalted nature and office of Christ.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,
2 To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints;

5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof we heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel;

6 Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth:

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellow-servant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ;

8 Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;

10 That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

11 Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness;

12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light:

13 Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son:

14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins;

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature:

16 For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him:

17 And he is before all things, and by him all things consist:

18 And he is the head of the body, the church; who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence:

19 For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell;

20 And, having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, that were sometime alienated, and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled,

22 In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy, and unblameable, and unproveable in his sight;

23 If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven; whereof I Paul am made a minister;

24 Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church;

25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God;

26 Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:

27 To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory:

28 Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus:

29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER II.

1 He exhorteth them to constancy in Christ, 8 to beware of philosophy and human traditions, 16 not to submit to legal ordinances, worshipping of angels, &c.

FOR I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

2 That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;

3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:

7 Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ:

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the God-head bodily.

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power;

11 In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ;

12 Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And you, being dead in your sins, and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;

14 Blotting out the hand-writing of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

15 And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16^a Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a holy-day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath-days;

17^r Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

18^s Let no man beguile you of your reward, in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind;

19^t And not holding the head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

20^u Wherefore, if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,

21^v (Touch not; taste not; handle not;

22^x Which all are to perish with the using,) after the commandments and doctrines of men?

23^y Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body; not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAPTER III.

1 He exhorteth to be heavenly minded; 5 to mortify corrupt lusts, and all malice; 12 to put on kindness, charity, &c.

18 Sundry other relative duties.

I F ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

2^b Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3^c For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4^d When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

5^e Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry:

6^f For which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience:

7^g In the which ye also walked sometime, when ye lived in them.

8^h But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9ⁱ Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;

10^k And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him:

11^l Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.

12^m Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering;

13ⁿ Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

14^o And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.

15^p And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful.

16^q Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17^r And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18^s Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord.

19^t Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.

20^u Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well-pleasing unto the Lord.

21^v Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22^y Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eye-service, as men-pleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

23 And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

24^z Knowing, that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25^a But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth to be fervent in prayer, 5 to walk wisely, 6 and with well-ordered speech; 7 he commendeth Tychicus and Onesimus....10 Sundry salutations.

MASTERS, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2^b Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;

3^c Withal, praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:

4^d That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5^e Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.

6^f Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7^g All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellow-servant in the Lord;

8 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts;

9^h With Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

10ⁱ Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you, and Marcus, sister's son to Barnabas, (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, receive him;)

11 And Jesus, which is called Justus; who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.

12^k Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

14^l Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas, greet you.

15^m Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea.

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAPTER I.

2 Paul sheweth his remembrance of them in thanksgiving and prayer, 5 and approveth their exemplary reception of the gospel.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2^b We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

3^c Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;

4^d Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.

5^e For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

6^f And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost;

7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

8^g For from you sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.

9^h For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God;

10ⁱ And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER II:

1 In what manner the gospel was preached unto them, and how they received it; 17 he sheweth his desire of coming to them, &c.

FOR yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

2^b But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.

3^c For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4^d But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5^e For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness: God is witness:

6^f Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.

7^g But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children.

8^h So, being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9ⁱ For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:

11^k As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,

12^l That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

13^m For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

14ⁿ For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews;

15^o Who both killed the Lord Jesus and their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God; and are contrary to all men;

16^p Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fill up their sins always; for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

18^q Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but Satan hindered us.

19^r For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER III.

1 Why Paul sent Timothy to them: 6 his good report a consolation to him.

WHEREFORE, when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone;

2^a And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow-labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith;

3^b That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.

5° For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labour be in vain.

6° But now, when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you;

7° Therefore, brethren, we were comforted over you, in all our affliction and distress, by your faith:

8° For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

9° For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10° Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11° Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you.

12° And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13° To the end he may establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints.

CHAPTER IV.

1° He exhorteth to go on in godliness, 7 to holiness, 9 to love, 11 to quietness.... 15 The saints' resurrection, and Christ's second coming.

FURTHERMORE then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus. that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2° For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3° For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:

4° That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

5° Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:

6° That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter; because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7° For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.

8° He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his Holy Spirit.

9° But as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto you; for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.

10° And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more:

11° And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12° That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.

13° But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope.

14° For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

15° For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive, and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16° For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first:

17° Then we which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18° Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER V.

1° He sheweth that Christ's second coming will be sudden, and exhorteth to watch; 14 he giveth divers precepts, &c.

BUT of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.

2° For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3° For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4° But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5° Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6° Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.

7° For they that sleep, sleep in the night; and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8° But let us who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation.

9° For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

10° Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11° Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12° And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13° And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.

14° Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.

15° See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.

16° Rejoice evermore.

17° Pray without ceasing.

18° In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

19° Quench not the Spirit.

20° Despise not prophesyings.

21° Prove all things; hold fast that which is good.

22° Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23° And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

24° Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

25° Brethren, pray for us.

26° Greet all the brethren with a holy kiss.

27° I charge you by the Lord, that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

28° The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2^b Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3^c We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth:

4^d So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure;

5^e Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:

6^f Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;

7^g And to you who are troubled, rest with us: when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels,

8^h In flaming fire, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

9ⁱ Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power;

10^k When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11^l Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power;

12 That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER II.

1 He willeth them to continue steadfast in the truth received; 3 sheweth that there shall be a departure from the faith, 8 and a discovery of antichrist, &c.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him,

2^b That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3^c Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

4^d Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he, as God, sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what withholdeth, that he might be revealed in his time.

7^e For the mystery of iniquity doth already work:

only he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8^f And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:

9^g Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan, with all power and signs and lying wonders,

10^h And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

11ⁱ And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

12^k That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13^l But we are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth:

14 Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of the Lord Jesus Christ.

15^m Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.

16ⁿ Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace, 17^o Comfort your hearts, and establish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER III.

1 He craveth their prayers; 3 he testifieth his confidence in them, praying God to direct them; 6 he giveth them divers precepts, &c.

FINALLY, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

2^b And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.

3^c But the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you, and keep you from evil.

4^d And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

5^e And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.

6^f Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

7^g For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8^h Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

9ⁱ Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10^k For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

11^l For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.

12^m Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13^a But ye, brethren, be not weary in well-doing.

14^a And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15^b Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16^a Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17^a The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

19 The second epistle to the Thessalonians was written from Athens.

20 Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander; whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

21 He exhorteth to pray and give thanks for all men, 4 for God willeth the salvation of all men; 7 his commission to the Gentiles....9 How women ought to be attired, &c.

22 Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not,) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

23 I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

24 In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with broidered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

25 But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

26 Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.

27 But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.

28 For Adam was first formed, then Eve.

29 And Adam was not deceived; but the woman being deceived, was in the transgression.

30 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in childbearing, if they continue in faith, and charity, and holiness, with sobriety.

31 How bishops and deacons, and their wives, should be qualified; 14 and to what end St. Paul wrote to Timothy of these things....16 The important truths of the Christian revelation.

17 This is a true saying. If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.

18 A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

19 That he keep himself, as himself, from being entangled in worldly cares, that he may be able to exhort and rebuke with doctrine.

20 A deacon must be serious, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

21 That he keep himself, as himself, from being entangled in worldly cares, that he may be able to exhort and rebuke with doctrine.

22 The women of deacons must be serious, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

23 That they keep themselves, as themselves, from being entangled in worldly cares, that they may be able to exhort and rebuke with doctrine.

24 The women of deacons must be serious, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

25 That they keep themselves, as themselves, from being entangled in worldly cares, that they may be able to exhort and rebuke with doctrine.

26 The women of deacons must be serious, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

27 That they keep themselves, as themselves, from being entangled in worldly cares, that they may be able to exhort and rebuke with doctrine.

28 The women of deacons must be serious, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

3^e Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;

4 One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride, he fall into the condemnation of the devil.

7^d Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach, and the snare of the devil.

8^e Likewise must the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

9^f Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.

11 Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.

13^g For they that have used the office of a deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14^h These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:

15ⁱ But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

16^k And, without controversy, great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He foretelleth and describeth a great apostacy....6 Directions to Timothy.

NOW the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils;

2^b Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron:

3^c Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

4^d For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6^e If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7^f But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness.

8^g For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9^h This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance.

10ⁱ For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those that believe.

11 These things command and teach.

12^k Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13^l Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14^m Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them: that thy profiting may appear to all.

16ⁿ Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER V.

1 Rules to be observed in reproving....3 Of widows and elders.

23 A precept for Timothy's health.

REBUKE not an elder, but entreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

2^b The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3^c Honour widows that are widows indeed.

4^d But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5^e Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But she that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth.

7^f And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8^g But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

9 Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,

10^h Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry:

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13ⁱ And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also, and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14^k I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16^j If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

17^m Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18ⁿ For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn: and, The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19^o Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.

20^p Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.

21 ^a I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 ^r Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

23 ^s Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and thine often infirmities.

24 ^t Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The duty of servants....3 To avoid corrupt teachers....6 The gain of godliness.

LET as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 ^b If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness,

4 ^c He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,

5 ^d Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.

6 ^e But godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 ^f For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

8 ^g And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content.

9 ^h But they that will be rich, fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 ⁱ For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 ^k But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

12 ^l Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 ^m I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession;

14 ⁿ That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:

15 ^o Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords;

16 ^p Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; whom no man hath seen nor can see: to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 ^q Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy;

18 ^r That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate;

19 ^s Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.

20 ^t O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called:

21 ^u Which some professing, have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

^v The first to Timothy was written from Laodicea, which is the chiefest city of Phrygia Pacatiana.

¶ The Second Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to TIMOTHY.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul's love to Timothy: 6 he exhorteth him to stir up the gift of God, 8 and not to be ashamed of the gospel of Christ.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,

2 ^a To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 ^b I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 ^c Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;

5 ^d When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 ^e Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 ^f For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 ^g Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God:

9 ^h Who hath saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began;

10 ⁱ But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 ^k Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 ^l For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.

13 ^m Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

15 ^o This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 ^p The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus; for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain :

17 ^q But when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 ^r The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day : and in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAPTER II.

1 Timothy exhorted to constancy and perseverance, 15 and to shew himself approved.

^a THOU therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 ^b And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 ^c Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

4 ^d No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life ; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 ^e The husbandman that laboreth must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say ; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 ^f Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of David, was raised from the dead according to my gospel :

9 ^g Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil-doer, even unto bonds ; but the word of God is not bound.

10 ^h Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

11 ⁱ It is a faithful saying : For if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him :

12 ^k If we suffer, we shall also reign with him : If we deny him, he also will deny us :

13 ^l If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful ; he cannot deny himself.

14 ^m Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.

15 ⁿ Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 ^o But shun profane and vain babblings ; for they will increase unto more ungodliness :

17 ^p And their word will eat as doth a canker : of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus ;

18 ^q Who concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already ; and overthrow the faith of some.

19 ^r Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity.

20 ^s But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth ; and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 ^t If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work.

22 ^u Flee also youthful lusts ; but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

23 ^x But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 ^y And the servant of the Lord must not strive ; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient ;

25 ^z In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves : if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth ;

26 ^a And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will.

CHAPTER III.

1 He foretelleth the wickedness in the last days, 6 describeth the enemies of the truth, 16 and commendeth the holy scriptures.

^a THIS know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come.

2 ^b For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 ^c Without natural affection, truce-breakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 ^d Traitors, heady, high-minded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God ;

5 ^e Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof : from such turn away.

6 ^f For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts ;

7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 ^g Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth : men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith.

9 ^h But they shall proceed no further : for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as theirs also was.

10 ⁱ But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, long-suffering, charity, patience,

11 ^k Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra ; what persecutions I endured : but out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 ^l Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

13 ^m But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

14 ⁿ But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them ;

15 ^o And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

16 ^p All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness :

17 ^q That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Paul's solemn charge to Timothy ; 9 he willeth him to come to him, and to bring Mark with him and certain other things.

^a I CHARGE thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom ;

3^c For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears;

4^d And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.

5^e But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry.

6^f For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.

7^g I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:

8^h Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

9ⁱ Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:

10^k For Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.

11^l Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee; for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

12^m And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

14^a Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord reward him according to his works:

15 Of whom be thou ware also; for he hath greatly withstood our words.

16^b At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

17^c Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me: that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

18^d And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, to TITUS.

CHAPTER I.

5 Why Titus was left at Crete.... 10 Of evil-doers.
PAUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness;

2^b In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began;

3^c But hath in due time manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me, according to the commandment of God our Saviour;

4^d To Titus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5^e For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6^f If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, not accused of riot, or unruly.

7^g For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;

8^h But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate:

9ⁱ Holding fast the faithful word, as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10^k For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision:

11^l Whose mouths must be stopped; who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13^m This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply; that they may be sound in the faith:

14^a Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men that turn from the truth.

15^b Unto the pure all things are pure; but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16^c They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

CHAPTER II.

1 Directions given unto Titus both for his doctrine and life.
9 Of the duty of servants, &c.

BUT speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience;

3^b The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children, 5^c To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be sober-minded.

7^d In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works; in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,

8^e Sound speech that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9^f Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again;

10 ^s Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity ; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11 ^h For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men,

12 ⁱ Teaching us, that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world :

13 ^k Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ ;

14 ^l Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

15 ^m These things speak, and exhort ; and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER III.

Titus is yet further directed by Paul, both concerning the things he should teach, and not teach, &c.

PUT them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work,

2 ^b To speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men.

3 ^c For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

4 ^d But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5 ^e Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost :

6 ^f Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour ;

7 ^g That, being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

8 ^h This is a faithful saying ; and these things. I will that thou affirm constantly ; that they which have believed in God might be careful to † maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.

9 ⁱ But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law ; for they are unprofitable and vain.

10 ^k A man that is a heretic, after the first and second admonition, reject ;

11 Knowing that he that is such, is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned of himself.

12 ^l When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis : for I have determined there to winter.

13 ^m Bring Zenas the lawyer, and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.

14 ⁿ And let ours also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitful.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

† It was written to Titus, ordained the first bishop of the church of the Cretians, from Nicopolis of Macedonia.

† The Epistle of PAUL to PHILEMON.

1 Paul's joy in hearing of the faith and love of Philemon.
10 Onesimus entreated for.

PAUL, a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellow-labourer,

2 ^b And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church in thy house :

3 Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 ^c I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5 ^d Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints ;

6 ^e That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7 ^f For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 ^g Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that which is convenient,

9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10 ^h I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds :

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me :

12 Whom I have sent again : thou therefore receive him, that is mine own bowels :

13 ⁱ Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel :

14 ^k But without thy mind would I do nothing ; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15 ^l For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever ;

16 ^m Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, especially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord ?

17 If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account ;

19 I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it : albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord : refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21 ⁿ Having confidence in thy obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22 ^o But withal prepare me also a lodging : for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23 ^p There salute thee Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus ;

24 ^q Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, my fellow-labourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

† Written from Rome to Philemon, by Onesimus a servant.

CHAPTER I.

1 The essential dignity of the Son, by whom God hath revealed himself in these last days : 4 his pre-eminence above the angels in office.

GOD, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

2^b Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds ;

3^c Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high ;

4^d Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5^e For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee ? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son ?

6^f And again, when he bringeth in the first-begotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him :

7^g And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8^h But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever : a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom :

9ⁱ Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity ; therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10^k And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth ; and the heavens are the works of thy hands :

11 They shall perish, but thou remainest ; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment ;

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed : but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail

13^l But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool ?

14^m Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation ?

CHAPTER II.

1 Our obligation to give earnest heed to the gospel....5 The dominion of the world not granted to angels, but to the Son, &c.

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2^b For if the word spoken by angels was steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward ;

3^c How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation ; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him ;

4^d God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will ?

5^e For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.

6^f But one in a certain place testified, saying,

What is man, that thou art mindful of him ? or the son of man, that thou visitest him ?

7^g Thou madest him a little lower than the angels ; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands ;

8^h Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him :

9ⁱ But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels, for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour ; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

10^k For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11^l For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one : for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren ;

12^m Saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren ; in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

13ⁿ And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I, and the children, which God hath given me.

14^o Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same ; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil ;

15^p And deliver them who through fear of death were all their life-time subject to bondage.

16 For verily he took not on him the nature of angels ; but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17^q Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people :

18^r For in that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ is shewed to be more worthy than Moses : 7 therefore we must be careful not to follow the example of the obstinate and unbelieving Israelites, &c.

WHEREFORE, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus ;

2^b Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.

3^c For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.

4^d For every house is builded by some mun ; but he that built all things is God.

5^e And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after :

6^f But Christ as a Son over his own house ; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

7^g Wherefore (as the Holy Ghost saith, To-day, if ye will hear his voice,

8^h Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness ;

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

10ⁱ Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do always err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

11^k So I swear in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.)

12^l Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13^m But exhort one another daily, while it is called To-day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14ⁿ For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end;

15^o While it is said, To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16^p For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17^q But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness?

18^r And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19^s So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The Christian's rest to be attained by faith...12 The power of God's word, &c.

LET us therefore fear, lest a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2^b For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3^c For we which have believed do enter into rest; as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4^d For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6^e Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7^f Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To-day, after so long a time; (as it is said) To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9^g There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10^h For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

11ⁱ Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.

12^k For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13^l Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14^m Seeing then that we have a great High Priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

15ⁿ For we have not a high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

16^o Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER V.

Of the high priests taken from among men; wherewith Christ's priesthood is compared, and its privileges set forth.

FOR every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2^b Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity.

3^c And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4^d And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5^e So also Christ glorified not himself to be made a high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee.

6^f As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedec.

7^g Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears, unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared;

8^h Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;

9ⁱ And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10^k Called of God a high priest, after the order of Melchisedec.

11^l Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12^m For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13ⁿ For every one that useth milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use, have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The higher doctrines of Christianity proposed to be treated of...10 Of charitable deeds, &c.

THEREFORE, leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,

2^b Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.

3^c And this will we do, if God permit.

4^d For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost,

5^e And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,

6^f If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God:

8^a But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

10^b For God is not unrighteous, to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.

11ⁱ And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end:

12^k That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13^l For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he sware by himself,

14 Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.

15^m And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16ⁿ For men verily swear by the greater: and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17^o Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath;

18^p That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us:

19^q Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that within the vail;

20^r Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made a high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ, a priest after the order of Melchisedec, is proved to be far more excellent than the priests of Aaron's order.

2^a FOR this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

3 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all: first being, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and after that also, King of Salem, which is, King of peace;

4 Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but, made like unto the Son of God, abideth a priest continually.

5^b Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

6^c And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:

7^d But he, whose descent is not counted from them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

8^e And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.

9^f And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.

10^g For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

11^h If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity, a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14ⁱ For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15^j And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest, 16 Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17^k For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

18^l For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof:

19^m For the law made nothing perfect; but the bringing in of a better hope did; by the which we draw nigh unto God.

20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest;

21ⁿ (For those priests were made without an oath; but this with an oath, by him that said unto him, The Lord sware, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec;)

22^o By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament.

23^p And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death:

24 But this man, because he continueth ever hath an unchangeable priesthood.

25^q Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26^r For such a high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens;

27^s Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

28^t For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 The excellency of Christ's ministry, 6 being the mediator of a better covenant.

2^a NOW of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such a high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens;

3^b A minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

4^c For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

4^a For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that there are priests that offer gifts according to the law;

5^e Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for, See, (saith he) that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount.

6^f But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises.

7^g For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8^h For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;

9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt: because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10ⁱ For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord: I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

11^k And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12^l For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER IX.

1 By the imperfection of the legal sacrifices, 11 he sheweth the efficacy of the blood of Christ....16 The necessity of Christ's death.

THEN verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.

2^b For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shew-bread, which is called the Sanctuary:

3^c And, after the second vail, the tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of all;

4^d Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant;

5^e And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercy-seat: of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6^f Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God:

7^g But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

8^h The Holy Ghost this signifying, That the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9ⁱ Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect as pertaining to the conscience;

10^k Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.

11^l But Christ being come a high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;

12^m Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood, he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

13ⁿ For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh;

14^o How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

15^p And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.

17^q For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

18 Whereupon neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.

19^r For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book and all the people,

20^s Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

21^t Moreover, he sprinkled likewise with blood both the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry.

22^u And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23^v It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24^w For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us:

25^x Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

26^y For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once, in the end of the world, hath he appeared, to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27^z And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment;

28^a So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time, without sin, unto salvation.

CHAPTER X.

1 The law-sacrifices ineffectual to take away sins....10 By the offering of Christ's body once we obtain perfect remission, &c.

by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.

2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

5 Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above, when he said, Sacrifice, and offering, and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin, thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first that he may establish the second.

10 By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth daily ministering, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:

12 But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever sat down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

17 And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,

20 By a new and living way which he hath consecrated for us, through the vail, that is to say, his flesh;

21 And having a high priest over the house of God;

22 Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for he is faithful that promised;)

24 And let us consider one another, to provoke unto love, and to good works:

25 Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more as ye see the day approaching.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment, and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.

28 He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses:

29 Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilst ye were made a gazing-stock, both by reproaches and afflictions: and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompense of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience; that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition, but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The nature of faith....6 Without faith we cannot please God: the fruits of faith.

NOW faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he, being dead, yet speaketh.

5 By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

7 By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

11 ^k Through faith also Sarah herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

12 ^l Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 ^m These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned:

16 ⁿ But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God; for he hath prepared for them a city.

17 ^o By faith Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac; and he that had received the promises, offered up his only-begotten son,

18 ^p Of whom it was said, That in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

19 ^q Accounting that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead; from whence also he received him in a figure.

20 ^r By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

21 ^s By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed both the sons of Joseph; and worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff.

22 ^t By faith Joseph, when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23 ^u By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's commandment.

24 ^v By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter:

25 Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season;

26 ^w Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward.

27 ^x By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.

28 ^y Through faith he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the first-born should touch them.

29 ^z By faith they passed through the Red Sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do, were drowned.

30 ^a By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.

31 ^b By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the spies with peace.

32 ^c And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of Gedeon, and of Barak, and of Samson, and of Jephthae; of David also, and Samuel, and of the prophets;

33 ^d Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,

34 ^e Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 ^f Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection.

36 ^g And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover, of bonds and imprisonment:

37 ^h They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheep-skins and goat-skins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented;

38 ⁱ (Of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.

39 ^j And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise;

40 ^k God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

CHAPTER XII.

1 An exhortation to patience and constancy; 14 to follow peace and holiness.... 25 The danger of refusing the word.

^a WHEREFORE, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

2 ^b Looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith; who, for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 ^c For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 ^d Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 ^e And ye have forgotten the exhortation, which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:

6 ^f For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 ^g If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons, for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 ^h But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 ⁱ Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh, which corrected us; and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?

10 ^k For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 ^l Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 ^m Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees:

13 ⁿ And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather be healed.

14 ^o Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord:

15 ^p Looking diligently, lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

16^a Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright.

17^a For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18^a For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19^a And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard, entreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20^a (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart.

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

22^a But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels,

23^a To the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect,

24^a And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

25^a See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26^a Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27^a And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28^a Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

29^a For our God is a consuming fire.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Exhortations to charity, 2 to hospitality, 3 pity to the afflicted, 4 chastity, 5 contentment, 7 to regard God's preachers, 9 to avoid strange doctrines, &c.

LET brotherly love continue.
2^b Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.

3^c Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.

4^d Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

5^e Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee.

6^f So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.

7^g Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation:

8^h Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever.

9ⁱ Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

10^k We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.

11^l For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.

12^m Wherefore Jesus also that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.

13ⁿ Let us go forth therefore unto him, without the camp, bearing his reproach:

14^o For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.

15^p By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to his name.

16^q But to do good, and to communicate, forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

17^r Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account; that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

18^s Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.

19^t But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20^u Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant,

21^v Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation: for I have written a letter unto you in few words.

23^w Know ye that our brother Timothy is set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

24 Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.

25 Grace be with you all. Amen.

¶ Written to the Hebrews from Italy by Timothy.

¶ The general Epistle of JAMES.

CHAPTER I.

1 The Apostle's address: he exhorteth to patience in affliction, 6 to pray in faith.... 14 Our lusts tempt us to sin.

JAMES, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2^a My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations;

3^b Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5^c If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.

6 But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways.

9 Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted;

10 But the rich in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth; and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 Every good gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

22 But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Pure religion, and undefiled before God and the Father, is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAPTER II.

1 We must not regard the rich, and despise the poor....10 The guilt of any one breach of the law....17 Faith without works is dead.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel; and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool

4 Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment-seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

11 For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.

13 For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy, and mercy rejoiceth against judgment.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? Can faith save him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAPTER III.

1 We must not rashly or arrogantly reprove others....2 The importance of governing the tongue....13 How true wisdom will manifest itself, in opposition to strife and envy.

MY brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3^e Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4^d Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!

6^e And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind:

8^f But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.

9^g Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same [†] place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear olive-berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13^h Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom.

14ⁱ But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15^k This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish.

16^j For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

17^m But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy.

18ⁿ And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Our evil lusts cause contention: 7 how we may overcome them, and gain God's favour.

FROM whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members?

2^b Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3^c Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

4^d Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, is the enemy of God.

5^e Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy?

6^f But he giveth more grace: wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7^g Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8^h Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you.

Cleanse your hands, ye sinners: and purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

9ⁱ Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10^k Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11^l Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12^m There is one Lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?

13ⁿ Go to now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:

14^o Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow: for what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15^p For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.

16^q But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.

17^r Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAPTER V.

1 Wicked rich men warned of God's judgments....7 Of patience.

13 To pray in adversity.

GO to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2^b Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten.

3^c Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4^d Behold, the hire of the labourers which have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.

5^e Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6^f Ye have condemned and killed the just: and he doth not resist you.

7^g Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

8^h Be ye also patient; establish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9ⁱ Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the Judge standeth before the door.

10^k Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11^l Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

12^m But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

13^a Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing psalms.

14^a Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:

15^a And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

16^a Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17^a Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

18^a And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19^a Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him,

20^a Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins.

¶ The First Epistle General of PETER.

CHAPTER I.

1 The apostle's address: 3 he blesseth God for their hope of a blessed immortality: 10 he sheweth that their salvation in Christ had been foretold by the prophets of old, &c.

P^aETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bythinia,

2^b Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you and peace be multiplied.

3^c Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4^d To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you.

5^e Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time:

6^f Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7^g That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise, and honour, and glory, at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

8^h Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:

9ⁱ Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10^k Of which salvation the prophets have inquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11^l Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12^m Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us, they did minister the things which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you, with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; which things the angels desire to look into.

13ⁿ Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ:

14^o As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance:

15^p But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16^q Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy.

17^r And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear:

18^s Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers;

19^t But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

20^u Who verily was fore-ordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you;

21^v Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God.

22^w Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

23^x Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

24^y For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:

25 But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAPTER II.

1 He inciteth them against uncharitableness; 4 he sheweth their privileges through Christ the chief corner-stone: 11 he beseecheth them to abstain from fleshly lusts, &c.

W^aHEREFORE, laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

2 As new-born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3^b If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious:

4^c To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5^d Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6^e Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner-stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded:

7^f Unto you therefore which believe, he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8^g And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed.

9^h But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:

10ⁱ Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11^k Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;

12^l Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that whereas they speak against you as evil doers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13^m Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake; whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14ⁿ Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15^o For so is the will of God, that with well-doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men;

16^p As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

17^q Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

18^r Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.

19^s For this is thank-worthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.

20^t For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

21^u For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

22^x Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:

23^y Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:

24^z Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed.

25^a For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

CHAPTER III.

1 He teacheth the duty of wives and husbands, 8 exhorting all men to unity and love, 14 and to suffer boldly for righteousness' sake.

LIKewise, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives;

2 While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3^b Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;

4^c But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner, in the old time, the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

6^d Even as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7^e Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered.

8^f Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another; love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

9^g Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.

10^h For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

11ⁱ Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12^k For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

13^l And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14^m But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;

15ⁿ But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts; and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear:

16^o Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evil doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing.

18^p For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

19^q By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison;

20^r Which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is eight souls, were saved by water.

21^s The like figure whereunto, even baptism, doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22^t Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels, and authorities, and powers, being made subject unto him.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth them to cease from sin by the example of Christ.... 7 By the approaching end of all things he exhorteth them to sobriety, charity, &c.

FORASMUCH then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sin:

2^b That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3^c For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4^d Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:

1 John 4, 20.

5 ° Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6 ° For, for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 ° But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8 ° And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.

9 ° Use hospitality one to another, without grudging.

10 ° As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11 ° If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ; to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 ° Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

13 ° But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 ° If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 ° But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil-doer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.

16 ° Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.

17 ° For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18 ° And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 ° Wherefore, let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their souls to him in well-doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

¶ The Second Epistle general of PETER.

CHAPTER I.

Peter, saluting the Christians, admonisheth them of the gifts and promises of the gospel, &c.

1 ° SIMON Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:

2 ° Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

3 ° According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue:

4 ° Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises; that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 ° And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge;

6 And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness;

CHAPTER V.

1 The elders exhorted to feed the flock of Christ; 5 the younger to obey the elder; 8 and all to be sober, watchful, and steadfast in the faith, resisting the devil, &c.

1 ° THE elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

2 ° Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;

3 ° Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

4 ° And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

5 ° Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder: yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

6 ° Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 ° Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

8 ° Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about seeking whom he may devour:

9 ° Whom resist, steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 ° But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you:

11 ° To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 ° By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.

13 ° The church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth Marcus my son.

14 ° Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity. Peace be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

7 ° And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.

8 ° For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 ° But he that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

10 ° Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure; for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 ° Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 ° Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up, by putting you in remembrance;

14 ° Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

15^a Moreover, I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16^o For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of his majesty.

17^p For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

18^q And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19^r We have also a more sure word of prophecy: whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts:

20^s Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation.

21^t For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER II.

He foretelleth them of false teachers, shewing the impiety and punishment of them and their followers, &c.

BUT there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3^b And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4^c For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5^d And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6^e And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into ashes, condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7^f And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8^g (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds:)

9^h The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

10ⁱ But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government: presumptuous are they, self-willed; they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11^k Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

12^l But these, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption:

13^m And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day-time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings, while they feast with you;

14ⁿ Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: a heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

15^o Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16^p But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass, speaking with man's voice, forbade the madness of the prophet.

17^q These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18^r For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.

19^s While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20^t For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21^u For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22^v But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb. The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and, The sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER III.

1 The certainty of Christ's coming to judgment.... 11 An exhortation to godliness.

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2^b That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3^c Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

4^d And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5^e For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:

6^f Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:

7^g But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8^h But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9ⁱ The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

10^k But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat; the earth also, and the works that are therein, shall be burned up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness;

12^l Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens, being on fire, shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13^m Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14ⁿ Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless:

15^o And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you;

16^p As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17^q Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness:

18^r But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory, both now and for ever. Amen.

¶ The First Epistle general of JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

1 He declareth what he had seen and known of the Word of life....5 The necessity of holiness, in order to fellowship with God.

THAT which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life;

2^b (For the Life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal Life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;)

3^c That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4^d And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

5^e This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6^f If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

7^g But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8^h If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

9ⁱ If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ our advocate and propitiation....3 To know God aright is to keep his commandments, and love our brethren....18 To beware of seducers.

MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2^b And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4^c He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5^d But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.

6^e He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

7^f Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment, which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8^g Again, a new commandment I write unto you; which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.

9^h He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

10ⁱ He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11^j But he that hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12^k I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

13^l I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

14^m I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15ⁿ Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17^p And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18^q Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 ^r They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.

20 ^s But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 ^t Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 ^u Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath the Father also.]

24 ^x Let that therefore abide in you which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

26 ^y These things have I written unto you concerning them that seduce you.

27 ^z But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him.

28 ^a And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 ^b If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER III.

1 He declareth the singular love of God toward us in making us his sons; 3 we therefore ought obediently to keep his commandments, &c.

^a BEHOLD, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God! therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

2 ^b Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.

3 ^c And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 ^d Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 ^e And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin.

6 ^f Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 ^g Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness, is righteous even as he is righteous.

8 ^h He that committeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 ⁱ Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 ^k In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 ^l For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

12 ^m Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 ⁿ Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14 ^o We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 ^p Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 ^q Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17 ^r But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?

18 ^s My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

19 ^t And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.

20 For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 ^u Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God:

22 ^x And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 ^y And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.

24 ^z And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He warneth them not to believe all teachers who boast of the Spirit, but to try them by the rules of the catholic faith; 7 and by many reasons exhorteth to brotherly love.

^a BELOVED, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 ^b Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God:

3 ^c And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

4 ^d Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

5 ^e They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 ^f We are of God: he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 ^g Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth, is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 ^h He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God is love.

9 ⁱ In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

10^k Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

11^l Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12^m No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.

13ⁿ Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14^o And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15^p Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16^q And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17^r Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth, is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him, because he first loved us.

20^s If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

21^t And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER V.

1 He that loveth God loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments....4 True faith will overcome the world....11 Believers have eternal life through Christ; 18 they are distinguished from the world by abstaining from sin, and by a right knowledge of God.

a WHOSOEVER believeth that Jesus is the Christ, is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2^b By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3^c For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.

4^d For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

1 He testifieth his regard for a certain pious matron and her children; 5 he exhorteth them to persevere in Christian love and belief, that they lose not their full reward; 10 and to have nothing to do with seducers.

a THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

2^b For the truth's sake which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever.

3^c Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

5^e Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6^f This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7^g For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost; and these three are one.

8^h And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

9ⁱ If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son.

10^k He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God, hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11^l And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.

12^m He that hath the Son, hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.

13ⁿ These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14^o And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16^p If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17^q All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.

18^r We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19^s And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

20^t And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true: and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.

21^u Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

¶ The Second Epistle of JOHN.

1 He testifieth his regard for a certain pious matron and her children; 5 he exhorteth them to persevere in Christian love and belief, that they lose not their full reward; 10 and to have nothing to do with seducers.

a THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

2^b For the truth's sake which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever.

3^c Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4^d I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5^e And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another.

6^f And this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That (as ye have heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it.

7^g For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist.

8^h Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9ⁱ Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10^k If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed:

11 For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his evil deeds.

12^l Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full.

13^m The children of thy elect sister greet thee. Amen.

¶ The Third Epistle of JOHN.

1 He commendeth Gaius for his piety, 5 and hospitality to true preachers; 9 he censureth Diotrophes, and threateneth him for his ambitious opposition, 11 whose evil example is not to be followed.

THE elder unto the well-beloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.

2 Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3^b For I rejoiced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

4^c I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth.

5 Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7^d Because that for his name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8^e We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellow-helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Diotrophes, who loveth to have the pre-eminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.

11^f Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12^g Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself. yea, and we also bear record; and ye know that our record is true.

13^h I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

¶ The General Epistle of JUDE.

1 Jude exhorteth Christians to constancy in the received faith; 4 he foretelleth the punishment of certain false teachers, &c.

JUDE, the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called:

2 Mercy unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied.

3^b Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

4^c For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation; ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5^d I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not.

6^e And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains, under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day.

7^f Even as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

8^g Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.

9^h Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil, he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

10ⁱ But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11^k Wo unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.

12^l These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots;

13^m Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

14ⁿ And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints,

15^o To execute judgment upon all; and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16^p These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage.

17^q But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;

18^r How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19^s These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit.

¶ The REVELATION of St. JOHN the Divine.

CHAPTER I.

4 John's salutation to the seven churches....7 The coming of Christ; 14 his glorious power and majesty.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John:

2^b Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3^c Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4^d JOHN to the seven churches in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne:

5^e And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first-begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

6^f And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7^g Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.

8^h I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.

9ⁱ I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10^k I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, 11^l Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

12^m And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks;

13ⁿ And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

20^t But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost,

21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

22 And of some have compassion, making a difference:

23^u And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

24^x Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25^y To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.

14^o His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15^p And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16^q And he had in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17^r And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last:

18^s I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

19^t Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter;

20^u The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seven churches.

CHAPTER II.

1 What John was commanded to write to the angels of the churches of Ephesus, 8 Smyrna, 12 Pergamos, 18 and Thyatira.

UNTO the angel of the church of Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks;

2^b I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3^c And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.

5^d Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen; and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7^e He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

8^f And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write; These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive;

9^a I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich,) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.

10^b Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried: and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

11^c He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

12^d And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

13^e I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth

14^f But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

15^g So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

16^h Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17ⁱ He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

18^j And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;

19^k I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

20^l Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23^m And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts; and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden:

25ⁿ But that which ye have already, hold fast till I come.

26^o And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations.

27^p (And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers:) even as I received of my Father.

28^q And I will give him the morning star.

29^r He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER III.

1 What John was commanded to write to the angels of the churches of Sardis, 7 Philadelphia, 14 and Laodicea.

AND unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2^b Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard; and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4^c Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

5^d He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7^e And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth;

8^f I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9^g Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10^h Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11ⁱ Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12^j Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God; and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

13 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14^k And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God:

15^l I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then, because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

17^m Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked.

18^o I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see.

19^p As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20^a Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21^r To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

22^s He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER IV.

1 John seeth the throne of God in heaven....4 The four and twenty elders....6 The four beasts full of eyes before and behind, &c.

AFTER this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven; and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

2^b And immediately I was in the Spirit: and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

3^c And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine-stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads crowns of gold.

5^d And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thunderings, and voices: and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6^e And before the throne there was a sea of glass, like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts, full of eyes before and behind.

7^f And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8^g And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beasts give glory, and honour, and thanks, to him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,

10^h The four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11ⁱ Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAPTER V.

1 The book sealed with seven seals, which no man is worthy to open: 6 the Lamb openeth the book: the beasts and elders praise him.

AND I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the back side, sealed with seven seals.

2^b And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3^c And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4^d And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6^e And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb, as it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

8^f And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints.

9^g And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation;

10^h And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

11ⁱ And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne, and the beasts, and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;

12^k Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13^l And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

14^m And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAPTER VI.

The opening of six of the seals in order, and what followed thereupon.

AND I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals; and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts, saying, Come and see.

2^b And I saw, and behold a white horse; and he that sat on him had a bow; and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo, a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.

6^e And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8^d And I looked, and behold, a pale horse; and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him. and power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9^e And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

10^f And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11^g And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow-servants also, and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12^h And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig-tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind:

14ⁱ And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places:

15^k And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every freeman, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

16^l And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

CHAPTER VII.

2 An angel cometh to seal the servants of God in their foreheads: 4 the number of them that were sealed out of each of the tribes of Israel, &c.

AND after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3^b Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed a hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthalim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9^c After this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10^d And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,

12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14^e And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15^f Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.

16^g They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more: neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17^h For the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne, shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 At the opening of the seventh seal, 2 seven angels have seven trumpets given them....6 Four of them sound their trumpets, and great plagues follow, &c.

AND when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2^a And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.

3^b And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4^c And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

5^d And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters ;

11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood ; and the third part of the waters became wormwood ; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

¶ That is, in respect of the vision.2 Thes. 2, 8.
ch. 19, 20.

12 ^h One wo is || past and, behold, there come two woes more hereafter

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,

14 ⁱ Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were || loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.

16 ^k And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand : and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone : and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions : and out of their mouths issued fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 ^l For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails : for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 ^m And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues, yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood : which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk :

21 Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER X.

1 A mighty strong angel appeareth with a book open in his hand : 6 he sweareth by him that liveth for ever, that there shall be no more time....9 John is commanded to take and eat the book.

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud ; and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire :

2 And he had in his hand a little book open : and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth : and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 ^b And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write : and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 ^c And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 ^d And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer :

7 ^e But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

8 ^f And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go, and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 ^g And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAPTER XI.

3 The two witnesses prophesy....6 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not....7 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them, &c.

AND there was given me a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2^b But the court which is without the temple leave out, and measure it not; for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two months.

3^c And I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4^d These are the two olive-trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5^e And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies; and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6^f These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7^g And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8^h And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies three days and a half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth.

11 And after three days and a half the spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud; and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand; and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14ⁱ The second wo is past; and, behold, the third wo cometh quickly.

15^k And the seventh angel sounded: and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16^l And the four and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God,

17^m Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.

18ⁿ And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldst destroy them which destroy the earth.

19^o And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAPTER XII.

1 A woman clothed with the sun travaileth: 4 the great red dragon standeth before her, ready to devour her child: 5 she is delivered, and fleeth into the wilderness, &c.

AND there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3^a And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth; and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5^b And she brought forth a man-child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6^c And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7^d And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8^e And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9^f And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10^g And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

11^h And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony: and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12ⁱ Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Wo to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man-child.

14^k And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might flee into the wilderness,

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2^b And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3^c And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast.

4^d And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5^e And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7^f And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8^g And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

9^h If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10ⁱ He that leadeth into captivity, shall go into captivity: he that killeth with the sword, must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11^k And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12^l And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13^m And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,

14ⁿ And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

15 And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed

16^o And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17^p And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18^q Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 The Lamb standing on mount Sion with his company, 6 an angel preacheth the gospel; 8 another proclaimeth the fall of Babylon, 15 the harvest of the world, &c.

AND I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him a hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2^b And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps:

3^c And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4^d These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the first-fruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5^e And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7^f Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8^g And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9^h And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10ⁱ The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11^k And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12^l Here is the patience of the saints; here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13^m And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

upon the cloud one sat like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

3^b And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea; and it became as the blood of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea.

15^a And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap: for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters; and they became blood.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

5^c And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

6^d For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

18^p And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire: and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

7^e And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.

19^a And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great wine-press of the wrath of God.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun; and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

20^r And the wine-press was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the wine-press, even unto the horse-bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

9^f And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and they repented not to give him glory.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The seven angels with the seven last plagues....3 The song of them that overcome the beast....7 The seven vials full of the wrath of God.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast; and his kingdom was full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

AND I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues: for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

11 And blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.

2^b And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire; and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

12^s And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

3^c And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty: just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints.

13^b And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

4^d Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

14ⁱ For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

5^e And after that I looked, and, behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

15^k Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

6^f And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

16 And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.

7^g And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God who liveth for ever and ever.

17^l And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.

8^h And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

18^m And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Seven angels commanded to pour out their vials on the earth: 2 great plagues follow thereupon....15 Christ cometh suddenly.

19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

20ⁿ And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

2^a And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

21^o And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

unto me, Come hither; I will shew unto thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters:

2^b With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3^c So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet-coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4^d And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet-colour, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:

5^e And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6^f And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8^g The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, (whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world,) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9^h And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12ⁱ And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14^k These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15^l And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16^m And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18ⁿ And the woman which thou sawest is that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER XVIII.

2 The fall of Babylon: 4 God's people commanded to go out of her, &c.

AND after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2^b And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3^c For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.

4^d And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5^e For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

6^f Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled, fill to her double.

7^g How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8^h Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly burned with fire: for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9ⁱ And the kings of the earth who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, shall bewail her, and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10^k Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city! for in one hour is thy judgment come.

11^l And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more:

12 The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyine wood, and all manner of vessels of ivory, and all manner of vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13^m And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men.

14ⁿ And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all.

15 The merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16^o And saying, Alas, alas, that great city, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!

17^p For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And every ship-master, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off, 18^q And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like unto this great city!

19^r And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate.

20 ^a Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for God hath avenged you on her.

21 ^t And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all.

22 ^u And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee;

23 ^x And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.

24 ^y And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 God is praised in heaven for judging the great whore, and avenging the blood of his saints....7 The marriage of the Lamb....10 The angel will not be worshipped....17 The fowls called to the great slaughter.

^a AND after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 ^b For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 ^c And again they said, Alleluia. And her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 ^d And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; Alleluia.

5 ^e And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6 ^f And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia; for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 ^g Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8 ^h And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9 ⁱ And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage-supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 ^k And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 ^l And I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True; and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12 ^m His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew but he himself.

13 ^a And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God.

14 ^b And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 ^c And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron; and he treadeth the wine-press and the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 ^d And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 ^e And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God;

18 That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 ^f And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

CHAPTER XX.

2 Satan bound for a thousand years....5 The first resurrection: 6 they blessed that have part therein....7 Satan let loose again....10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 11 The general resurrection.

^a AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

2 ^b And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,

3 ^c And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 ^d And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands: and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 ^e Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

9 And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10^g And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11^h And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them.

12ⁱ And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works.

14^k And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 A new heaven and a new earth....3 The blessedness of God's people....8 The judgment of the wicked....10 A description of the heavenly Jerusalem.

AND I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea.

2^b And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3^c And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4^d And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5^e And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write; for these words are true and faithful.

6^f And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst, of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7^g He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8^h But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9ⁱ And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10^k And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12^l And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14^m And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15ⁿ And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16^o And the city lieth four-square, and the length is as large as the breadth; and he measured the city with the reed, || twelve thousand furlongs. The length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper; and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19^p And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl; and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple of it.

23^q And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24^r And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25^s And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27^t And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The river of the water of life....2 The tree of life....5 The light of the city of God is himself....9 The angel will not be worshipped....18 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken therefrom.

AND he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2^b In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 ° And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him.

4 ° And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 ° And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 ° And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true; and the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 ° Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

8 ° And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 ° And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 ° He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 ° And behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.

13 ° I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 ° Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 ° For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 ° I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.

17 ° And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst, come: And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 ° For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 ° And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly; Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus

21 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

INDEX TO THE HOLY BIBLE;

OR, AN ACCOUNT OF THE MOST REMARKABLE

PASSAGES IN THE BOOKS OF THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS:

Pointing to the Time wherein they happened, and to the Places of Scripture wherein they are recorded.

Before Christ 4004.	Genesis I. & II.	The first Age of the World.		Before Christ 1897.	Genesis XVII. 5.	God maketh a covenant with Abram, and in token of a greater blessing changeth his name into Abraham. As a seal of this covenant, circumcision is ordained Sarah her name also is changed into Sarah, and she is blessed. God promiseth them a son, and commandeth that his name be called Isaac: in him God promiseth to establish his covenant.
	III.	IN the beginning God created the heaven and the earth, &c. and last of all man after his own image. Man falls from his first state, but is promised a Saviour of the seed of the woman. The world first peopled, after Adam and Eve had left Paradise. About this time Cain and Abel offer sacrifice, and Abel is murdered by his brother. Seth born. Enos born. About this time men begin to call upon the name of the Lord. Cainan born. Mahalaleel born. Jared born. Enoch, the seventh from Adam, born. Methuselah born. Lamech, the father of Noah, born. Adam dieth, aged 930 years. Enoch, in the 355th year of his age, taken up to God. Seth dieth, aged 912 years. Noah, the father and patriarch of the new world after the flood, born. Enos, the third from Adam, dieth, aged 905 years. Cainan dieth, aged 910 years. Mahalaleel, the fifth from Adam, dieth, aged 895 years. Jared, the sixth from Adam, dieth, aged 962 years. God commandeth Noah to preach repentance, and to build the ark 120 years before the flood. To Noah, aged 500 years, is born Japheth, and two years after, Shem. Lamech, the ninth from Adam, dieth, aged 777 years. He is the first man whom the Scriptures mention to have died a natural death before his father. Methuselah dieth a little before the flood, in the 969th year of his age. He was the oldest man. The flood comes upon the earth in the 600th year of Noah's age.			XVIII.	Abraham entertaineth three angels, who renew the promise to him of having a son. God revealeth to Abraham the destruction of Sodom, with whom Abraham intercedes for Lot and his family. See Gen. xix. 29.
4003.	IV. 1.				XIX.	Lot is commanded, for the preservation of himself and family, to get out of Sodom, and to flee to the mountain; but by much entreaty he obtaineth leave to go into Zoar. Sodom, Gomorrah, and all the cities in the vale of Siddim, with all the inhabitants of them, are for the most horrible sins destroyed by fire and brimstone from heaven. The Dead Sea remains a monument thereof, unto this day. Lot's wife, for looking back upon Sodom, contrary to God's command, is turned into a pillar of salt; and Lot himself, fearing to continue at Zoar, leaves the plain country, and betakes himself to the mountain, carrying his two daughters with him.
3874.	V. 3.			1896.	XXI. 2.	Isaac born in the 100th year of Abraham's age. Not long after, to Lot are born Moab and Ammon, his sons at the same time, and his grandsons Hagar and Ishmael, at Sarah's request, are cast forth.

Upon which he is forced to flee into Mesopotamia, to shun his brother's rage. Upon the way are foretold unto him in a vision the blessings of his posterity. At length he cometh to his uncle Laban's house, and covenanteth to serve him seven years for his daughter Rachel, but Laban deceiveth him with Leah; the marriage week being completed, Rachel also is given him to wife, upon condition of serving seven years more.
2864.	8.			1760.	XXVIII.	Of Leah are born, Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, from whom the Jews receive their denomination.

2714.	17.			1757.	XXX. 28.	Jacob, after he had been twenty years in Mesopotamia, sets forward on his journey homewards, without acquainting his father or his brothers-in-law. Rachel stealeth her father's gods, and is pursued by Lahan. Jacob, by his prudence, is reconciled to his brother Esau. He wrestleth with an angel at Peniel, and is called Israel.
2582.	20.			1756.	XXXI.	About this time, Dinah, Jacob's daughter, is deflowered by Sichern the son of Hamor. Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brethren, revenge their sister's quarrel, by putting all the males of Sichern to the sword; for which thing Jacob reproveh them.

2349.	G. V. 32.			1716.	XXXV. 16.	Joseph resisteth the temptations of his master's wife; he is falsely accused by her, and cast into prison. He interpreteth the dreams of Pharaoh's butler and baker, which come to pass according to his interpretation.
2346.	XI. 10.			1715.	XXXV. 28.	Isaac dieth, aged 180 years, and is buried by his sons, Jacob and Esau. Joseph interpreteth Pharaoh's two dreams; he becometh Pharaoh counsel, and is made governor of the whole land of Egypt.
2311.	12.				XL.	Here begin the seven years of plenty in the land of Egypt. About this time Manasseh and Ephraim, Joseph's two sons, are born of Asenath, the daughter of Potiphar, priest of On.
2281.	14.				XLII. 1.	Here begin the seven years of famine.
2247.	16.				XLII. 2.	Jacob sendeth his ten sons to buy corn in Egypt; they are imprisoned by Joseph for spies; but are set at liberty on condition of bringing Benjamin and Simeon is kept as a pledge.

Before Christ 1619.	Exodus VII. 18.	Levi dieth in Egypt, aged 137 years; he was grandfather to Moses and Aaron. Here begins the bondage of the children of Israel, when a king rose up in Egypt, who knew not Joseph.
1619.	VII. 7.	Aaron born three years before his brother Moses, 83 years before the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.
1574.	I. 15, 22.	Pharaoh having in vain commanded the Hebrew midwives to destroy all the males of the Israelites, sets forth an edict, charging that they be all cast into the river.
1571.	II. 1, 5.	Moses is born, who, being hid in the flags by the river's side, is found by Pharaoh's daughter; and becomes her adopted son.
1531.	II.	Moses, in the 40th year of his age, having slain an Egyptian, whom he saw contending with a Hebrew, fleeth into Midian, where he marrieth Zipporah the daughter of Jethro, a priest, and liveth with him forty years.
1530.	Joshua XIV. 7, 10.	Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, born.
1491.	Ex. III. 1, 2, &c. V.	Whilst Moses keeps his father-in-law's sheep at mount Horeb, God appeareth to him in a burning bush, and sendeth him to deliver Israel.
	VII. 7.	Moses and Aaron having declared to Pharaoh the message on which they are sent unto him from God, are charged by him as heads of a mutiny, and sent away with many bad words; and more grievous labours are forthwith laid upon the Israelites.
	Psalm LXXVIII. CV.	Moses being now 80, and Aaron 83 years of age, urged thereunto by God, return again unto Pharaoh, where the magicians by their sorcery, imitating the miracles of Aaron's rod turned into a serpent, make Pharaoh more obstinate than he was before. Wherefore God by the hand of Moses lays ten plagues upon the Egyptians.
	Exodus XI. 11, 23, 41.	U PON the fourteenth day of the first month, (which was May the fourth, upon Monday with us) in the evening, the passover is instituted.
	Numbers XXXIII.	Upon the fifteenth of the same month, at midnight, the first-born of Egypt being all slain, Pharaoh and his servants make haste to send away the Israelites; and they, the self-same day wherein they were let out of bondage, being the complete term of 430 years from the first pilgrimage of their ancestors, reckoning from Abraham's departure out of Charran, take their journey, and march away, being 600,000 men, besides children, and come to Rameses, from whence by several encampings they come to the Red Sea, the Lord conducting them in a pillar of a cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire by night. They carry Joseph's bones with them.
	Exodus XIV.	At the Red Sea Pharaoh with his host overtakes them; Moses divides the waters with his rod, and the children of Israel pass through on dry ground unto the desert of Etham; whom, when Pharaoh and his army would needs follow, they are all overwhelmed by the waters coming together at the dawning of the day, whereby the Israelites are wholly freed from the bondage of the Egyptians; whose carcases when they see floating all the sea over, and cast upon the shore, they sing a song of praise and thanksgiving unto God.
	XV.	Upon the fifteenth of the second month, (our June the 4th, being Thursday) the Israelites come to the wilderness of Zin, which lieth between Elyma and Sinai, where, for want of food, they murmur against God and their leaders; about the even-tide God sends them quails, and the next morning rains upon them manna from heaven; and upon that kind of bread they lived afterward by the space of forty years, even till they came to the borders of the land of promise. An omer of it is preserved for a memorial.
	XVI.	In Rephidim, which was the eleventh place of their encamping, the people murmur for want of water; Moses gives them water by striking the hard rock in Horeb with his rod.
	XVII.	The Amalekites falling upon the rear of the Israelites are discomfited by Joshua, whilst Moses holds up his hands to God in prayer.
	8, 9, &c.	God publisheth his Law, contained in the Ten Commandments, with a terrible voice from mount Sinai.
	XX.	The people being in great fear, God gives them sundry other laws, all which being written in the book of the covenant, Moses proposeth them to the people: which done, rising early in the morning, he builds an altar at the foot of the mountain, and sets up 12 statutes, according to the 12 tribes of Israel, and sends 12 young men of the first-born, (whom the Lord hath consecrated to himself as ministers of those holy things, before the Levitical priesthood was ordained) which offer sacrifices, first for sin, and then for thanksgiving to the Lord: and when Moses had read the book of the covenant, he takes the blood of the calves and goats so offered, and with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, sprinkles the book therewith, and all the people, or those 12 statutes representing them; and so performs a solemn covenant between God and his people.
	XXI.	Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and 70 men of the elders of Israel, go up into the mount, and there behold the glory of God: the rest returning, Moses with his servant Joshua abides there still, and waits six days, and upon the seventh day God speaks unto him, and there he continues 40 days and 40 nights (reckoning those six days which he waited for the appearance of the Lord) eating no meat all that while, nor drinking water; (Deut. ix. 9.) where he receives God's command touching the frame of the tabernacle, the priests' garments, their consecration, sacrifices, and other things comprised in this and the six following chapters.
	XXII. &c.	At the end of 40 days God gives Moses the two tables of the Law in stone, made by God's own hand, and written with his own finger; bidding him withhold quickly to get him down, for that the people had already made to themselves a molten calf to worship. Moses by prayer pacifieth God, and goes down from the mount, and seeing the people keeping a festival in honour of their idol in the camp, he breaks the tables of the law at the foot of the mount: for which the Jews keep a solemn fast unto this day.
	XXIII.	Moses, having burnt and defaced the idol, puts 3000 of the idolaters to death by the hands of the Levites.
	XXIV.	God commands Moses to frame new tables of stone, and to bring them with him into the mount: Moses brings them the next morning, and while he stands in the cleft of a rock, God passeth by, and sheweth him a glimpse of his glory. God renews his covenant with his people, and upon certain conditions gives them his laws again.
	XXV.	In the first six months of this year, the tabernacle, the ark of the covenant, the altar, the table of shew-bread, the priests' garments, the holy ointments, the candlestick, and other utensils and vessels belonging to the sacrifices, are finished in the desert at mount Sinai, and are brought unto Moses.
	XXVI.	The tabernacle is set up and anointed with holy oil. Aaron and his sons are consecrated for the priesthood.
	XXVII.	Nadab and Abihu, for offering strange fire, are struck dead in the place by fire from heaven.
	XXVIII.	The princes of the tribes present their offerings toward the dedication of the tabernacle. God speaketh to Moses from the mercy-seat.
	XXIX.	The second passover is instituted.
	XXX.	Jethro, who is also called Hobab, brings his daughter Zipporah, with her two sons, Gershom and Eliezer, which were left with him to his son-in-law Moses: and having congratulated his and the whole people of Israel's deliverance out of bondage, he openly declares his faith and devotion toward the true God. By his advice Moses imparts the government of the people to some others, and ordains magistrates for the deciding of lesser causes.
	XXXI.	Moses complains to God of the overgreat burden of his government; God, to ease him of his charge, gives him for assistance the court of 70 elders.
	XXXII.	The people lust for flesh. God gives them quails in wrath; and sends withal a most grievous plague among them.
	XXXIII.	God rebukes the sedition of Miriam and Aaron, and maintaineth Moses his right.
	XXXIV.	From the wilderness of Pargan, near Kadesh-barnea, 12 men are sent (among whom are Caleb and Joshua) to discover the land of Canaan. Returning, they bring with them a branch of a vine, with a cluster of grapes upon it; ten of the twelve so sent speak ill of the country, declare it barren, and magnify the cities for their strength, and the giantly stature of the inhabitants.
	XXXV.	The people, terrified with this relation, are about to return into Egypt, from

Before Christ 1490.	Deut. I. 46.	which Caleb and Joshua endeavouring to dissuade them are like to be stoned. At this God is so provoked, that he threatens to destroy them; but is prevailed upon by Moses his prayers to spare them. Nevertheless he denounceth that all who are now 20 years old and upward (except Caleb and Joshua) shall die in the wilderness. The men who raised the evil report are all destroyed by sudden death. Some, endeavouring to enter upon the promised land, contrary to the command of God, are smitten by the Amalekites and Canaanites.
1489.	Numbers XXXIII. XVI.	In this place, viz. Kadesh-barnea, the Israelites continue many days; but that in some places they continued many years, appeareth, for that in the space of 37 years there are but 17 encampings mentioned.
1471.	XVII.	To their long continuance in Kadesh, and the encampings from thence, all that we find delivered in the xvth and four next ensuing chapters of Numbers, seems to refer; as how Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, for raising a mutiny against Moses and Aaron, were swallowed alive into the earth, and 250 of their associates; and how the people, murmuring against Moses and Aaron for the calamity which had befallen their brethren, were destroyed by God to the number of 14,700 men; and how 12 rods being brought by 12 princes, and laid in the sanctuary, Aaron's rod only budged, and brought forth almonds, and was laid up before the ark, for a memorial to those who should afterward be given to rebellion.
1452.	XX.	In these 37 years, the Israelites, by 17 encampings, having compassed the hill country of Seir and Edom, they come to the wilderness of Zin in the first month of the 40th year after their departure out of Egypt.
	1, 2,	Here Miriam, the sister of Moses and Aaron, dieth.
	12,	The people again for want of water murmur against Moses and Aaron, whom when God had commanded to call water out of the rock only by speaking to it, Moses, being moved in his mind through impatience and dislike of the thing, speaks something, whatever it was, unwisely with his lips, and strikes the rock thrice with Aaron's rod, and thereby draws water from it; but for transgressing God's command, they are both debarred from entering into the land of Canaan.
	23, 28.	In the fifth month of this year Aaron dieth at Mosera, on the top of mount Hor, at the age of 123 years, leaving his son Eleazar his successor in the high priesthood.
	XXI. 5, 9.	The people murmuring are plagued with fiery serpents, whereof many die, upon their repentance God commands that a brazen serpent be made and lifted up upon a pole, that as many as look on it may live.
	John III. 14.	About the latter end of this year, all those who at Kadesh-barnea mutinied against God, being wholly extinct and dead, the Israelites pass over Zared, and come to the borders of Moab at Ar, and at length they arrive at Bamoth, a valley in the country of the Moabites, and pitch at mount Pisgah.
	X. 9.	Sile, king of the Amorites, refusing them passage through his country, is slain, and the Israelites possess his land.
	XXI.	Og, the king of Bashan, coming out against Israel, is destroyed with all his people, not one left alive, and his country possessed by the Israelites.
	33.	After these victories the Israelites set forward, and encamp in the plains of Moab.
1451.	Numbers XXII. 1, 2, 3.	Balaam, king of Moab, considering what the Israelites had done to the Amorites, fears, lest, under pretence of passing through his country, they should possess themselves of his whole kingdom, takes counsel with the princes of the Midianites his neighbours, and sends for Balaam a soothsayer out of Mesopotamia to come and curse the Israelites, promising him great rewards for his labour; purposing afterward to make war upon them.
	Joshua XXIV. 9.	Balaam, forewarned of God, refuseth at first to come; but being sent for a second time, he importuneth God to let him go, and goes with a purpose indeed to curse Israel; but God, offended therewith, makes the dumb ass of this wizard, on which he rode, speaking in a man's voice, to reprove his folly.
	XXI. 7.	Balaam twice offers sacrifice, and would fain have cursed Israel, to gratify Balak therein; but being forced thereto by the Spirit of God, instead of cursing, he blesseth them altogether; foretelling what felicity attended them, and what calamities should befall their enemies.
	15, 16.	By his advice the women of Moab and Midian are set on work to turn the Israelites away to idolatry. Wherefore God commands Moses first to take all the ringleaders of this disorder, and to hang them up before the sun, and then gives order to the judges to put to death all such as had joined themselves to Baal-peor. Last of all, God sends a plague upon the people, whereof die 23,000 men in one day: which, added to them which were hanged and killed with the sword, amount in all to 24,000.
	Deut. IV. 3.	Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, by killing Zimri, the chief of his father's family, and Cozbi the daughter of Zur, a prince of the Midianites, appeaseth the wrath of God, and the plague ceaseth. God therefore setteth the high priesthood for ever upon the house of Phinehas, and commands that war be made upon the Midianites.
	XXII. 5.	Moses and Eleazar, by God's command, in the plain of Moab, near unto Jordan, over against Jericho, number the people from twenty years old and upwards, and find them to be 601,730 men, besides the Levites, whose number, reckoning them from one month old and upwards, comes to 23,000; and then Moses receives command for the parting the land of promise among the Israelites.
	XXIV. 10.	The daughters of Zelophehad have their father's land parted among them, for want of issue male; this occasions the law for succession in heritages to be made.
	XXV.	God signifies to Moses that he shall die, and Joshua is thereupon declared to be his successor; upon whom Moses lays his hands, and gives him instructions. Several laws are made.
	XXVI.	Twelve thousand of the Israelites under the command of Phinehas vanquish the Midianites, and put to the sword all the males among them, with their five princes, and among them Zur, the father of Cozbi, and Balaam the wizard; but they save the women alive; at which Moses is wroth, and commands that every male child, and all the women, except such as be virgins, be killed.
	XXVII.	The lands which belonged to Sihon and Og, namely, all from the river Arnon to mount Hermon, Moses divides and gives to the tribes of Reuben and Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh; so that their possessions lay on this side Jordan; nevertheless, they assist the rest of the tribes in all their wars, till they have subdued the Canaanites, and possessed the promised land.
	XXVIII.	Moses commands the people, that in their passage over Jordan they shall set up great stones, and engrave the Ten Commandments on them, with the form of blessing upon mount Gerizim, and of cursing on mount Ebal; exhorting them to observe the law of God, by setting before their eyes the benefits that would ensue thereon.
	XXIX.	He also renews the covenant made by God with them and their children on mount Horeb, and again persuades them to keep that covenant by all the blessings and curses which would undoubtedly follow the keepers or breakers of it; yet with a promise of pardon and deliverance, if at any time, having broken it, they shall repent of their sin; and tells them further, that God had therefore thus declared his will unto them, to the end that none hereafter-offending shall pretend ignorance.
	XXX.	Moses, having written this law, delivers it to the priests the sons of Levi, and the elders of the people, to be kept; the same day also he writes his most excellent song, and teaches the same to the children of Israel to be sung; and having finished the book of the law, he takes order to have it laid up in the side of the ark.
	XXXI.	Moses, now drawing near to his end, blesseth every tribe in particular by way of prophecy, save only the tribe of Simeon.
	XXXII.	In the 12th month of this year he goes up to mount Nebo, and from thence beholds the land of promise, and there dieth, aged 120 years; the body of Moses God translates out of the place where he died, into a valley of the land of Moab, over against Beth-peor, and there burieth it; nor hath any man know the place where he laid it up to this day.
	XXXIII.	The Israelites mourn for him 30 days.
	XXXIV.	Here ends the Pentateuch, or five books of Moses, containing the history of 2552 years and a half, from the beginning of the world; and the book of Joshua begins with the forty-first year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.

Before Christ 1451.	Joshua II.	Joshua, being confirmed in his government by God, sends forth spies from Shittim to the city of Jericho, who, being harboured by Rahab, are privily sent away, when search is made for them.	Before Christ 1235.	22.	from the top of mount Gerizim expostulates with them the wrong they had done to his father's house; and by way of a parable foretells their ruin: which done, he flies, and dwells quietly in Beer.
	III.	Upon the tenth day of the first month, (April 50) to wit, the same day that the Passover Lamb was to be chosen out of the flock, the Israelites under the conduct of Joshua, a type of Jesus Christ, go up out of the river Jordan into the promised land of Canaan, a type of a more heavenly country. They pass through the river on dry ground, the waters being for the present divided; for a memorial of which miraculous passage, Joshua sets up 12 stones in the very channel of Jordan, and taking 12 other stones out of the midst thereof sets them up at Gilegal, the place where they next encamp.	1236.	50.	Abimelech, having there years before Israel, gaels a Shechemite conspires against him; which being discovered to him by Zebul, he utterly destroys the city of Shechem, and puts all the inhabitants to the sword, and burns the temple of their god Berith with fire; from thence he goeth and lieth siege to Thebez, where he is knocked on the head with a piece of a millstone, cast upon him by a woman from the walls, and then killed outright by his armour-bearer.
	IV.	The day following, Joshua renews the use of circumcision, which had been omitted 40 years.	1237.	2 Samuel XI. 21.	Tola the son of Puah, after Abimelech, judgeth Israel 23 years.
	Joshua V.	Upon the 14th day of the same month, in the evening, the Israelites celebrate their first passover in the land of Canaan, and eat the passover manna censureth.	1238.	Judges X. 1, 2, 3.	Jair the Gileadite succeeds Tola, and judgeth Israel 22 years.
	10.	Our Lord Jesus, Captain of his Father's host, appears to Joshua, the typical Jesus, before Jericho, with a drawn sword in his hand, and promiseteth there to defend his people.	1187.	15.	The Israelites, forsaking again the true God, fall to worship the gods of several nations, and are given up into the hands of the Philistines and Ammonites; which fifth thralldom lasteth 18 years. Upon their repentance, and abandoning their idols, they again obtain mercy, and are delivered.
	11, 12, 13.	Jericho, the ark of the Lord having been carried round about it, is taken the seventh day, the walls thereof falling down at the sound of the priests' trumpets; and all the inhabitants are put to the sword, except Rahab and her family.	1188.	XI.	Jephthah the Gileadite, being made captain of the host of Israel, subdueth the Ammonites; before the battle he vows his daughter unawares to be offered in sacrifice, and afterward performs it. He puts to the sword 42,000 Ephraimites, who had behaved themselves insolently against him, and judgeth Israel 6 years.
	VI.	The Israelites besiege Ai, and are smitten by their enemies, God having abandoned them for sacrilege committed by Achan: Achan's sin being discovered by the casting of lots, and himself found guilty, he is stoned to death, and, together with his children and cattle, burned with fire. God being pacified here, Ai is taken by ambushment and utterly destroyed.	1189.	XII. 6.	Ibzan the Bethlehemite succeeds Jephthah, and judgeth Israel 7 years.
	VII.	On mount Ebal, according to the law made, is an altar erected, and the Ten Commandments engraven on it; the blessings and cursings are repeated on mount Ebal and mount Gerizim, and the book of the law read in the ears of the people.	1190.	8.	Elon the Ephraimite succeeds Ibzan, and judgeth Israel 8 years.
	VIII.	The kings of Canaan combine against Israel; only the Gibeonites craftily find a way to save their own lives by making a league with them; but are afterwards deputed to the servile offices of the house of God.	1191.	11.	Eli the high priest (in whom the high priesthood was translated from the family of Eleazar to Ithamar's) succeeds Abdon, and judgeth Israel 40 years.
	IX.	Adoni-zedek, king of Jerusalem, with the kings of Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon, hearing that Gibeon is fallen off from them, join their forces together and besiege it; but Joshua, raising the siege, pursueth those five kings, and smiteth them as far as Ayekah, the Lord in the meanwhile killing more with hailstones from heaven, than the Israelites with their swords. Joshua commands the sun to stand still over Gibeon, and the moon over the valley of Ajalon, by the space almost of one whole day, until the Israelites are fully avenged of their enemies. The five kings hide themselves in a cave at Makkedah; from whence they are brought forth, scornfully used, and hanged.	1192.	13.	The Israelites again provoke the Lord to anger, and he delivers them into the hands of the Philistines. This sixth thralldom lasts seven months after Eli's entering upon the government, and lasteth 40 years, even till seven months after his death, when the ark was brought back again.
	X.	From the autumn of this year, wherein, after the failing of manna, they began to till the ground, the rise of the sabbatical years is to be taken.	1193.	1 Samuel IV. 18.	Samson the Nazarene, as an angel had foretold, is born at Zorah.
1430.	Exodus XXIII.	Joshua, now grown old, is commanded by God to divide all the land on the west side of Jordan among the tribes, and to redivide the other half-tribe of Manasseh. The Lord and his sacrifices are the inheritance of Levi.	1194.	Judges XIII. 1, 2.	Whilst Eli the high priest executeth the office of a judge in civil causes under the Philistines, Samson takes an occasion to quarrel with them, by marrying a woman of Timnath; for having on the day of his betrothing propounded a riddle to the Philistines, and laid a wager, his wife tells them the meaning of it: enraged hereat, he goes and slays 30 men of Askelon, and gives them the suits of raiment which he had stripped off their bodies, in performance of the wager, which he had lost, and returns home to his father.
1445.	10. 11.	The rest of the kings, with whom Joshua had waged war for six years, resolve to set upon him with united forces: but Joshua comes upon them unawares, slays them, and possesseth their countries.	1195.	24.	Samson again in harvest-time goes to present his wife with a kid at her father's house, but finds her given away in marriage to another man; Samson resolves to be revenged; he catches 800 foxes, and tying fire-brands to their tails, turns them all into the corn-fields of the Philistines, and into their vineyards, and olive-gardens, and sets them all on fire. The Philistines take Samson's wife and father-in-law, and burn them; Samson in revenge slays a great multitude of them, and sits down upon the rock Etam, from whence being taken by 3000 of the Jews, and by them delivered into the hands of the Philistines, he slays of them a thousand men with the jaw-bone of an ass; in which place he is miraculously refreshed, when thirsty and ready to faint.
	Joshua XXIII.	Joshua now roots out those giants, the Anakims, with their cities, out of all the hill-countries, out of Hebron, Debir, and Anab, and generally out of all the mountains of Judah and all Israel. And having gotten the whole land into his hands, he divides it among the children of Israel according to their tribes; and the land rested from war.	1196.	XV.	Samson is betrayed by Delilah his concubine, bereaved of the hair of his Nazarities, delivered to the Philistines, who put out his eyes, and bind him with chains of brass. The Philistines gather together to offer sacrifice to Dagon their god, and Samson is brought to make them sport; whose hair being grown, and his strength in a great measure restored, he takes hold of the two chief pillars whereon the house stood, (wherein were the princes of the Philistines, and a great multitude of people) and pulls down the house, killing more men at his death, than he did in all his life-time. So he died, having judged Israel in the days of the Philistines 20 years.
	XI.	The first sabbatical year, or year of rest; from hence the year of Jubilee, or every fifty years' space, is to be reckoned.	1197.	XVI.	The Israelites take up arms against the Philistines, but with very ill success, for they lose 4000 men in one battle. Then they send for the ark of the covenant from Shiloh, and cause it to be brought into the camp. The Philistines, seeing now that they cannot encourage one another, and that they behave themselves as men that day; and so falling on, they slay on the Israelites 30,000 men. The ark of God is taken, and Hophni and Phinehas, priests, and sons of Eli, are slain. Of all which, when tidings are brought to old Eli, frightened therewith, he falls from his chair and breaks his neck, in the 98th year of his age.
	12.	The tabernacle is set up at Shiloh, (thought to be the same with Saloni,) where it continued 323 years.	1198.	1 Samuel IV.	The Philistines, having brought the ark into Ashdod, set it in the house of Dagon their god. But when Dagon had been found two several times fallen sprawling before it, and broken in pieces, and the inhabitants of the place sorely plagued, they remove it from thence to Gath, and from thence to Ekron. But the same plagues and judgments following wherever it went, after 7 months, by the advice of their priests, they send home the ark again with presents and gifts into the hand of the Israelites, and it is brought to Beth-shemesh, where 50,070 men are smitten for looking into the ark. From hence it is carried to the house of Abinadab in Kirjath-jearim, who sanctifieth his son, Eleazar, to keep it.
	13.	The Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, with a blessing are sent home to their possessions on the other side of Jordan.	1199.	V.	After 20 years the Israelites, by Samuel's persuasion, solemnly repent at Mizpeh, and, upon their conversion, God by thunder from heaven delivers them from the invasion of the Philistines, who are subdued, the hand of the Lord being against them all the days of Samuel.
1443.	XXIII.	Joshua gathers together all Israel, exhorts them to obedience, briefly recites God's benefits to them, reneweth the covenant between them and God, and dieth 110 years old.	1200.	VI.	Samuel, being grown old, takes for his assistance in the government his sons; by whose ill management of affairs, the Israelites require a king to be given them: whereupon God gives them a king in his wrath, to wit, Saul the son of Kish, and the Lord hath judged Israel 40 years.
1413.	Judges II. 7.	After the decease of Joshua, and the elders who outlived him, and who remembered the wonders which God had wrought for Israel, he succeeds a generation of men who forsake the Lord, and mingle themselves with the Canaanites by marriage, and worship their idols. In this time of anarchy and confusion, when every man did that which seemed right in his own eyes, all those disorders were committed, which are reported in the five last chapters of the Book of Judges; to wit, the idolatry of Micah, and the children of Dan; the war of the Benjamites, and the cause thereof. God, being highly provoked, gives them up into the hands of Cushan, king of Mesopotamia; which first calamity of theirs holds them but eight years.	1201.	VII.	God rejects Saul, and sends Samuel to Beth-lehem, there to anoint David king, whom Saul ever after extremely persecuteth.
	III. 6, 7.	Othniel, the son of Kenaz, and son-in-law to Caleb, stirred up by God as a judge and avenger of his people, defeats Cushan, and delivers the Israelites out of bondage; and the land rested forty years after the first rest which Joshua procured for the people.	1202.	VII. 13.	Yet Jonathan, Saul's son, loveth him, and oftentimes rescueth him from Saul's cruelty.
1405.	9.	Othniel judging, the Israelites fell again to sin against God, and are given over into the hands of Eglon king of Moab, who, joining with the Ammonites and the Amalekites, overthrow the Israelites, and takes Jericho; and this second oppression continueth 18 years.	1203.	VII. 13.	David, having Saul twice in his power, forbears to hurt him.
	10.	Ehud the son of Gera is raised up by God to be an avenger of his people; for feigning a message to Eglon, he runs him into the belly with his dagger; then getting away, he gathers all Israel into a body on mount Ephraim, and slays 10,000 of the most valiant men of Moab: and the land resteth 40 years after the former rest obtained by Othniel.	1204.	VII. 13.	David, fearing he may some time or other fall into the hands of Saul, flies to Gath unto king Achish, carrying with him 600 men; and having obtained of him the town of Ziklag to dwell in, he continueth one year and four months in the land of the Philistines; from whence he invadeth the countries of the Geshurites, Gezrites, and Amalekites, and puts to the sword all, both men and women, not leaving one alive to carry the news thereof to king Achish.
1303.	IV. 1, 2, 3.	After him, Shamgar, the son of Anath, slayeth 600 Philistines with an ox-goad, and he also avengeth Israel.	1205.	VII. 13.	Achish, proposing to make war upon the Israelites, takes David along with him in that expedition, to whom, whilst he is upon his march with his 600 men, remain a great many others of the tribe of Judah, and Benjamin, and join with Saul, seeing the army of the Philistines, is in great fear, and (Samuel being now dead) goes to En-dor to consult with a witch there; the woman riseth an apparition of Samuel, and Saul receives from it that dreadful doom. The Lord will deliver Israel, together with itself, into the hands of the Philistines.
1285.	IV. 4.	The Israelites, after the death of Ehud, returning to their old sin, are given up by God into the hands of Jabin king of Canaan; and this thralldom of theirs continueth 20 years.	1206.	VII. 13.	The princes of the Philistines growing jealous of David, he and his company early the next morning leave the army, and return to Ziklag.
	V. 31.	Deborah, the wife of Lapidot, a prophetess, who at this time judgeth Israel in mount Ephraim, and Barak of the tribe of Naphtali, being made captain of the host of Israel, in sight of Megiddo, overcomes Sisera, captain of Jabin's army, whom Jael the wife of Heber the Kenite afterward kills in her own tent. For a memorial of which victory Deborah composeth a song; and the land rested 40 years after the former rest obtained by Ehud.	1207.	VII. 13.	The armies join battle, and the Israelites are defeated; the three sons of Saul are slain, and he himself falls on his own sword.
1252.	VI.	The Israelites sinning again are delivered into the hands of the Midianites; which fourth thralldom lasteth 7 years. Hereupon they cry unto God for help, and are reproved by a prophet. Then Gideon the son of Joash, of Manasseh, is by an angel from God sent to deliver them. He first overturns the altar of Baal and burns his grove, and is called Jerubbaal. He out of 32,000 men, which came unto him, chooseth only (God so commanding) 300; but with them he puts to flight all the host of the Midianites, whom the Ephraimites afterward pursue, and slay their princes Oreb and Zeeb. Gideon having pacified the Ephraimites, who complain that they were not called to the battle at first, passeth the river Jordan, and defeats the remainder of the Midianites army; he chastiseth also the men of Succoth and Peniel, who had refused him victuals in his journey; and slays the two kings of the Midianites, Zebah and Zalmunra. After which great victories, the Israelites offering to settle the kingdom upon him and his posterity, he refuseth it; but receiving their golden ear-rings, he makes thereof an ephod, which afterward proves an occasion of idolatry. The Midianites being thus vanquished, the land enjoys rest 40 years, after the former rest restored to them by Deborah and Barak.	1208.	VII. 13.	Three days after, an Amalekite brings Saul's crown, and the bracelet that was upon his arm, and presents them to David, professing that, finding him fallen upon his sword, he had killed him outright, and taken the crown from off his head: whereupon David causeth him to be put to death, for stretching forth his hand to slay the Lord's anointed, and lamenteth the death of Saul and Jonathan his son in a funeral song. David, having asked counsel of God, goes up to Hebron with those that are about him, where he is anointed king by the men of Judah, his own tribe, in the 30th year of his age; and there he reigns seven years and six months.
1245.	VII.	Gideon dieth, and the Israelites, falling back again to idolatry, worship Baal-berith for their god.	1209.	VII. 13.	Abner, who was captain of the host of Saul, carries Ishbosheth, Saul's son, to Mahanaim, and there makes him king over the rest of Israel.
	VIII.	Abimelech the son of Gideon (begotten upon his concubine) purposing to get to himself the kingdom which his father had refused, slayeth 70 of his brothers all upon one stone; and having by the help of the Shechemites got to be made king, Jotham the youngest son of Gideon, who only escaped Abimelech's fury,	1210.	VII. 13.	After two years there arise frequent and mortal skirmishes between a party of men on David's side, headed by Joab, David's nephew, and another party of
1235.	IX. 1, 2, &c.	Abimelech the son of Gideon (begotten upon his concubine) purposing to get to himself the kingdom which his father had refused, slayeth 70 of his brothers all upon one stone; and having by the help of the Shechemites got to be made king, Jotham the youngest son of Gideon, who only escaped Abimelech's fury,	1211.	VII. 13.

Christ 1013.	III. 6.	Ishbosheth's side, whereof Abner is chief; but the former still grows stronger and stronger.	Before Christ 955.	1 Kings XV. 8.	Asa in the twentieth year of Jeroboam succeeds his father Abijah, and reigns 41 years.
	22.	Abner, affronted by Ishbosheth, revolteth to David, and deals with the chief men of Israel to transfer the whole kingdom unto him, and this in the hearing of the Benjamites.	954.	25.	Nadab in the second year of Asa succeedeth his father Jeroboam in the kingdom of Israel, and reigneth not full two years.
	IV. 2.	He comes to David, and is kindly received; returning, he is treacherously murdered by Joab. David much laments his untimely death, and buries him at Hebron.	953.	27.	Nadab at the siege of Gibbethon (a town of the Philistines) is slain by Baasha of the tribe of Issachar in the third year of Asa; and the same year having made himself king over Israel, he utterly destroyed the whole race of Jeroboam, and reigneth 24 years. At this time lived the prophets Jehu, Hanani, and Azarias.
	V.	Banah and Rechab murder their lord and master Ishbosheth, as he lieth resting himself upon his bed. They bring his head to David, who in detestation of their treason causeth them immediately to be put to death.	851.	2 Chron. XV. 9.	Asa destroyed idolatry, and, enjoying ten years of peace, strengthens his kingdom with forts and a standing army.
1017.	1 Chron. XI.	The captains and elders of all the tribes coming to Hebron, anoint David a third time, and make him king over all Israel.	1041.	XV.	Zerah the Ethiopian with an innumerable army invadeth Judah: Asa overcomes him, sacrificeth to God of the spoil, and maketh a solemn covenant with God. He also deposeth Maachab his grandmother, a great patroness of idolatry; bringeth into the temple those things which his father and himself had consecrated unto God, and enjoys a long peace.
1045.	2 Sam. V. 4, 6, 7, 9.	David with all Israel marcheth to Jerusalem against the Jebusites, and taketh the fort of Zion, and calls it the city of David, and making Jerusalem the seat of his kingdom, reigneth there over all Israel 35 years.	900.	1 Kings XVI. 6, 8.	Elah the son of Baasha succeeds his father in the kingdom of Israel.
	VI.	The ark of the covenant, which in the first sabbatical year was brought from Kirjath-gilead to Shiloh, in this year, being also a sabbatical year, brought from Kirjath-jearim out of the house of Abinadab, and placed at Zion; 30,000 choice men of Israel attending it, and singing the 68th Psalm.	929.		In the second year of his reign, and the twenty-seventh of Asa's, Zimri, one of his captains, conspires against him, kills him, and reigneth in his stead. As soon as he sits in the throne, he destroyeth the whole family of Baasha; but the army which then lay before Gibbethon makes Omri their king, who presently besiegeth Tirzah, and taketh it; which Zimri seeing, he sets on fire the king's palace, and perishest in the flames.
1044.	2 Chron. I. 4.	David now dwelling in his house of cedar, which he had built, and living in a full and perfect peace, inappareth to Nathan the prophet his purpose of building a house for God; but is answered from God, that this was a work which should be done, not by him, because he was a man of blood, and trained up in war; but by his son Solomon, a man of peace, which should be born unto him. The time which passeth from hence till the birth of Solomon is spent in wars; wherein David subdueth the Philistines, Edomites, Amalekites, Moabites, Ammonites, and Syrians, and extends his kingdom to the utmost bound of that land which had been promised to the seed of Abraham, and never possessed by any of them, save only by David and his son Solomon.	925.	21.	The people of Israel are now divided into two factions; one follows Tibni the son of Ginnath, and endeavours to make him king; the other adheres to Omri, but Tibni dying, Omri reigns alone in the 31st year of Asa.
	2 Samuel VII.	At the end of this year Joab, going with the army against the Ammonites, besiegeth Rabbah, the metropolis of Ammon, whilst David takes his ease at Jerusalem, and there commits adultery with Bathsheba the wife of Uriah the Hittite, who was then in the army, whom he also procures to be slain.	924.	23, 24.	Omri having reigned six years in Tirzah, removes the seat of his kingdom to Samaria, a place which he himself had built.
1055.	1 Chron. XVII.	The child so gotten in adultery is born. David is convicted by Nathan the prophet of his sin, and he repents; in testimony whereof he composeth the 51st Psalm. 1025.	2 Samuel XXII.	David, tempted by Satan, commandeth Joab to number the people: God, offended therat, sends a prophet to put three plagues to his choice, viz. the famine, sword, or pestilence. David chooseth to fall into the hands of a merciful God, rather than into the hands of men. So God sends a pestilence, whereof 70,000 men die in one day. The angel being about to destroy Jerusalem, God bids him hold his hand; for he beholds David repenting in sackcloth, and entreating him to spare the innocent people, and to turn his hand upon himself, and upon his father's house.	897.	1 Kings XXII. He is no sooner settled in his throne, but he puts all his brethren to the sword, with many of the princes of Israel. At this time the Edomites, who ever since king David's time had lived in subjection to Judah, revolt, and (as it was foretold by Isaac) they forever shake off his yoke. Libnah also, a city of the priests in the tribe of Judah, falls off from him about this time.

Jehoram king of Israel, and Athaliah king of Judah, lead their armies to Ramoth-gilead against Hazael, who had newly succeeded Ben-hadad in the kingdom of Syria; Jehoram is dangerously wounded, and retires himself to Jezreel to be cured. In the meantime Elisha sendeth a young prophet with instructions to anoint Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, at Ramoth-gilead, king over Israel, and to open to him the will of God for the rooting out of the house of Ahab; who, hearkning to the word of the Lord, marcheth straight to Jezreel, killeth Jehoram in the field of Naboth, and causeth Jezabel to be cast out at a window, where she is eaten by dogs. He despatcheth letters also to Samaria, and causeth seventy of Ahab's children to be beheaded. Then taking with him Jehonadab the son of Rechab, he comes himself to Samaria, and destroys the whole family of Ahab, and all the priests of Baal. 	1 Kings IX.	Jeroboam, in the beginning of his reign, repairs Shechem, destroyed by Abimelech 258 years before, and there dwells; afterward going over Jordan he builds Penuel, and at length makes Tirzah the seat of his kingdom. But fearing lest his new subjects by going to Jerusalem to worship, may be induced to revolt from him, he deviseth a new form of religion, setting up two golden calves, the one at Beth-el, the other at Dan, for the seduced people to bow down unto.	884.	IX.	Jehu proceeds further, and executes the divine vengeance upon the idolatrous house of Judah, he pursues Athaliah, who fled towards Megiddo, and overtaking him at Gur, causeth him to be killed in his chariot. Going also to Samaria, he causeth all the sons of Athaliah's kinsmen, whom he causeth to be slain.

The self-same night an angel of the Lord slays 185,000 men in the Assyrian army; and the next morning Sennacherib departeth, and returns to Nineveh; where not long after, whilst he is worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, he is slain by his own sons.	584.	2 Kings XXIV. 1. Grecians. His son Antiochus Eupator, a child about nine years old, succeeds him. He maketh peace with the Jews, but quickly breaketh it: he puts to death Menelaus the high priest, and confers that honour upon Alcimus, or Jaccinus.
 Onias, the son of Onias III. retires into Egypt, where Ptolemeus Philometor, and Cleopatra his wife, permit him to build a temple at Heliopolis in imitation of that at Jerusalem, and they constitute him high priest there.
 Demetrius Soter, the son of Seleucus, escapes from Rome, and comes into Syria, where he causeth himself to be crowned king, and putteth to death Antiochus and Lysias.
 Demetrius, at the instance of Alcimus, sends Nicanor with a great army against Judas Maccabeus, whom he endeavours to surprise. They join battle, and Nicanor is slain.
 Here ends the continued history of the second book of Maccabees, being an abstract and breviary of the five books of Jason, a Jew of Cyrene.
 King Demetrius sends Bacchides with a new army, consisting of 20,000 men, against Judas Maccabeus; Judas, having with him but 800 men, ventures to engage him, and is slain. His brother Jonathan is chosen general in his stead.
 Jonathan enters into an alliance with the Romans. Josephus observes, that this was the first league that ever was known to be between the Romans and the Jews.
 While Alcimus commands the wall of the inner court of the temple to be pulled down, God strikes him suddenly with a palsy, so that without speaking a word he dies in great torment.
 Jonathan, having wearied Bacchides by war, compelleth him to make a league, and draw off his army.
 Alexander Balas, the son of king Antiochus Epiphanes, enters with an army into Syria; the garrison of Ptolemais set open their gates to him, by reason of their hatred to king Demetrius, who prepares himself for war.
 Demetrius desirous an alliance with Jonathan, who makes use of this occasion to repair the fortifications of Jerusalem.
 Alexander Balas is not less careful to obtain the friendship of Jonathan, and, to oblige him, confers on him the high priesthood.
 Jonathan puts on the holy vestment on the seventh month of the 160th year of the kingdom of the Grecians, at the feast of tabernacles. He was the first high priest of the Hasmonæan family.
 Demetrius and Alexander come to a battle, and Demetrius is slain.
 Alexander Balas, finding himself in the peaceable possession of the kingdom of Syria, espouseth Cleopatra, the daughter of Ptolemeus Philometor king of Egypt. Alexander highly honours Jonathan the high priest at his nuptials.
 Demetrius Nicanor, eldest-son of Demetrius Soter, enters into Cilicia with an army. King Alexander gives the command of Syria to Apollonius, who sends upon Jonathan the high priest; Jonathan defeats him, and takes Joppe and Azotus, and burns the temple of Dagon.
 Ptolemeus Philometor, king of Egypt, comes to the relief of king Alexander his son-in-law: Alexander ungratefully sets Ammonius to lie in ambush to kill him. The treachery being discovered, Ptolemeus takes away his daughter from Alexander, and marieth her to Demetrius. Alexander having been driven from Antioch, the inhabitants of that place make offer of the kingdom to Ptolemeus; but he refuseth it, and persuadeth them to accept of Demetrius for their king.
 Alexander returns with a great army. Ptolemeus and Demetrius unite their forces, and overcome him in a pitched battle; but Ptolemeus dies of the wounds which he received, after he had seen the head of Alexander sent to him by Zabdiel an Arabian prince. Jonathan besiegeth the citadel at Jerusalem, held by a garrison of Macedonians. Complaint hereof being made to Demetrius, Jonathan appeareth him by presents, and obtaineth new favours for the Jews. Demetrius incurreth the hatred of his soldiers by abridging their pay in time of peace.
 Tryphon, with some soldiers that revolted from Demetrius, undertakes to establish Antiochus, the son of Alexander Balas, in the kingdom of Syria.
 Demetrius is vanquished by young Antiochus, and made to fly into Seleucia. Great honours are by Antiochus conferred on Jonathan, who assists him against Demetrius.
 Jonathan renews his alliance with the Romans and Lacedæmonians, and fortifies Jerusalem.
 Tryphon contrives how he may quit himself of Antiochus, and reign in his stead: but fearing Jonathan's opposition, he invites him to come to Ptolemais, and bring with him some few of his soldiers, promising to deliver that city into his hands. Jonathan, suspecting no treachery, comes only with 1000 men to Tryphon at Ptolemais; but as soon as he is entered the city Tryphon commands the gates to be shut. Jonathan is taken prisoner, and all his men put to the sword.
 The Jews hereupon make choice of Simon Maccabeus for their general in the place of his brother Jonathan. Tryphon leads an army against Simon. He promiseth for 100 talents of silver to release Jonathan; the money being paid him, he breaks his promise, and puts Jonathan to death. Simon erects a stately monument for his father and his brethren.
 Tryphon murders the young king Antiochus, and puts the crown on his own head.
 The Romans and Lacedæmonians renew their leagues with Simon, and write them in tables of brass.
 Simon, a prudent and high priesthood settled on him and his heirs, the Jews are by his means discharged from all manner of tribute to any foreign prince. He takes Sion, the fortress of Jerusalem, drives out of the city all idolaters, clears the houses of their idols, and placeth in the city such as are true worshippers of God.
 Tryphon's vices render him so odious to his soldiers, that they submit themselves to Cleopatra, Demetrius's relic. She marieth Antiochus Soter, Demetrius's brother, and causeth him to be crowned king. Antiochus drives Tryphon out of Syria, besiegeth him in Dora, whence he flies to Apamea, where he is taken and slain.
 High priest traversing the cities of Judea, and taking care for their orderly government, comes down with his two sons, Mattathias and Judas, to Jericho; Ptolemeus, the son of Abubas, Simon's son-in-law, invites them to a castle which he had fortified, called Dochos, and there, whilst he entertains them at a banquet, barbarously murders them. John Hircanus succeeds his father in the high priesthood.
 Here ends the first book of Maccabees, containing the history of forty years.
 John Hircanus takes Sicheem, and demolisheth the temple on mount Gerizim 200 years after it had been built by Sanaballath.
 Simon, eldest son of Hircanus, otherwise called Aristobolus, and surnamed Philhellene, succeeds his father in the government and the high priesthood: he was the first of any, that after the return from the captivity of Babylon, set a crown upon his head, and changed the state into a monarchy.
 Anna the prophetess, daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher, this year becoming a widow, departs not from the temple, but serveth God with fasting and prayer night and day, for 84 years together, until such time as she sees Christ in the temple.
 Jerusalem is this year taken by Pompey; who meddles not with any of the treasure which was in the temple, but makes the Jews tributary to the Romans.
 Here begins the empire of the Roman Cæsars, when Julius Cæsar, having overthrown Pompey at the battle of Pharsalia, was made perpetual dictator.
 Herod, the son of Antipas, or Antipater, an Idumean, is this year by the Romans declared king of Judea.
 Herod, assisted by Sossius the Roman general, lays siege to Jerusalem, and takes it; the soldiers fill all corners of the city with blood, rapine, and cruelty. Antiochus, the prince and high priest, is by Sossius carried away prisoner to Rome, and Herod put in full possession of the kingdom.
 About this time, the Hillel, a Babylonian, descended from David, flourished at Jerusalem: one of whose disciples was Jonathan, the son of Uzziel, the famous author of the Chaldee paraphrase.

Cesar Octavianus, nephew to Julius Caesar, in his fifth consulship, with the assent of the senate and people at Rome, assumes the title of emperor; at which time the government among the Romans was legally changed from a republic into a monarchy. The next year following he is by the senate surnamed Augustus.

Hered this year begins to enlarge, or rather to rebuild, the temple at Jerusalem, 46 years before the first passover of the ministry of Christ; and in many years and a half finisheth that magnificent structure.

The angel Gabriel appears to Zachary the priest, as he is offering incense in the temple, telling him that a son shall be born unto him, whom he shall call John; who also shall be a Nazarite, and the forerunner of the Lord in the spirit and power of Elias.

In the sixth month after John was conceived, the same angel Gabriel is sent by God to Nazareth in Galilee, to the most blessed Virgin Mary (responding to Joseph, a person of the house and lineage of David,) the angel declares unto her, that she shall conceive by the overshadowing of the Holy Ghost, and bring forth a son, and call his name JESUS.

John the Baptist born six months before Christ.

The seventh Age of the World.

CHRISt our Lord and Saviour in the fulness of time is born of the blessed Virgin Mary at Bethlehem, and laid in a manger.

On the eighth day after his nativity he is circumcised, and named JESUS. The wise men of the east bring presents to the new-born king of the Jews. Joseph flees into Egypt with the child Jesus, and Mary his mother.

Hered commands the infants in and about Bethlehem to be slain.

Hered dieth, and his son Archelaus is by Cesar made tetrarch of Judea; other dominions, which belonged to Herod, are divided among his sons.

Christ, by God's appointment, is brought back out of Egypt into Nazareth.

The first year of the vulgar Christian Era begins here.

By occasion of the passover our Lord goes up with his parents to Jerusalem, and there disputes with the doctors in the temple.

Augustus dies, and Tiberius succeeds him.

Josephus, called Caiaphas, is made high priest of the Jews by the favour of Valerius Gratus, the Roman governor.

Toward the end of this year Pontius Pilate is sent to be procurator of Judea in the place of Valerius Gratus.

John the Baptist begins to preach and to baptize in the desert of Judea, thereby preparing the way of the Lord, and doing his endeavour that Christ coming after him may be made known unto Israel. Unto John, God gives a sign whereby he may know the Lord's Christ, that upon whom he shall see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he which shall baptize with the Holy Ghost.

Jesus, entering upon the thirtieth year of his age, comes from Galilee to Jordan, and is baptized of John; at which time a most illustrious manifestation is made of the blessed Trinity; for the Son of God ascending out of the water and praying, the heavens are opened, and the Spirit of God in the shape of a dove descends upon him; and the voice of the Father is heard from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

John sees it and bears record that this is the Son of God.

Jesus, full of the Holy Ghost, returns from Jordan, and is led by the Spirit into the wilderness, where he fasteth forty days and forty nights, and is tempted by the devil.

After this our Lord returns into Galilee.

John gives testimony to our Saviour passing by him; Andrew, Peter, Philip, and Nathaniel, acknowledge him to be the Messiah, and become his disciples.

Christ at a marriage in Cana of Galilee, turneth water into wine: this was his first miracle.

The first passover of Christ's public ministry, from which the first year of the seventeenth and last of Daniel's weeks begin: In which the covenant is confirmed with the Jews, Gen. ix. 12, compared with Matth. xxvi. 28.

JESUS cometh to Jerusalem at the time of the passover, and entering into the Temple, scourgeth out those that bought and sold there. The Jews require a sign of his authority: Christ hides them destroy that temple, (understanding the temple of his body) and in three days he will raise it up.

Hered the tetrarch casteth John the Baptist into prison for reprehending his incest with his brother Philip's wife, and other evils done by him.

Christ discovers himself to the woman of Samaria.

He goes throughout all Galilee, teaching in the synagogues, and working miracles.

Matthew called to be a disciple.

The second passover of Christ's ministry, John v. 1. compared with iv. 3. i. from which the second year of the seventeenth week of Daniel begins.

JESUS comes up to Jerusalem at the time of the feast, and heals on the sabbath-day a man that had an infirmity 38 years, lying at the pool of Bethesda. He makes a most divine apology to the Jews that sought to kill him, because he said that God was his Father.

Christ out of the multitude of his disciples chooseth 12, whom he calleth Apostles; namely, Peter, Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, Simon called Zelotes, Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot. To these our Saviour chiefly directs his discourse in that glorious, full, and admirable sermon on the mount.

Jesus sends his 12 apostles by two and two to preach, and heal the sick.

John the Baptist is beheaded in prison by Herod's command.

Jesus feeds 5000 men, besides women and children, with five barley loaves and two little fishes. He refuses to be made a king.

The third passover of Christ's ministry, John iv. 4, from which the third year of the seventeenth week of Daniel begins.

JESUS is transfigured on the mount; Moses and Elias are seen to talk with him; and a voice from heaven is heard a second time, saying, This is my beloved Son; hear him.

Christ payeth tribute to Cesar.

A certain village of the Samaritans refuseth our Saviour entertainme nt in his way to Jerusalem: the disciples, desiring to call for fire from heaven to consume them, are severely reprehended.

The seventy disciples are sent out by two and two to work miracles, and to preach.

Christ teacheth his disciples to pray.

Christ reareth Lazarus that had been buried four days.

Caiaphas, high priest of the Jews, prophesieth concerning the death of Christ.

Zaccheus a publican converted.

Christ restoreth to blind Bartimeus his sight.

Mary the sister of Lazarus anoints our Saviour's feet with costly spikenard, and wipeeth them with the hair of her head.

Christ rideth in triumph into Jerusalem: the multitude spread their garments in the way, and cry, Hosanna to the Son of David. Coming near the city he weeps over it, and foreshews its destruction. He entereth the temple, and casteth out those that bought and sold there; and heals the blind and lame.

He curseth the fruitless fig-tree, and the next morning it is found dried up and withered. Thence he takes occasion to shew the power of faith.

The fourth passover, in which Christ's our passover was sacrificed, 1 Cor. v. 7, and so on end is put to all legal sacrifices prefiguring this great expiation. The sixth or middle year of Daniel's last week begins: Dan. ix. 27.

ON the first day of unleavened bread, when the passover of the Jew is to be slain, (April 2.) in the evening, Jesus eateth the pass-over with his apostles, and institutes the sacrament of his body and blood in bread and wine.

After Christ	Matth. XXVII. Mark XV. Luke XXIII. John XIX. Psalms XXII. Matth. XXVIII. Mark XL. Luke XXIV. John XX. Acts I. Matth. XXVIII. Acts II.	In the self-same night Christ is betrayed by Judas, mocked, buffeted and spit upon, by the soldiers. Next day he is condemned by Pilate, and crucified; the sun during the crucifixion is darkened, and the veil of the temple rent in the midst. Christ praying for his enemies gives up the ghost. Joseph of Arimathea begs the body, and lays it in a new sepulchre. On the third day, the next after the Jewish sabbath, (April 5) Christ riseth from the dead; his resurrection is declared by angels to those that came to the sepulchre. Christ first appeareth to Mary Magdalene, and afterward to his disciples, and dineth with them. Christ bringeth his apostles to mount Olivet; commandeth them to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the Holy Ghost: sends them to teach and baptize all nations, and blesses them; and while they behold, he is taken up, and a cloud receives him out of their sight. After his ascension the disciples are warned by two angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming; they accordingly return, and giving themselves to prayer, choose Matthias to be an apostle in the place of Judas. On the day of Pentecost (May 24) the Holy Ghost descendeth on the apostles in the form of cloven tongues, like as of fire, and enableth them to speak all languages. Peter the same day preacheth Christ and the resurrection, and about 3000 believers are added to the church. Peter by faith in Christ's name healeth a lame man. The rulers of the Jews, offended at Peter's sermon, and his miraculous cure of the lame man, cast both him and John into prison; upon their examination they boldly avouch the lame man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus we must be eternally saved. After this the Jews forbid them to speak any more in that name; but the apostles answer, That it is fit they should obey God rather than men. They are threatened, and let go. Ananias and his wife Sapphira for their hypocrisy are suddenly struck dead. The apostles are again cast into prison by the high priest; but an angel sets them at liberty, and bids them preach the gospel to the people without fear: being taken again teaching in the temple, they are brought before the council; where by the advice of Gamaliel, a Pharisee, and doctor of the law, they are delivered. The number of believers increasing at Jerusalem, the apostles ordain seven deacons, who should distribute the alms of the whole church to the widows and poorer sort of believers. Stephen, one of these deacons, having confounded some that disputed with him, is by them falsely accused of blasphemy, and brought before the council, where he reprehends their rebellion, and murdering of Christ. Whereupon they cast him out of the city, and stone him; he in the meantime praying for them. A great persecution of the Church at Jerusalem follows after the death of the first martyr Stephen. Philip, one of the seven deacons, preacheth at Samaria, and converteth many; worketh miracles, and healeth the sick. Simon the sorcerer, seeing the wonders that are done by Philip, believeth, and is baptized. The apostles at Jerusalem, hearing that Samaria had received the faith, send thither Peter and John to confirm and enlarge the Church. The apostles by prayer and imposition of hands confer the Holy Ghost on all believers. Simon Magus offers them money, that he may receive the power of conferring the same, whose impious is sharply reproved by Peter. Having completed their ministry in those parts, they return to Jerusalem. An angel sendeth Philip to teach and baptize the Ethiopian eunuch. Saul, a violent persecutor of all that call on the name of Jesus, and one who consented to the death of Stephen, goes now towards Damascus with commission from the high priest and the council to apprehend all Christians in those parts, and to bring them bound to Jerusalem; on the way he is miraculously converted by a voice from heaven; and three days after baptized by Ananias at Damascus, where he preacheth the gospel of Christ with great boldness, to the astonishment of those that knew upon what design he was sent thither. Saul having preached the gospel at Damascus a long time, the Jews lay wait to kill him, but he escapeth from thence, and comes to Jerusalem; there he sees Peter, and James the brother of our Lord, and abides with them fifteen days. Here he speaks boldly in the name of Jesus, and disputes with the Grecians, or rather Jews that used the Greek tongue. These also consult how they may kill him. While Saul prays in the temple, he is in a trance, and the Lord appears unto him, and bids him to depart from Jerusalem, because they will not receive his testimony; adding, that he will send him to the Gentiles. Saul leaving Jerusalem goes to his own country Tarsus, and from thence travels into Syria and Cilicia. Peter visits the churches of Judea, Galilee, Samaria, &c. At Lydda he cureth Eneas of the palsy; and at Joppa restoreth Tabitha to life. At Cesarea, Cornelius, a centurion, by prayers and alms finds favour in the sight of God, and is commanded by an angel to send for Peter now at Joppa. God by a vision teacheth Peter not to despise the Gentiles. Peter, being sent for by Cornelius, goes and preacheth Christ to him and a great company that were met at his house: while Peter preacheth, the Holy Ghost falls upon them all; and immediately the apostle baptizeth them. Peter, at his return to Jerusalem, is accused by those of the circumcision for conversing with the Gentiles; but he declares to them his vision, and the whole matter concerning Cornelius; and they glorify God for granting to the Gentiles also repentance unto life. The believers, who ever since the martyrdom of Stephen, and the persecution thereupon ensuing, had been dispersed throughout all Phoenice and Cyprus, come now to Antioch, and preach the gospel to the Greeks there, having before preached to none but the Jews. The Church at Jerusalem understanding this, and that the number of believers increased exceedingly, sends Barnabas thither to confirm them; he goes to Tarsus, and takes Saul along with him to Antioch, where they continue a whole year, converting multitudes to the faith. Here the disciples were first called Christians. About this time James the brother of John is beheaded by the command of Herod Agrippa. He also imprisoneth Peter, whom an angel delivers upon the prayers of the church. This same Herod, not long after, speaking to the people at Cesarea, some of them cry out, It is the voice of God, and not of man; and immediately an angel of the Lord smites him, because he gave not the glory to God; and he is eaten of worms, and dieth. Barnabas and Saul set forward in their preaching of the gospel. They plant the Christian faith in Seleucia, Cyprus, and other places. At Paphos they preach the gospel to Sergius Paulus, governor of that country: Elymas, a sorcerer, withstanding them, and endeavouring to turn away Sergius from the faith, is at Saul's rebuke struck blind. From this time Saul is always called by his new name Paul; he preacheth at Antioch; the Gentiles believe, but the Jews gain say and blaspheme. Whereupon he and his assistants turn to the Gentiles, and come to Iconium. At Iconium they are persecuted and ready to be stoned. From hence they fly to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lyconia. At Lystra, Paul healing a cripple, the multitude cry out, that the gods are come down, and call Barnabas Jupiter and Paul, Mercurius; and would have sacrificed to them, had not the apostles with clothes rent run in among them, and assured them that they were men like themselves. Soon after there come Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who excite the people against them. Paul is by the furious multitude stoned, and drawn out of the city as dead; but whilst the disciples stand about him, he riseth up, and the next day departs with Barnabas to Derbe. In this year, perhaps at this very time, Paul was caught up into the third heaven, and heard unspeakable words, fourteen years before he wrote his second epistle to the Corinthians. About this time Timothy, though a child, with his mother Eunice, and his grandmother Lois, embrace the Christian faith preached by Paul, and are circumcised. Certain Judaizing Christians come from Judea to Antioch, and teach that the Gentiles ought to be circumcised, and observe the law of Moses; these Paul and Barnabas oppose, and a council is held by the apostles and others at Jerusalem to determine this controversy. The decrees of the synod are sent to the churches. Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the churches together, fall at strife, and part asunder: Barnabas and Mark go into Cyprus; Paul and Silas into Syria and Cilicia. Paul coming to Derbe finds there Timothy, whom (because his mother was a believing Jew, though his father a Gentile) he causeth to be circumcised, and takes him along with him. He is by a vision admonished to go into Macedonia; coming to Philippi, the chief city of that part of Macedonia, he converts Lydia: casteth out of a certain maid-servant a spirit of divination, whose master losing a considerable gain thereby, brings Paul and Silas before the magistrates; these cause them to be whipped and imprisoned; but at midnight, Paul and Silas praying and singing psalms, the doors of the prison fly open, and their bonds are loosed: the jailer, ready to kill himself, is converted to the faith, and baptized the same night with his whole family. Next day the magistrates come themselves, and pray them to depart the city. From Philippi Paul takes his journey through Amphipolis and Apollonia, and comes to Thessalonica, where he finds a synagogue of the Jews; there he preacheth three sabbath-days, some believe, others persecute him. Leaving Thessalonica he comes to Berea, and soon after arrives at Athens, disputes with the philosophers, and declares unto them that UNKNOWN GOD, whom they had ignorantly worshipped. He converts Dionysius the Areopagite, and thence passeth to Corinth. Paul at Corinth meets with Aquila and Priscilla, not long before banished Rome by the decree of Claudius. Here he continues a year and six months, and thence writes to the Thessalonians. Paul is accused by the Jews, and brought before Gallio, proconsul of Achaia, who refuseth to judge in a controversy about religion, and so drives them away from the judgment-seat. Paul departs from Corinth, and passeth to Ephesus, thence he sets out towards Jerusalem, that he may be at the feast; he lands at Cesarea, goes down to Antioch, and comes into the regions of Galatia and Phrygia, confirming the disciples in all those places. Paul returns to Ephesus, disputes daily in the school of Tyrannus, and continues preaching there, and the parts thereabout. He writes his epistle to the Galatians. At Ephesus, Demetrius a silversmith, jealous of his gain, raiseth a tumult against Paul, which is appeased by the town-clerk. About this time a schism ariseth in the church at Corinth, which causeth Paul (now in or about Ephesus) to write his first epistle to the Corinthians. Paul departs from Ephesus, and comes into Macedonia, and gathers a contribution for the relief of the saints at Jerusalem. The apostle, having learnt from Titus the success of his first, writes now his second epistle to the Corinthians. Of Macedonia he goes into Greece, and comes to Corinth, where he writes his epistle to the Romans. Paul purposing to go directly from thence into Syria, that he may carry the collections to Jerusalem, the Jews lay wait for him; he understanding this, thinks it best to return into Macedonia the same way he came, and thence to pass into Asia. After the days of unleavened bread, Paul sails from Philippi, and comes to Troas; there he restores Eutychus to life. Having passed through several cities of Greece, he arrives at Miletus; from thence he sends to call the elders of the Church of Ephesus, whom he earnestly exhorts to the performance of their duty. Paul comes to Jerusalem, is apprehended in the temple, and secured in the castle; he claimeth the privilege of a Roman, and escapeth scourging. Paul pleadeth his cause before Ananias the high priest. The chief captain, understanding that above forty Jews had bound themselves under a curse neither to eat nor drink till they had killed him, sends him to Felix the governor of the province, by whom he is imprisoned at Cesarea. Paul is accused before Felix by Tertullus the orator: Felix goes out of his office, and, to gratify the Jews, leaves Paul in prison. Porcius Festus succeeds him in the government. The Jews come to Cesarea, and accuse Paul before Festus. He answereth for himself, and appeals unto Cesar. King Agrippa comes to Cesarea, and Festus opens the whole matter to him. Paul makes his defence in the presence of Agrippa; who thereby is almost persuaded to be a Christian, and the whole company pronounce him innocent. Paul comes to Rome, is a prisoner at large, and preacheth there two years. Here ends the History of the Acts of the Apostles, written by St. Luke, St. Paul's beloved companion in his travels. Saint Paul from Rome writes his epistles, To the Philippians. To Philemon. To the Colossians. To the Ephesians. About the latter end of this year St. Paul is set at liberty; and a little before his departure out of Italy he writes his last epistle to the Hebrews. He preacheth the gospel in the isle of Crete, and leaves Titus there to set things in order and ordain elders in every city. St. Paul writes his epistles, To Timothy I. To Titus. To Timothy II. About this time the epistles of St. Peter, St. John, and St. Jude, seem to be written. St. Peter and St. Paul are said to have suffered martyrdom at Rome towards the latter end of Nero's reign. This year Jerusalem (according to Christ's prophecy) is besieged, taken, sacked, and burnt, by Titus, 1,000,000 of the Jews perish, 97,000 are taken prisoners; besides an innumerable company that in other places of Judea kill themselves, or perish through famine, banishment, or other miseries. St. John is banished unto the isle of Patmos by Domitian, and there receives and writes his Revelation. After the death of Domitian St. John returns to Ephesus, and at the request of the Church writes his Gospel.

TABLES OF SCRIPTURE MEASURES, WEIGHTS, AND COINS:

WITH AN APPENDIX,

CONTAINING THE METHOD OF CALCULATING ITS MEASURES OF SURFACE, HITHERTO WANTING IN TREATISES ON THIS SUBJECT

By the Right Reverend RICHARD Lord Bishop of Peterborough.

A MEASURE is a known quantity applied to another of the same kind that is less known, to make its dimensions better known, by help of numbers expressing the proportion that the known quantity bears to the unknown. The dimensions to be measured are three: 1. More length, which hath but one dimension. 2. Surface, which consists of length multiplied into breadth; so it hath two dimensions, as it were interwoven; and this is always measured by some square surface already known, as by a square foot, or a square cubit, or any other square already known, by help of its side. Moses generally useth the square cubit. 3. Solidity or Capacity, which hath three dimensions multiplied into each other: length, breadth, and height, or depth. This is measured by a known cube. From solidity ariseth weight in all sublimary bodies: and by weight we measure the value of coins. Therefore I shall join weights and coins together in the fourth table.

I use == to signify Equal :: to express Proportion: . is called Separatrix, parting Decimals from Integers.

I. TABLE. Measures of Length.

I express the Cubit, and its Parts, both by Inch Measure, and by Foot Measure; which I deduce from Inches by his Proportion:

	Inch. Meas.	Foot. Meas.
As 12. 1. :: 21.888	1.824
	Inch. Dec. Foot. Dec.
	21.888	1.824
A Cubit is = to
A Span the longer = $\frac{1}{2}$ a Cubit		10.944 = .912
Span the less = $\frac{1}{3}$ of a Cubit		7.296 = .608
A Hand's breadth = $\frac{1}{4}$ of a Cubit		3.648 = .304
A Finger's breadth = $\frac{1}{5}$ of a Cubit		.912 = .076

Measures of many Cubits Length I express only in Foot Measure.

	Feet Dec.
A Fathom	= 4 Cubits = 7.296
Archeus's Reed	= 6 Cubits = 10.944
Schanus, the Egyptian Line for Land Measure, which I think Scripture useth to divide Inheritances. Psalm xvi. 6. and Ixxviii. 55. They used different Lengths, but the shortest and most useful was,	= 90 = 145.92
Herodotus mentions a Schanus just 300 times as long: I judge that all the greater were made in proportion to the least.
The Mile	= 4000 Cubits = 7296 Feet.
Stadium, $\frac{1}{2}$ of their Mile	= 400 Cubits = 729.6
Parasang, 3 of their Miles	= 12000 Cubits = 4 English Miles, and 580 Feet.

II. TABLE. Measures of Surface.

Moses hath described these by square Cubits. I here express them reduced to our square Feet. The method of this reduction is taught in an Appendix. I first propose three clear examples given by Moses; Secondly, I place six instances of greater difficulty.

The clearest examples are,

I. The Altar of Incense. Only two sides of it, viz. its length and breadth, are expressed by Moses; each of them is affirmed to be one Cubit. Yet he declares it was four square: whence we collect, that it was just one square Cubit. See Exod. xxx. 2. Now it is demonstrated in the Appendix, that one Jewish square Cubit amounts to in surface three English square Feet, and about 47 square Inches.

II. The Table of Shew-bread, Exod. xxv. 23. It is affirmed to be two Cubits in length, and one in breadth. None doubt but it was rectangular, containing two Jewish square Cubits. These amount to above six English square Feet, and above half, viz. 94 square Inches.

III. The Boards of the Tabernacle, each 10 Cubits in length, and one and a half in breadth, Exod. xxvi. 16. being rectangular, must contain 15 square Cubits, Jewish. These are proved to contain very near 50 square Feet of English Measure.

The more difficult cases reserved to the Appendix are,

I. The Mercy-seat, whose surface is = 12 square Feet and a half.
II. A general method is taught of reducing any given number of Jewish Cubits to English square Feet.

III. The example of the 15 square Cubits in the Boards of the Tabernacle is made clearer.

IV. The Court of the Tabernacle, described Exod. xxvii. 18. is found to be just half the Egyptian Aroua, and to contain 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 square Feet, &c.

V. The whole Aroua is determined, and reduced to our English Measures, 3 Roods, 2 Perches, 55 square Feet.

VI. The suburbs, or Glebe Land, given to each city of the Levites, Num. xxxv. 3, 4, 5. is shewed to be a square, on each of the four sides of every city, containing a million of Jewish square Cubits, or 109 Aroua; which amount to in each Square 76 Acres, 1 Rood, 20 Perches, 80 square Feet. Whence we collect, that all the four Squares amounted to 395 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch, besides 51 Feet square

III. TABLE. Measures of Capacity.

Epha, or Bath	7	4	15
Chomer, Homer in our translation	75	5	7
Seah $\frac{1}{2}$ of Epha	10	4	3

Metretres of Syria (John ii. 6.) = Cong. Rom.	0	7.5	0

This Cotyla contains just 10 Ounces Atticdrachms of Rain water: Omer 100 Epha 1000: Chomer 10,000: So by these Weights all these Measures of Capacity may be expeditiously recovered very near exactness.

An APPENDIX to the Second Table of Measures of Surface described by Moses, shewing the Method of reducing them by Calculation to the Measures used in England, for the benefit of those that understand Decimal Arithmetick, and desire to try the Reductions given in the Table, or to make further Improve ments in this kind of Measures.

1. I SHALL begin with Reduction of the Measures of the Mercy-seat, which was God's Throne Mercy Seat, and a half, its breadth one Cubit and a half. The fractions adhering to its length and breadth make some difficulty to beginners in Arithmetick, which the Decimal way doth much abate. Supposing therefore, what I have elsewhere proved, that the Jewish cubit was in Foot measure 1.824; the length must be expressed in Foot measure, and Decimals thereof, 4.560. The breadth in like measure will be 2.736. Wherefore the product of these numbers multiplied into each other gives its surface 12.47616: in number of its square Feet, and Decimals thereof, 42 square Feet, and very near half a square Foot; if the Decimals had been .50, it had been just half a Foot. If we desire to express those Decimals of a Foot in square Inches, as is usual in England, we must multiply 47.616 by 144, the square Inches of a Foot, and the product will be 6856.704; which shews that the Decimals we found amount to 68 square Inches, and about half an Inch more: we need not be nicer.

2. A square Cubit reduced to our Measure. 2. In the Altar of Incense Moses describes the Jewish square Cubit, which must be reduced to our Foot measure, thus, $\frac{1}{18} \times \frac{1}{18} \times \frac{1}{18}$. The product of these numbers multiplied will be the upper surface of this Altar, 3.326,976, that is, three square Feet, and .326,976 Decimals of a square Foot, which we may express by 47 square Inches, and a few Decimals of an Inch square inconsiderable.

3. The Boards of the Tabernacle. 3. Moses's description of the boards of the Tabernacle, Exod. xxvi. 16, by 10 Cubits in length, and one and a half in breadth, naturally leads a man to discern in each board's surface 15 Jewish square Cubits; because if we conceive a line drawn from the end of one Cubit at the bottom of the Board to the end of one Cubit at the top of the Board, this must needs be 10 whole square Cubits on one side of that line, and 10 half square Cubits (= 5 whole) on the other side of that line: here therefore are 15 square Cubits. The reduction of these into English square Feet is performed by multiplying 15, viz. the number of Cubits given into 3.326,976 the Feet and Decimals of one square Cubit, and the product will be 49,904,64, and that is very near to fifty square Feet; for those Decimals amount to above 130 square Inches; and little more than 15 square Inches would make it just 50 Feet, which abatement we need not here regard.

4. The Court of the Tabernacle. 4. Let us now go to the measure of the surface of land. But we will begin with the Court of the Tabernacle, the ground on which the Priests performed all the solemn public worship of Israel in Moses's time. The Area of this Court is described by Moses, Exod. xxv. 18 by its length 100 Cubits, and its breadth 50 where 50 Cubits, Wherefore this Area must be in Jewish measure 5000 square Cubits, for that is the product of 100 multiplied into 50. To reduce these 5000 Jewish Cubits into English square Feet, I must multiply 5000 into 3.326,976, the product is 16,634.88 English square Feet.

But in cases of such long numbers of Feet we use for brevity's sake, and to help our memories, to reduce them into Perches, or Roods, or Acres, which contain known numbers of square Feet. A Perch contains 272 square Feet and 1-4. A Rood is = to 10,890 square Feet. An Acre is = to 43,560 square Feet. It is plain that the number 16,634.88 hath not integers equal to those of an Acre; but it hath enough to answer those in a Rood, and some overplus; therefore I must divide 16,634.88 by 10,890, which is a Rood. By such division continued in the Decimal way, until I have a fraction of five or six places, which is exact enough, I find the quote to be 1.527,537, which assures me that my number 16,634.88 hath but once entirely in it a whole Rood: but it hath moreover in it many Decimal parts of a Rood. These therefore I reduce to the Perches contained in them, by multiplying them into 40, which is the number of Perches that make up a Rood: and cutting off six places from the product, which is 21,101,480; so I find there are 21 Perches entire, and the figures after the Separatrix are Decimals of a Perch. These also I multiply by 272.25, which are the square Feet and Decimals of a Perch. The product of this last multiplication, after eight places cut off from it by the Separatrix, because there were six places of Decimals in one of the multipliers, and two in the other, is 2762,798,000. Hence I learn that there are therein but 27 entire Feet, all the eight Decimal places amount to little above half a foot, and therefore I cast them away as inconsiderable in the measure of land. This method of reduction by multiplication of Decimals I find to be easier than the common way of reduction by division, and therefore I propose it to be used by beginners in this practice of surveying. So I find this court to contain in English measure 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 Feet, and little more than half a foot squared. But reflecting upon Moses's measure by Cubits, and finding them to be precisely 5000 square Cubits, I observed that they were just half 10,000, which I had observed from Herodotus's utter to be the Area of the Egyptian Aroua by which their land was as generally measured, as ours is by Acres and Roods. See Herodot. l. 2. c. 168. I called also to mind a passage in Diodorus an Egyptian Priest, cited by Josephus in his first book against Apion, where he affirms, that Manetho in his history of the reign, wars, and expulsion, of the Pastors (whom Africans affirm to be Phinicians, or Cumanites, and Josephus vainly believed to be Jews,) wrote out of the public Records of Egypt, that these Pastors made at Abris a very large and strong encampment, that encompassed 10,000 Aroua, sufficient to contain 240,000 men, and long to maintain their cattle. Hence it appears, that not only the Egyptians, but the Phinicians or Cumanites also, that had dwelt among them, and had reigned there during the time of six kings successively, used this measure of land called Aroua. Now this was long before Moses's time; for the beginning of Amosis or Tetimosis, who expelled them out of Egypt, was very near the time of Abraham's death, as appears by the annals of the learned Primates of Ireland. Wherefore I believe that Moses, who was skilled in all Egyptian learning, especially surveying, did of choice make the Court of the Tabernacle to be just half an Aroua, which was a known measure to him and his people, who had long dwelt in Egypt, and Divine Authority directed him so to do.

The Reduction of an Aroua to English measures. 5. Because we have shewn from Herodotus, that an Aroua is the square of 100 Jewish or Egyptian Cubits, and 100 such Cubits may in English Foot measure be expressed by 182.4 English Feet, it follows, that the square of this number will express exactly the number of the English square Feet that are contained in an Aroua. Now by multiplication of 182.4 into itself, I find the product to be 33269.76: Therefore I conclude that there are 33,269 square Feet entire, and .76 Decimals of a square Foot, in an Aroua: Now to reduce these English square Feet into Roods, Perches, and the remainder of square Feet, I use the method used in the last paragraph: First, I divide 33,269 the square Feet in a Rood, and the quote I find 3,055,074, that is 8 Roods, and .055,074 Decimals of a Rood. Secondly, I multiply those Decimals by 40, which is the number of Perches in a Rood, the product is 2,202,960. Hence I conclude there are therein two Perches, and .302,960 Decimals of a Perch. Thirdly, I multiply those last Decimals by 272.25, which are the square Feet of a Perch. The product is 55,255,930,000, that is 55 entire square Feet, the eight places of Decimals amount to little above 1-4 of a square Foot, therefore I reject them as inconsiderable in measure of land. By all these reductions it is found, that an Aroua is in English measure three Roods, two Perches, 55 1-4 square Feet. Hence it follows also, that it is not well translated by Jegerum, for it is much larger: nor is it well in English called an Acres, or it is considerably less. To this place I refer the use of the lesser sort of Aroura, which yet is most convenient for the use of the Egyptians, and of the Jews, to measure out private men's inheritances by a line which was 80 Cubits long. For the length of this line will measure one side of an Aroura, if the other side be 125 Cubits long, which is the length of this line, and its half, and 6 Cubits above half of it, which they might easily mark on it by a knot or a ring. And by this means they might easily lay any number of Aroura together, all of them rectangular and parallel to each other. Such lines I suppose for measure of inheritances are intimated, Psalms lxxviii. 55. and xvi. 8, &c.

The Levites' Glebe.

6. I shall conclude with an example amounting after reduction to a number of English Acres, which measure we have not yet reached to. This I take from Numb. xxxv. 3, 4, 5, verses. There Moses describes what measure of land the Levites were to be allowed for their cattle, their goods, and all their beasts, on the north, east, south, and west sides of each of their cities. So that the city was to be in the midst of the land belonging to it. This land in our translation is called suburbs, because of its nearness to all their cities. But we must not thence imagine that it means houses and streets adjoining to their cities, in which sense we sometimes use the word suburbs. For Moses plainly tells us they were places for their several sorts of cattle to feed in, such as might also be orchards or gardens for fruits, or perhaps for a little corn, comprehended in the words, their goods. These fields he limits by 1000 Cubits, which was just a quarter of an English mile, but amounts in mere length to 600 yards English measure, and therefore exceeds a quarter of an English mile by 168 yards in length. But it is certain that cattle cannot feed upon mere length, but this must signify the side of some surface of land bounded thereby, and we must have two sides of that surface given, before we can find the Area, or surface contained. Therefore Moses, ver. 5, tells us, that on each side of each city they must measure 2000 Cubits, which will determine no surface, unless we understand it to mean the two sides of a square, bounded on every side by 1000 Cubits; these two sides multiplied into each other will produce a square that contains just a million of square Cubits, and that is a known and exact measure of just 100 Aroura: and this shews that the 2000 Cubits mentioned ver. 5 are the two sides of that square, whereof the 1000 mentioned ver. 4 is one, and may be called the root of the square. This shews the agreement of the two different numbers. The reduction of this million of square Cubits will be performed by the same method I have used before. Therefore, first, I express 1000 Jewish Cubits by 1824 English Feet, without any Separatrix, according to the principles owned in Decimal Arithmetic: and the square of that number will be 3,326,976, without a separatrix. Secondly, I divide this number by 43,560, which are the square Feet of an Acre, and find the quote to be 76.786,859, which signify 76 entire Acres, and .376,859 Decimals of an Acre. Thirdly, to find what Roods are contained in these Decimals, I multiply them by four, the number of Roods in an Acre, and find the quote to be 1,507,436, which proves that there is but one Rood in them, and the six figures cut off by the Separatrix (because there were six Decimals in one of the multipliers) are all Decimals of a Rood. Fourthly, therefore, to find what Perches are in these last Decimals, I multiply them by 40, which is the number of Perches contained in a Rood. The product is 20,297,440; hereby I find there are 20 entire Perches, besides the Decimals of a Perch placed after the Separatrix. Fifthly, to find what square Feet are in those last Decimals, I multiply them by 272.25, which are the square Feet and Decimals in a Perch. The product is 80,97,804, which is 80 square Feet, and all the Decimals not amounting to a square Foot, I reject as inconsiderable in measure of land. Thus we have found that this and every other square on each side of every Levitical City, was prescribed to be 76 Acres, 1 Rood, 20 Perches, 80 square Feet in our measure, but was just a million of square Cubits in their measure.

To add the four squares belonging to one Levitical City together, the best way will be to take the first quote that we found in Acre measure, viz. 76.786,859, and we must multiply it by four, and we shall find, by the method I have used, all the four squares together to amount to 305 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch; we need not take notice of any lesser quantities in this case. We may also by this method find the sum of the Acres belonging to all the 48 cities of the Levites, and many other improvements in this kind of measuring surfaces. But I leave them to the industry of others.

JUDEA, PALESTINE, OR THE HOLY LAND.

PALESTINE is bounded on the north, by Mount Libanus, or Lebanon, which separates it from that part of Syria, anciently called Phœnicia; on the east by Mount Hermon, which divides it from Arabia Deserta; on the south by Arabia Petraea; and on the west by the Mediterranean Sea, or sea of Syria.

This country received the name of Palestine from the Philistines, who dwelt on the sea-coast: it was called Judea, from Judah; and it is termed the Holy Land, being the country where Jesus Christ was born, preached his holy doctrines, confirmed them by miracles, and laid down his life for mankind. Palestine is about one hundred and eighty five miles in length, and generally eighty in breadth; it is situated between 31° and 33° 40' north latitude.

The climate of Palestine is, during a great part of the year, very hot. The easterly winds are usually dry, though they are sometimes tempestuous; and those which are westerly, are attended with rain. The heat here might be expected to be excessive; yet Mount Libanus, from its uncommon height, is covered all the winter with snow.

The first rains as they are called, generally fall about the beginning of November; and the latter rains in the month of April. In the country round Jerusalem, if a moderate quantity of snow falls in the beginning of February, and the brooks soon after overflow their banks, it is thought to forebode a fruitful year; and the inhabitants make rejoicings upon this occasion, as the Egyptians do with respect to the Nile; this country is seldom refreshed with rain during the summer season.

The rocks of Judæa are, in many places, covered with a soft chalky substance, in which is enclosed a great variety of shells and corals. The greatest part of the mountains of Carmel, and those of Jerusalem and Bethleem, are overspread with a white chalky stratum. In mount Carmel, are gathered many stones, which, being in the form of olives, melons, peaches, and other fruit, are imposed upon pilgrims, not only as those fruits petrified, but as antidotes against several diseases.

With respect to the rivers of the country, the Jordan, called by the Arabs Sceriah, is not only the most considerable, but, next to the Nile, is the largest, either in the Levant or in Barbary. It has its source at the bottom of Mount Libanus or Lebanon, and is formed from the waters of two fountains, which are about a mile distant from each other. One of them lies to the east, and is called Jor; the other, which is exposed to the south, is named Dan. The confluence of the two streams is found near the ancient city of Cesarea Philippi, which is at present only a village, and called Beline. The river takes a course between the E. and S. and after running seven miles, falls into the lake Samochon or Nathon, at present called Hulethanas, about six miles in length, from north to south, and nearly four in breadth, from east to west. The Jordan issues from this lake, and flows through a great plain, passing under a stone bridge called Jacob's Bridge, consisting of three arches, well constructed. The river then continues its course as far as the lake of Tiberias, near the ancient cities of Chorazin and Capernaum, where it mixes with its waters. When it issues from this lake, which is about eighteen miles in length, and eight in breadth, it takes the name of Jordan Major, dividing Perea from Samaria, the ruins of the Moabites from Judæa, and receiving the waters of the Dibon, the Jazer, the Jacob, and the Carai, after being augmented by these streams, in a course of sixty-five miles from the lake of Tiberias or sea of Galilee, it discharges itself into the Dead Sea. The Jordan, in the rainy seasons, overflows its banks, to the distance of more than four miles; and on account of the inequality of the ground, forms two or three channels. Its current is extremely rapid, and the water always muddy; but when taken from the river, and put into any kind of vessel, it very soon clarifies, and is sweet.

The Dead Sea is a name of modern date; the ancients called it the lake of Asphaltites, the sea of Sodom, the Salt Sea, the lake of Sirbon, the Arabs name it Bahiret-Lut: that is, the sea of Lot. It is about fifty miles in length, and ten in breadth. The lofty mountains of the country of the Moabites are on the eastern side, and discharge into it the waters of Arnon and the Jarek. On the west and south it is bounded by very high mountains also. It is likewise on the west that the brook Cedron, which rises at Jerusalem, empties into this sea.

We are informed that this vast lake was covered formerly with fruit-trees and abundant crops, and that from the bosom of the earth, now buried under its waters, arose the superb cities of Sodom, Gomorrah, Aïmah, Zebolim, and Segor. No plants of any kind grow in this lake. The bottom of it is black, thick, and fetid. Branches of trees, which fall therein, become petrified in a little time. The Dead Sea produces a kind of bitumen, which may be found floating on the surface, like huge lumps of earth. This bitumen is a sulphurous substance, mixed with salt; it is as brittle as black pitch, is combustible, and exhales, while burning, a strong and penetrating smell. The ancient Arabs used it for smearing and embalming their dead, to preserve them from perishing. The mountains near this sea produce a kind of black stone, which, when polished, has a beautiful lustre.

Acre, or Acro, (now called St. John de Acro, and which the Arabs, call Accho, or Akka,) is one of the places from which the Israelites could not expel the ancient Canaanites, and was formerly reckoned among the ancient cities of Phœnicia. It is also known by the name of Ptolemais. The situation is advantageous; on the north and east, it is encompassed by a fertile plain; on the west it is washed by the Mediterranean; and on the south by a large bay, which extends from the city as far as Mount Carmel. It contains little more than a few cottages, and heaps of ruins. The residence of the bishop of the province is at this place.

To the south of Acre, is Sebastia, the ancient Samaria, the capital of the ten tribes after their revolt from the house of David. It is seated on a long mount, which rises in a fruitful valley, and is now converted into gardens.

A little farther to the south is Neplosa, the ancient Sychem, which stands in a narrow valley, between Mount Ebal on the north, and Gerizim on the south. At a small distance from Neplosa, is Jacob's well, famous for Christ's conference with the woman of Samaria.

Jerusalem is encompassed with hills, so that the city seems as if situated in an amphitheatre: there are few remains of the city, as it appeared in Christ's time; the situation being changed; for Mount Sion, the highest part of ancient Jerusalem, is almost excluded: while the place adjoining to Mount Calvary, are nearly in the centre. This city, which is about three miles in circumference, is situated on a rocky mountain, on the side of which are steep ascents, except toward the north. The walls are not strong, nor have they any bastions. The city has six gates. There are supposed to be about twelve or fourteen thousand inhabitants in Jerusalem.

Jasa, the ancient Joppa, is the port where the pilgrims disembark. They generally arrive in November, and repair without delay to Jerusalem.

Bethleem, also called Ephrata, and the city of David, is famous for being the birth-place of Christ. It is about two miles to the S. E. of Jerusalem, on the ridge of a hill; at present only an inconspicuous place.

Rahat, the ancient Jericho, is eighteen miles N. E. of Jerusalem, situated in a plain six or seven leagues long, by three wide, surrounded by a number of barren mountains. Habroun, or Hebron, is twenty-four miles S. of Bethleem. The Arabs call it El-Kalid the well-beloved. It is situated at the foot of an eminence, on which are some remains of an ancient castle.

Nazareth, now only a small village, is at the top of a high hill. Cana of Galilee, otherwise called Cana Minor, celebrated for the miracle wrought by Christ, of changing the water into wine, is nothing more than a small village, with very few inhabitants.

Sidon, called by the Turks Sayd, is situated on the sea-coast. It was anciently a place of great strength, and had a very extensive commerce. Though it is still populous, and a place of considerable trade, it has fallen from its ancient grandeur. Its exports consist in silks, with raw and spun cotton: the manufacturing of which employs most of the inhabitants, amounting to above five thousand. The city is defended by an old castle, built in the sea.

Tyre, called by the Turks Sour, is about twenty miles to the south of Sidon. It was once very celebrated for its purple, called the Tyrian dye, produced from a shell-fish. This city was, in ancient times, the centre of an immense commerce and navigation and the nurse of arts and sciences. The ancient city stood, originally, on an island, joined to the main land by a mole; the remains of which appear at present. It has two harbours; that on the north side is very good; but the other is choked up with ruins. The present inhabitants are only a few poor fishermen, who live in vaults and caves. Cesarea was at first called Strabo's Tower; and was the capital of Palestine. This city was divided into two parts by a little hill, whereon was erected a temple dedicated to Cesar. Jericho is situated in a large plain about twenty miles long, and ten broad, bounded by a variety of mountains on the south-west, the west, and north; it is at present inhabited by a few miserable Arabs. The Mount of Forty Days, is situated on the north side of the plain of Jericho: the summit is covered neither with shrubs, trees, nor earth, but consists of a solid mass of white marble: it is very difficult and dangerous to ascend, the path leading by a winding course, between two dismal abysses. This mountain is one of the highest in the province, and one of its most sacred places. It takes its name from the rigorous fast which Christ observed here. From this mount may be seen the hills of Arabia, the country of Gilead, the country of the Ammonites, the plains of Moab, and that of Jericho, the river Jordan, and the whole extent of the Dead Sea. Opposite to Jericho, beyond Jordan, rises Mount Nebo, Mount Carmel, on the south side of the bay of Acre, projects at one part into the sea, forming a great promontory, called the point of Carmel. There are a number of grottoes, gardens, and convents, on this mountain; as also many cisterns for receiving the rain water. On this mountain was a fortress called Ecbatana. Mount Tabor is most delightfully situated, rising amidst the plains of Galilee, distant about twelve miles from the city of Tiberias; it is distinguished by different names, as Itabyrion, Taourium, and by the Arabs Ghel-el-Tor. It is in appearance like a sugar-loaf, and is covered from the top to the bottom with small trees. Palestine, which comprehends the ancient country of Canaan, and was occupied by nine tribes of Israel, has experienced many and severe revolutions; the extreme fertility of the country, and its many advantages and happy situation, induced the neighbouring and powerful kingdoms to attempt its subjection: most of them succeeded in reducing to obedience and slavery, the peaceable inhabitants: the Persians, Saracens, Syrians, and Romans, have alternately been masters, for a time, and then obliged to yield to superior force: they treated the conquered with the utmost barbarity, and committed the greatest devastation and slaughter; not even sparing old or young, women, or helpless children. Thus continued changing its ferocious masters, until, in the twelfth century, the Turks taking Cesarea, the whole country fell into their possession; and has continued under their power ever since: The innumerable scenes of blood and desolation exhibited in this country, have changed it from that happy, fruitful and prosperous state, so beautifully described in Deuteronomy, to an almost uninhabited desert, and heap of ruins; few traces of its ancient splendor remain; and confusion and doubt hang over all the researches of the inquirer. The present masters exercise unlimited and tyrannical authority over their slaves, in Palestine, keeping the miserable inhabitants in the utmost subjection; governing them by Caliphs and Bashaws, with rods of iron; and holding them in the most deplorable ignorance and superstition.
